TROJAN CLUB

As usual the Trojan club with its famed reputation for social functions held the annual opening of its club with a fall dance which was a formal affair, on Thursday, Nov. 5th at the Dremland hall. It was a glamorous occasion and was truly a credit to the members of the committees. The music was enjoyed and commented upon by every one. The hall was beautifully decorated by interior decorators of the club. The windows were draped with white crepe paper topped with blue and white stars. The word "Trojans" was printed in large letters across the orchestra pit. In the center of the highly polished floor, two rows of tall green palms were arranged. The lights were in different colors. It was a very picturesque scene to see the guests arrayed in beautiful formal girding here and there. Each club member wore corsages of roses and tiny chrysanthemums. A photographer took a picture of the club group which was a very lovely group.
