DETROIT'S FRONT LINE TRENCHES

The blackshirts of Dearborn are not going to stop the organization of Ford workers', Pres. Homer Martin of the United Automobile Workers of America. Here are headquarters of the drive to line up Henry's workers.

Dr. Carver Honored

Tuskegee Institute, Ala.—Tuskegee Institute was the scene of a significant event on June 2nd, when Dr. H. W. Barnard, director of Research, Farm Chemurgic Council, Dearborn, Mich., and whose name has come to be synonymous with the soy bean, delivered the principal address at the unveiling of a bronze bust of Dr. Geo. W. Carver, for 40 years creative research chemist at Tuskegee Institute and whose name has come to be synonymous with the peanut.

Dr. Barnard through the outstanding work done in his laboratories at Dearborn has made the soy bean a dominant factor in the automobile industry. Dr. Carver in his laboratories at Tuskegee Institute has from the humble peanut produced over 300 products ranging from milk to ink and from cosmetics to condiments.

While Dr. Barnard, in Dearborn has been directing research on more uses for soy beans, in the Tuskegee laboratories, Austin W. Curtis, jr., assistant to Dr. Carver has been turning out some interesting experiments that point to the industrial potentialities of the honey locust and the pumpkin, and easy crop on every southern farm. Dr. Carver predicts that the pumpkin and locust products developed by his assistant, Austin W. Curtis, jr., will prove as useful and profitable as the peanut and sweet potato discoveries now so widely known. Dr. Barnard, Dr. Carver, and Mr. Curtis spoke at the Mississippi Conference of the Farm Chemurgic Council held in Jackson on April 12th.
