BEFORE AND AFTER

Why not admit it? Criticism makes one mad.

Dreams no more come true than most suspicions.

One swallow will eat 3,000 to 4,000 mosquitoes a day.

Sometimes a friendship begins with no more than a smile.

Men who feel that they have too much modesty exasperate it.

Too many would mend the world by shattering it to pieces.

Do men diet? If they do, they tell all their friends about it.

"Love will find a way" into trouble but not so easily out of it.

Rescue the under dog in a dog fight, but better do it with a pole.

When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot in it and hang on.

Denmark has restricted the importation of hairpins and seaweed.

We ought really to envy the man who is not conscious of having any faults.

It is noteworthy that a doughnut without a hole in it is not very popular.

Don't expect childlessness to disappear from among grown people. It will not.

No creature, human or otherwise, can welcome you quite as wholeheartedly as a dog.

If you have savage opinions, people will be hypocritical to you to keep on good terms.

Best way to know what is going on in a city is to belong to its Chamber of Commerce.

If evolution had permitted us to retain our tails, there would be an "Etiquette of the Tail."

That red mark across your forehead shows what kind of a straw hat you shouldn't have got.

Plant Breeding Methods

Hard to Use on Animals

Inbreeding and outbreeding are the basis of modern plant-breeding, say scientists in the United States Department of Agriculture who study inheritance. Theoretically they should give comparable results with animals to which they have been applied much less. Both are discussed in the 1936 Department yearbook.

Inbreeding is mating closely related individuals, such as brothers with sisters, or fathers with daughters, the resulting offspring being superior or inferior in many ways. Outbreeding, the mating of unrelated individuals, is a means of suddenly leveling family differences and starting a new family.

Some experiments with inbreeding and outbreeding of animals on a scale comparable to that with plants have been begun. Inbreeding of guinea pigs at the National Research Center of the Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md., is a classic example. Some work has been done with larger animals, but it has been tentative, halting, and partial because of the practical drawbacks of cost, time, and lack of adequate numbers of animals.

Animal breeding to advance, say forward looking breeders, should be along the path of modern plant breeding.

RED MARROW BONES ARE BLOOD MAKERS

The University of Chicago surgeons who recently reported to the American Medical Association their discovery that blood cells are made only in the marrow of bones maintained at all times at body heat, have given valuable new information to medical science. It was already known, notes a writer in Pathfinder Magazine, that only bones with red marrow are blood makers and that all the bones in the body have red marrow at birth. But why the bones in the extremities should drop this function and why their marrow should turn yellow few years after birth was not known. In their experiments, however, these Chicago scientists placed rats in incubators and found that when all the bones in the body were kept at body temperature they once more began to produce blood cells.

The most evident result of this discovery is the basic support it gives the new method of treating diseases by producing an artificial fever. Experiments with this fever treatment indicate that by raising the temperature of the body more blood cells are produced which aid in fighting off disease. This seems to hook up very definitely with what is now known of the blood-making function of bone marrow. However, years of experimentation are necessary to prove the actual practical value of the discovery.

Shark Fishing Profitable

Norwegian fishermen report that shark fishing off the Shetland Islands is now more profitable than trawling. They say that this season they have been able to make catches worth $3,500 to $4,000 in a few days. Large galvanized-iron swivel hooks 50 fathoms apart on stout lines are baited with haddock. The sharks, from ten to fourteen feet long, are hauled aboard by means of derricks. Every part of the fish is used, flesh being salted for food and skin preserved as fine leather. While the shark lines are in the sea the fishermen shoot dolphins, which are used as food on silver-fish farms.

Small Wives "Bully"
Mates; Called Best

Aberdeen. — Small women make the best wives, according to the Right Reverend Mr. Frederick L. Deane, Protestant bishop of Aberdeen.

He advised Shetland Islands schoolboys that if they wished to "live good, useful and long lives," they should choose a bride of about five feet height.

"It generally is better when a wife is 'top dog' in the home," Bishop Deane declared. "Small wives can 'bully' their husbands, but big wives are nearly always bullied, even by small husbands."

Why a Man Loves His Dog

You have no rival in your dog's affection—his love is all yours. He never tells you his troubles. He trusts you to the uttermost with a faith that is wonderful, blind, inexplicable. He is polite and thoughtful with his tall for every kind word you give him. You do not have to make company of him. He thinks that whatever you do is all right. He will follow you to the end of the earth. He respects your moods and tries to please you. He never pries into your secrets and does not constantly tell you his troubles. He misses you when you are away and always welcomes your return.

Cropping Dogs Ears Barred

The cruel cropping of dogs' ears to give them a more alert and "classy" appearance, is legally banned in six or seven states in the United States. So painful are the after effects of the operation that many of the leading veterinarians of the United States refuse to perform it.

WOMEN TAKING OVER
MANY AUSTRIAN JOBS

Women are making such rapid inroads into Austrian trades and professions that some men fear in a few years they will lose control of all key positions, asserts a Vienna United Press correspondent.

A recent census of all trades and professions showed the approximate "genderless" division of two-thirds men and one-third women.

At the rate women have been penetrating the higher-paid professions since the war it is feared the percentage soon will be reversed because as the women advance to better positions they engage female assistants instead of men.

The women, as might be expected, dominate certain trades like ladies' tailoring, clerking and stenography, but the astounding thing is that 19 per cent of the country's pharmacists are women. 8 per cent of the country's doctors, 15.2 per cent of the dentists and 3.1 per cent of the lawyers.

One-fourth of Austria's private instructors, musicians, writers and journalists are women while even in the field of engineering there are 33 accredited feminine engineers. In addition, there are 13 conductors, 175 mail carriers, 152 chauffeurs and eight chimney sweeps.

In the textile industry 66 to 80 per cent of the workers are women, while one-third of the total farmers are female.

Structure Built in 1816

to Resume Its Old Form

Green Bay, Wis. — The "T" wing of Fort Howard hospital, built in 1816, is being restored as nearly as possible to a semblance of its original state for a storehouse of antiques connected with personalities prominent in the 300-year history of the white man's occupation of this region.

Fort Howard once was the center of military, social and civic affairs for a wide area here.

Protests Trainmen
Using Rest Room

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22 (Jas. A. Boykins for CNA)—Dr. T. L. Scott of this city has sent a protest to the Southern Railway headquarters in Washington in connection with the invasion and use of the Jim Crow women's rest room on a train between Atlanta and Greenville, S. C., last July 24th by a white railroad employee for the purpose of changing his clothes.

The man invaded the rest room while it was being used by a woman passenger, who screamed and told him to get out. The incident was promptly reported to the conductor on the train.
