

ON THE RAILS

As you know (or the tavern owners know) that a lot of the Los Angeles boys don't come in any more, they have been cut out at Green River, Wyo., Omaha's loss.) Omaha boys will no more see Central Ave., except the three crews that are to be loaned to the City of (Bown) Angles.

I heard that the telegraph office was flooded with messages back to this wonderful City of Omaha. Capt. Ralph Emmons, Lieut. A. B. Goode, Sgt. H. Shockley and "Busk" Private Hudgins were running over one another to get to the pretty girl that accepts her messages for "Mr. Western Union." If any of their friends in Omaha wish to write them, their address will be the St. Agnews Hotel, L. A. for the next 20 days.

WAITERS! Attention! Don't forget the International Convention of Dining Car Waiters to be held in the beautiful City of Omaha, Oct. 25th thru 28th.....meetings.....Get together.....and a grand ball. There will be a lot of strange Brothers in town from all over the United States and it is up to us Omahans to show them a good time.

The only unmarried crew on the Union Pacific was "very unhappy," to leave L. A. They are a keen looking bunch of boys, pardon me, I mean, men and boys.

The Union Pacific is very proud to have back in its employ a great "Newspaper" man. He was fortunate enough (thru the courtesy of "Aunt Diner") to be able to cover the arrival of the delegates of the National Baptist Convention. Of course he met nothing but the "Big Shot" Baptist, L. K. Williams etc. I'm wondering if there weren't any "little" baptist there.

We extend our greatest sympathy to our fellow worker Yates on the loss of his wife upon his return to Atlanta. Mr. Willie Bell, very popular employee of the Union Pacific, is now on the San Francisco Lounge Car. Along with Mr. Bell, went Victor Metoyer, Emil Banks, and Richard Cain. We wish these men very much success on their new jobs. Mr. Alfred Langley of Bellview Blvd., still seems to hold his honorary degree as Mayor of the Southside. Mr. Langley is very popular and well known among the Union Pacific dining car employees. More power and success to our Union president, Mr. Solon Bell. We welcome back in our midst, Mr. Bob Martin who has transferred back here from Frisco. Get the Guide each week and read the U. P. Flashes. Mail or bring all U.P. News to the Omaha Guide.

Handy Gets Praise In N. Y. Daily

New York, Sept. 23 (C)—What is rare in the metropolis happened last Thursday when an editorial appeared in the New York Herald Tribune praising W. C. Handy for his achievements as a composer. The paper said:

"When Mr. Handy, composer of 'The St. Louis Blues,' was studying for the ministry many years ago he ran out of money and went to work on the levee so he could go on. But the songs he heard there so stirred his love of music and his talent for it that he forgot one vocation and found another in which he made himself heard around the world.

"His 'St. Louis Blues' is one of those few compositions of the people, by the people and for the people that conquer the public and keep it conquered. It has subdued popular fickleness for many reasons, chief of them, no doubt, because its source and inspiration are as real as Handy's imperishable as real as Handy's imperishable.

"Is there a band or orchestra in the two hemispheres that has not played to wild applause, highbrow, lewbrow, man, woman and child giving in to Handy's masterpiece of the blue note? 'The Spirit of St. Louis' and 'The St. Louis Blues' have made America known and liked to an incalculable degree, and the city that gave wings to both has the sympathy of all Americans when its pride in Handy's classic prompts it to honor with a plaque the composer—the musician of talent who, with a few cents in his jeans, scribbled on the back of a cigar box years ago a song of deep and universal appeal that nevertheless belongs first and last to America, black, white and colored."

W. J. Barber Says Lower Rates Increase Use of Gas Heating

automatic gas equipment. There is positively no cost or obligation connected with this service. Gas is generally recognized as the ideal fuel for heating purposes. It is the cleanest known fuel, has no smoke, oil sediment, or other by products of combustion that are found in other fuels. No storage space or equipment are necessary. The fuel bill is rendered after the gas has been used, hence no investment in fuel is required. Gas is also the most adaptable fuel for automatic heating operation. It reaches full heat instantly and can be regulated by thermostatic control with ease. Tests show that room temperatures may be maintained within a few degrees of the selected temperatures, day and night, thus eliminating cold rooms and uneven heating effects in the home.

Probably most attractive is the elimination of fuel shoveling and furnace tending, with the accompanying dirt, grime, inconvenience. The basement may be decorated and furnished just the same as the living room. In fact, most new homes utilize the basement for a recreation room, study, library, playroom and other uses. Modern, automatic gas furnaces are beautifully designed and might well be placed anywhere in the home without detracting from the beauty of surroundings. They occupy less space than the ordinary furnace and are highly efficient.

Soviet Note Snags British Tory Plan

London, Sept. 22 (Special to CNA)—A monkey wrench was thrown into British plans recognize Fascist Italy's "Ethiopian empire and to cover up Italian piracy in the Mediterranean when the Soviet Union, in a sharp note to Rome, bluntly denounced the Fascist power as the pirate nation whose submarines are attacking merchant men in the Mediterranean.

Although official quarters declined to comment on reports from Rome that Anglo-Italian soundings had been made for British recognition of the "legality" of the rape of Ethiopia, the belief gained credence here that up to the minute the Soviet diplomatic bombshell exploded, the British government had planned to include the Ethiopian question on the agenda of the "piracy" conference, called by Britain and France.

European statesmen have known all along that the attacks, during the past six weeks, on the ships of various nations have been perpetrated by Italian submarines aiding the Spanish fascist rebels. For various reasons, however, they have been reluctant to call Mussolini's hand; the French, because they are still following Britain's lead in international affairs, the British, because the Tory government favors a Fascist regime in Spain and is also seeking to effect an understanding with Rome that would remove the Italian threat to the British "life line" in the Mediterranean. In exchange for such an understanding, the Tories are prepared to recognize Italy's "Ethiopian empire," and to continue the "non-intervention" farce with regard to Spain, despite Mussolini's open admission that Italian troops are participating in rebel attacks on the Spanish government.

Ethiopian Cause Gains
The Soviet note overturned the British apple cart and so complete, by exposed Mussolini that the Fascist dictator refused to have any thing to do with the "piracy" conference, thereby sparing the world the farcical spectacle of the pirate sitting in a conference called to discuss ways and means of ending his piracy. Nazi German joined Italy in refusing to attend the conference.

With Fascist Italy pilloried before the world as the pirate nation responsible for present lawlessness and the breaking down of international law in the Mediterranean, the British Tories have been forced to temporarily discard their plan for a rapprochement with Italy at the expense of Ethiopia and Loyalist Spain. Already there is evidence that the British people are thoroughly aroused and will oppose any further dickerings with a power that is deliberately attacking British shipping.

Italy Faces African Crisis
The Italian pirate submarine campaign is also likely to have important repercussions in France, where the Popular Front Government is showing signs of taking a firm stand against Italian intervention in Spain and toward a reversal of its inherited policy of permitting the use of the French Djibouti-Addis Ababa railroad for transportation of troops and war materials into Ethiopia.

The French East African railroad has become a vital factor in the Italian campaign to consolidate conquest of Ethiopia, with Italian communications between Ethiopia and the Italian colonies on the East African coast disrupted by Ethiopian guerrilla fighters.

Facials for the Teen Age

The facial treatment for girls of this age is primarily a cleansing treatment to remove blackheads, relieve clogged pores, to arrest serious blemishes and to correct a too dry or too oily skin. It is however very seldom that we have to treat the skin too dry we, recommend as a race have oily skins. When the skin is too dry we recommend a light lubrication cream and when too oily we use a light astringent lotion which acts as a powder base. The teen age miss seldom needs a stimulating tonic or a vigorously deep massage, because the skin is wrinkle free, well toned, full of life and vitality. All it needs is an extra thorough cleansing to retain its normal condition. This should be given every month or six weeks.
