THE CHURCH OF GOD

2025 No. 24th Street
Elder Robert L. Moody, Pastor
Mrs. Edna W. Moody, Reporter

The services for Sunday past were good. The messages were as announced in the last issue. The congregation enjoyed an encouraging talk given by Mr. Clarence Lott, who is visiting Omaha for the Christmas holidays. Mr. Lott now lives in Ohio and worships at Dayton. His experiences, as he related them were very inspiring.

The pastor and Mrs. Moody, join the congregation in wishing the true joy of Christmas for everybody. Remember we only have the Christmas spirit when we have love. For the spirit of Christmas is the spirit of Christ and God. Since that is true, then "God Is Love," for "hereby we know that we dwell in Him and He in us, because He hath given us of His spirit." I Jno. 4:13. Let us carry as much cheer as we can. Come worship with us.

MT. MORIAH BAPTIST CHURCH

24th and Ohio Streets
Rev. F. P. Jones, Pastor
Forystein Burroughs, Reporter

Morning services were as usual with the pastor in charge. His sermon, "Business in Religion," was unusually interesting and all Christians should strive, as he stated, to be more business-like in serving God. Punctuality, systematic giving and really being conscientious about our duties for the Master, were some of the qualities stressed.

The church was tastefully decorated with beautiful white draperies silver glittering stars and soft white snow flakes. The windows were lovely with colored paper coverings which gave them the appearance of colored glass windows. These decorations were made by Mrs. Jones and her assistants. Amid this beautiful setting, the evening services were carried out, known as "White Gift."

The City Service orchestra furnished entertainment at the opening of the services. They played a number of really difficult pieces of music. Those who know music realized that much effort had been put forth by them to make their part of the services a success. Everyone enjoyed this part of the program immensely.

The choir of forty voices, directed by Rev. Williams was resplendent in snowy white robes and silver crowns. The numbers they sang were well done and words cannot be described how beautifully they sang Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." Souls were uplifted and their strength renewed.

The pastor then took charge of the services which were carried out in three parts. At this period all Christians who desired, were rededicated while the choir sang softly. Next was the blessing of the gifts the Ushers and Deacons had given. The final step was the offering, or the material gift by the congregation. Mr. W. L. Myers of the Myers Funeral Home took charge of the audience as they marched to the altar and deposited their gifts in a little manger. Many visitors were present. Mt. Moriah church feels proud of all who helped to make this occasion a success.

ST. JOHN A. M. E. CHURCH "The Friendly Church"

Rev. R. A. Adams, Pastor

The holiday festivities of St. John church began last Sunday with the Sunday school studying the Christmas lesson "The Supreme Gift of Love," at the morning services, Rev. Adams speaking on the subject, "There is No Room In," continued to spread spiritual cheer, ably assisted by the singing of beautiful Christmas carols by the choir.

Under the direction of Mrs. Eliza Turner, with the help of several of the teachers, the smaller pupils of the Sunday school are planning on Christmas eve at 8:00 p. m., a large program at the annual Christmas tree.

The senior choir will have their program on Christmas Eve also, but at 12 p. m., instead of at 5 a. m. Christmas morning, which has been the usual procedure. Prepare now to attend the choir services Dec. 24 at 12 p. m. impressively telling the story of the Saviour's birth in song.

Miss Burtron Johnson, popular member of the church and teacher in the Sunday school, has returned to the city after an indefinite stay in Portland, Ore.

BEAUTY AND ROMANCE by Marie Downing

DIRECTOR, LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—When cosmetics like powder, rouge and eyebrow pencil are applied correctly, they can improve our appearance greatly. Nobody objects to make-up when it is properly used.

But so many women, and especially young girls, use too much make-up, and apply it improperly, that I want to give another warning against excessive use of cosmetics.

We wouldn't have to be so careful about using cosmetics if the only result of over-doing it was to make us look like painted circus clowns. But that isn't the only objection. Inferior cosmetics, applied lavishly and not properly removed, can cause skin blemishes and thus detract from our natural beauty.

If your skin has a tendency to develop blackheads and large pores, this condition may be encouraged if you clog up the pores with powder.

However, you can use your powder and rouge as a protection to your complexion if you are careful to follow a few simple rules.

In the first place, be very sure that all traces of these cosmetics are removed from your face before you go to bed at night. Use plenty of warm water and soap, but be sure to rinse the face thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold water. Or, if you prefer, you can remove the cosmetics with a cleansing cream. This is especially advisable if your skin is dry.

It is a good idea to use a face brush when washing, although it is not absolutely necessary. If you do use a brush, however, get a regular face brush, and not the rubber type. A rough wash-cloth is satisfactory if you use soap and water. When removing cleansing cream it is better to use soft tissue paper.

The second rule is this: don't apply your make-up if your face is not absolutely clean. If you rub powder into your skin when it is even slightly dirty, this may clog the little pores in your skin and cause blackheads or blemishes. Apply your make-up only after cleansing, except for the little bit of fine powder you can use for dusting a shiny nose.

Then, too, it's a good idea to make sure your powder puff is clean. Wash it out, occasionally, just as you wash your clothing.

And don't apply make-up too heavily. Don't put on powder until it forms a matted layer over your skin. If you experiment with various shades of powder and rouge, you'll be able to find one which will give the effect you want without having to be used in such quantity.
