The Mills Bros. are going to "swing" for charity in Omaha.

Most famous of all popular quartets will go on the air at 11 p. m. Friday over station WOW and for one hour, they are going to give Omaha such rhythms, such swing, such melodies and harmonies as the town has never heard.

You can make your request any time now, or you can make it when the concert starts at midnight Friday night. Just dial JA 6844 and tell them you want to hear the Mills Bros. sing a certain number Friday night.

Tell them: "Have the Mills Bros. sing me 'Never in a Million Years' and 'There's a Lull in My Heart' for a dollar," Give your name.

Any song at all. Just call up radio station WOW and tell them to have the boys sing your favorite.

Of course, you don't have to, but it would be nice to offer a little something for The Bee-Nws Milk and Ice fund, seeing that the Mills Bros. are giving their time and talents so freely for this show.

Bainbridge, Ga., May 24—In one of the most dastardly acts of all times, a mob estimated at more than one hundred men, entered a Negro Mortuary here Monday night when all decent people should have been in bed and stole the lifeless body of a Negro identified by Sheriff W. J. Catledge, as Willie Reed, who had been shot to death by the Sheriff's posse on the pretense of an attempted escape by the Negro while deputies were taking him to Albany jail.

In a cannibal manner the lifeless body of the legally murdered man was tied to the rear of an automobile and dragged around the public square behind a procession of cars.

The procession of death moved into a Negro baseball park at the edge of town in a true spirit of barbarism. A pike was made of boards torn from the park fence, and the lifeless body of a man accused of having slain two white women was burned.

He had been arrested earlier in the day at Dothan, Ala., where the sheriff said he confessed the slaying of the two women.
