Falling Hair, Dandruff
There are many causes for falling hair, but I think we are safe in saying that dandruff is one of the most common causes. Just what is dandruff? This morning a customer came to the school and refused to allow the dandruff to be lifted. She insisted that she had dandruff all her life, and that the scales we found on her scalp were good for the hair and caused it to grow.

Is there a "growing dandruff?" We study dandruff in a scientific way we find it to be an abnormal growth and shedding of horny cells of the epidermis, an excessive discharge of sebum from the Sebaceous (oil) gland.

We may compare the growth of hair with the growth of vegetation. We know that everything in nature grows from the inside out. When ever soil will not produce weeds, that same soil will not produce the best form of vegetation. The same is true of the scalp. Whenever we find a head of hair with no form or sign of dandruff we usually find a tight drawn shiny scalp with little or no hair. Just why is this? We know that to have a beautiful abundant head of hair, the papilla, erector muscles and also the sebaceous glands must be functioning properly. When the oil from the sebaceous glands reaches the air, it forms flaky scales. These flaky scales are found on the most healthy thick head of hair, even on the scalp of babies. If there is a "growing" dandruff this must be it. But when there is an excessive flow of oil, and when the dandruff is allowed to remain on the scalp as a prey to dirt, germs and more oil, the scalp becomes mildly infected, the hair begins to fall, and we have the second or destructive form of dandruff.

FOOTPRINTS OF SERVICE

This is a reproduction of a picture taken in sub zero temperature the morning after a severe snow storm showing footprints of a telephone officer. They are mute evidence of the "spirit of service" that is back of your telephone.

Mocked streets and highways seldom keep telephone employees from the job. If at all possible, they are at work ready to do their part in providing your telephone service.

The management of this Company greatly appreciates the fine "spirit of service" shown by employees and we feel sure that our customers do also. Because of it, the Company is able to serve you much better than otherwise would be possible.

Employee devotion to the job of providing telephone service is essential to the carrying out of our policy to provide the best service at the lowest practicable charges. As a part of this policy, it is our obligation to employees to pay wages that are in all respects fair and just; to provide safe and agreeable working conditions and to deal fairly with each individual and group.

Arrested twice in succession on the same charge of operating and being the keeper of a disorderly house, with the first being a dismissal, Gurman Craig, was sentenced to serve 15 days in the County jail. However he was released on an Appeal Bond. The conviction came after Judge O'Brien described as "ridiculous," his defense that 16 persons present at the time of the raid were playing dominoes. The only evidence produced by arresting officers, were two pairs of dice, which were found in a bucket of water, seemingly which were being given a bath.

Maxine Brown and Willie Harvey were arrested Sunday morning by Officer Lurray Gustin, and charged with disturbing the peace. It was also asserted that Miss Brown had

Truck Driver Injured

York, S. C., Nov. 4 (ANP)—A remarkable demonstration of fidelity and courage was given in York county last Saturday by Wm. Wilfong, a truck driver for the McWhirter 5 and 10c chain store company. Instructed with two bags, containing large sums of money, for delivery at the York headquarters of the firm, Wilfong's truck was in collision with another car on the highway between Great Fall and Rock Hill, and in the crash he suffered a brain concussion. Despite his injury, and thinking only of the money entrusted to him, Wilfong managed to drive his truck to Rock Hill where he changed to see Dr. R. J. Settle, whom he knew. Wilfong turned over the physician, asked him to rush it to the company's office in York. Dr. Settle took the courageous man, cut and bleeding and in a dazed condition from the pain, to a Rock Hill hospital, where, still incoherent, he was unable to give details of the crash.
