ENTERTAINS AT BREAKFAST
Mrs. James Bradshaw was a lovely hostess at a 10 o'clock breakfast at her beautiful home, 3720 Creighton Blvd., when she entertained Mrs. Willie Payne of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Marshall of Kansas City, Kas. Other guests who enjoyed this courtesy were Mrs. James Seay, Mrs. P. L. Lindley, Mrs. Russell Billingsley and Mrs. Robert Thomas.

Mr. Arthur Herrington and family, 3123 Burdette street and Miss Dorothy Hill motored to Lincoln, Nebraska, visiting through the State capitol, and the Fair, also friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Middleton and daughter, Miss Rae Lee Jones, had as their house guest, Mrs. Ollie Collins, of Shreveport, La., and Miss Eula Henderson, of Los Angeles, Calif. during the past week.

Mrs. Collins and Miss Henderson both are nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Middleton.

While here they were the recipients of many social affairs.

Mrs. Leola Devela, 2624 Blondo entertained them with a delightful breakfast, Sergt. and Mrs. Bailey served a delicious buffet supper on Thursday evening to a number of friends with both Mrs. Collins and Miss Henderson as honored guests; and Mrs. Walter Carter, 2616 Corby served breakfast on Sunday morning. Mrs. C. L. Mercer, 2016 Burt street, entertained with a delightful dinner party as a grand send-off for these charming guests. Miss Henderson will be remembered as a former Omahan. She is enroute to Philadelphia where she will visit her father for several weeks before returning to her home in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Walter Hughes, arrived last week from Los Angeles, Calif. She was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDaniels for the past week. She departed Tuesday night, enroute to Kansas City, Topeka and Wichita, for a months visit with relatives and friends. While in the city Mrs. Hughes was the recipient of many elaborate social courtesies.

If you know or care, Jeff, 1818 No. 24th street.

Mrs. Edmund D. Washington, wife of Professor Edmund Washington, of Lincoln high school at Kansas City, Mo., is spending several days visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Gilbert, 2423 Maple street. Last Friday evening Mrs. Washington was entertained at a party at the home of Mrs. Gilbert, and an enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Omaha Attorneys File Contest of Will

Mr. Elmer Feldt of Lincoln, Nebraska, Saturday, September 4th, filed a will contest in the District Court of Polk County, at Osceola, Nebraska in the estate of Charles J. Peterson, valued at $70,000. Peterson died in November, 1936 at Axtell, Nebr. Mr. Feldt employed John Adams, jr., and Ralph W. Adams, colored attorneys of Omaha, and W. V. Norton, attorney of Osceola, whose father served in the legislature with John Adams, jr., to bring this contest.

Charles J. Peterson had inherited most of his $70,000 from his father, Jonas Peterson, who immigrated to America from Sweden. At the time the will was made, May 17, 1917, Charles J. Peterson was incompetent to make a will and was subjected to undue influence, the attorneys contend. Peterson was under guardianship for mental incompetency at the time, being confined in the Bailey Sanitarium at Lincoln.

Peterson had no known relatives, except Mr. Elmer Feldt, a second cousin now living in Sweden. The estate was distributed by the will with the exception of a few small legacies, to the following institutions and agencies: Stromsburg School District, $5,000; Benedict School District, $5,000; Swedish Orphanage, $5,000; City of Stromsburg for poor, $5,000; University of Nebraska, $2,000; Swedish church at Stromsburg, $1,500; City of Stromsburg for park improvements, $1,000; active churches of Stromsburg Cemetery, $1,000; Seven Day Adventists' Conference, $1,000; Kearney Tuberculous hospital, $1,000; Lincoln Orthopedic hospital, $1,000; Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Milford, $3,000; Nebraska School for Blind, Nebraska City, $2,000; Nebraska School for Deaf, Omaha, $2,000; Nebraska Home for Dependent Children, Lincoln, $2,000; State Board of Educational lands in trust for high schools, in equal shares, the residue of the estate; and among other legacies, 120 acres of land and $5,000 to Elmer Feldt, with the provision that if he contest the will in any way, his legacy shall be forfeited.

Peterson was known as "Barefoot Charley" because he wore no shoes, even in winter weather. He lived on his farm in a small dug-out without any furniture, and slept on a bed of straw. The attorneys state that the evidence clearly shows that Peterson was incompetent at the time he made the will and that the estate should go to Peterson's heirs at law.

John Adams, jr., and Ralph W. Adams had already been employed by Mr. Feldt to file an appeal in the Supreme Court in another case against George Wanek, president of the Farmers' State Bank of Osceola, involving a claim of $14,500, as money lost by Mr. Feldt in said bank. This appeal was filed in the Supreme Court on the 22nd of July, by Adams and Adams, after Mr. Feldt had discharged his former attorneys.

Scientists Ask Fund For Research Work

New York, Sept. 9 (CNA)—To perpetuate and extend the scientific research work done by Dr. George Washington Carver at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, in the last forty years, plans have been completed to establish the Carver Creative Laboratories, it became known this week. A. W. Curtis, jr., of Tuskegee Institute is in this city to seek an endowment fund of $1,354,290 for the purpose.

Curtis, who is Dr. Carver's assistant, explained that the aim of the proposed research laboratories would be to coordinate the hundreds of experiments now being conducted under Dr. Carver's supervision at Tuskegee and to disseminate the findings to farmers everywhere.

"What we find will be for the benefit of all, Negro and white alike," he said. "Emphasis will be upon the utilization of waste material and the development of agricultural crops for industrial uses. We are attempting to develop the natural resources of the South and with the establishment of the new laboratories, we will have a greater opportunity to work on this problem."

ENTERTAINS

One of the most beautiful social affairs of the season was the one which Mesdames W. Johnson, R. Saddle, and A. Gray, were hostesses to 25 guests when they entertained at a cocktail party at the home of Mrs. Gray, 2601 Patrick avenue. The occasion, being in honor of the lovely Mrs. Walter Hughes of Los Angeles, Calif. The evening was spent in dancing, eating, and sipping cocktails. Upon departing the guests declared that a most unique and delightful evening was enjoyed by all.

Two Killed Using Gas for Insecticide

Ville Platte, La. Sept. 9 (ANP)—Two persons were fatally burned and three others injured last Monday at Redell, seven miles from here, when gasoline they had sprayed into the room as an insecticide exploded and turned the room into a blazing inferno. The dead are Amy Chapman, 14, a colored maid for the Guillory family, and Elton Guillory, 25, operator of a merchandise store at Redell. Damage was confined mainly to the room in which the explosion occurred, which is at the rear of the story. Miss Murtis Guillory was so seriously burned that doctors are doubtful of her recovery. Mrs. Agnes Chapman, mother of the dead girl, and Mrs. Guillory were the others hurt in the blast. Following the explosion, Mr. Guillory, although fatally burned, loaded the other victims into his auto and rushed them to the Ardoin sanitarium ere in Ville Platte. He died shortly after fulfilling his heroic mission.

Former Aide Opens Rival "Heaven"

New York, Sept. 9 (CNA)—Faithful Mary, former chief lieutenant of Father Divine opened a rival heaven this week at 2061 Fifth avenue, a five story brownstone building. At the same time she declared war on the man she formerly worshipped as God by publication of a book entitled "God! He's Just A Natural Man." The book is not only the story of her own life but a reputed pose of "that man Divine's Heaven"—she does not call him God any more. She has named her new cult the Universal Light Movement.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 9 (ANP)—Considerable interest has been shown in the proposed plan to offer occupational and industrial courses at the Booker T Washington Junior and Senior high school of which Dr. Charles L. Austin is the principal. Occupational courses offered will include home economics, painting, carpentry, masonry and concrete, auto mechanic and service station training, tailoring, electricity and radio and printing.

Among the public-spirited officials who have helped Principal Austin develop the plan whereby industrial courses will supplement the regular high school course of study are, James T. Wilson, superintendent of public instruction; D. A. Dorsey, industrial training advocate, and E. E. McCarthy, supervisor of elementary instruction.
