Uncle Gil Visits At Boulder Dam

Dear nieces and nephews, Uncle Gil was one of thousands of sight seers who viewed the most wonderful engineering feats ever attempted in the world last week. The mammoth project known to the world as Boulder Dam.

Now, dear friends, Uncle Gil is going to tell you in a series of articles all he has been able to find out about this wonderful engineering feat. Chartering a car, Uncle Gil in company with Messrs. H. Lee, F. Gardner, L. Johnson, and H. White-side, motored from Las Vegas, Nevada, down through the town known as Boulder City, a town which grew in a year from a desert waste into a community of a thousand homes, a dozen dormitories, four churches, a grade school, shops, stores, restaurants, garages, a 700 seat theatre, tourist camps, recreation halls, a beautiful hotel and many other trade facilities. After viewing this beautifully government owned town, the party journeyed on to Boulder Dam, where the following facts were learned about America's foremost dam. That the dam is 727 feet in height, the third largest piece of construction in the world. The other two being, Eiffel Tower, Paris, France; which is 948 feet and the Empire State building of New York City, which towers 1,248 feet in the air.

If all the visitors to Boulder Dam each day came by air they would fill to capacity a fleet of 130 ten passenger air transportation.

The 4,400,000 cubic yards of concrete used in Boulder Dam and its adjoining structures would be sufficient to build a concrete walk four feet wide and two and three-fourths inches thick, entirely around the earth at the equator.

Every two and one third minute of the day and night, for 625 days, a giant bucket holding 16 tons of concrete was poured into Boulder Dam.

It would take a freight train, 160 miles long to haul the cement used in mixing the concrete for Boulder Dam.

Built in a pyramid on the base of the Empire State Building, the concrete used in Boulder Dam would rise 2 1/2 times higher than this giant building.

If all the dirt moved in the constructions of the dam were hauled by huge dump trucks, there would be enough loads to form continuous simultaneous truck parades from Boulder City to New York, New Orleans, San Francisco, Seattle and Chicago.

Now, my dear friends, I invite you to read next weeks Guide and learn more about Boulder Dam, the world's greatest engineering structure

Jokes

To Many Misses
Roy:—Highballs nearly ruined me once upon a time.
Joe:—I'll bet you guzzled too many.

Roy:—No, I missed too many. I was an outfielder on a baseball team.

Gladys:—I haven't the least interest in men.
Louise:—No, I suppose what you've got is pretty near the most.

Wife (at phone):—How would you like to talk to my mother?
Hubby:—Through a spirit medium.

Fall Electrical Show Opens September 13

Omaha's opening festival of the fall season will be the Electrical Exposition, which will be held in the city auditorium during the five days starting September 13th.

This will be one of the most elaborate expositions of the kind ever held in the midwest. The entire electrical industry is trying to outdo itself in putting on a show which will be long remembered throughout the territory.

The industry is proud of the progress it has made over the past ten years, proud of the invention of new devices, and the perfection of others which have become household necessities.

Latest in radio, kitchen appliances, air conditioning, house and factory lighting and all such things will be on display in the exhibits arranged by the factories and local dealers.

One booth well worth taking in will be the one devoted to the "New American Better Living Contest," shown by the Nebraska Power company. This will explain all details in connection with a new national contest in which more than $40,000 in prizes will be distributed. Entry blanks for the contest will be available at this booth, and there will be illustrations of the $12,000 "New American" home which will be the grand prize and the $8,000 "New American" home which will be awarded to the second place winner in the contest.

These homes and $20,000, in weekly prizes will be awarded in a simple essay contest, details of which can be learned at the "Better Living with Electricity" booth at the Omaha Electrical Exposition.

All kinds of entertainment features have been lined up for the exposition, chief of which will be the nationally famed Red Nichols orchestra. This musical group is well known to radio audiences.

On Tuesday and Thursday night of the exposition, there will be a national broadcast from the exposition over the Mutual chain. The program will originate through station KOIL.

such people, especially minors, even though the hazzard be human degenerates, and not merely a physical defect or wild animal.

The circus lawyers have filed a special appearance in an attempt to have the case thrown out before trial, on the ground that service was defective and improper. The plaintiff lawyers had waited two years for an opportunity to serve the circus managers personally. When the opportunity to serve the circus managers personally. When the opportunity came on the circus' last visit to Omaha, July 25th, a Sunday, the question of legality of Sunday service on a foreign corporation temporarily in the state became involved. Service on another day was impossible, in that the circus arrived in Omaha from Sioux City, after midnight Sunday morning, and left for Lincoln before midnight Sunday night. The situation is an unusual one and is inviting the attention of members of the bar in this state.

Attorney Adams believes Mrs. Butler will prevail.

FLORIDA A. & M. GETS $367,282 FROM WPA

Tallahassee, Fla., Sept. 9 (ANP)—President J. R. E. Lee has been notified by the Works Progress Administration that $367,282 has been approved for the erection of two dormitories at Florida A. and M. college with $198,192 to be expended for the erection of a girls' dormitory to house approximately 200 women and the balance, 169,090, for a boys' dormitory to care for about 150 male students.

State architects have completed plans for these two buildings and it is expected that work on these dormitories will begin within a comparatively short time.

The erection of these buildings will relieve the serious housing problem that the administration has faced for the past few years, resulting from the increased enrollments in both regular and summer sessions of the Florida A. and M. college.

The Stream of Life

There are millions of people in this gray stream of Life, Passing onward in search of some goal
Some pause by the way, midst the tumult and strife,
As though seeking contentment for their souls.

There are scars that have healed, there are tears that have dried, There are memories full of remorse, And some as they pause conscience stricken have tried, To alter a new trodden course.

As this stream passes on countless years without end, With all actions, recorded at last, So the things we do, now, as our life road we tread Are indelibly stamped on the past.

Earn Extra Money

School days have come to an end, which means boys and girls everywhere have the opportunity to make merry during the three months vacation. Here's hoping that a majority of the Guidites especially the boys will find jobs and earn money so as to help their parents defray expenses at home. While we're on the subject of working, perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea if those of you desiring to earn some money during your spare time, would sell copies of THE OMAHA GUIDE.
