"A Rose By Any Other Name-"

By IRVIN S. COBB

AT A closely contested municipal election in New York the Tammany ticket seemed in grave danger. Accordingly suitable steps were taken. Scarcely had the polls opened when a group of trained and experienced repeaters marched into a down-town voting place. "What name?" inquired the election clerk of the leader of the squad, who was red-haired and freckled and had a black eye! The young gangster glanced down at a slip of paper in his hand, to refresh else's husband. Leave the married
