$70,000 SPECIAL NYA. FUNDS AID FOR NEGRO STUDENTS

Washington, D. C. Jan. 27—More than 350 colored students are receiving assistance to pursue graduate and special studies through the Negro Graduate Aid Fund of the National Youth Administration, according to Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, director of the NYA's Division of Negro Affairs.

The students are enrolled in 35 colleges and universities. They are in addition to the 6,000 Negro college and graduate students who receive aid from the regular NYA student-aid allotments in schools all over the nation, and the 30,000 Negro high school students who hold NYA part-time jobs.

The Negro Graduate Aid Fund of approximately $70,000 was set up to make it possible for the National Youth Administration to offer graduate aid to colored students in states which offer them no graduate study facilities. A portion of this fund has been used to develop special training projects.

Assistance from the Special Fund can be obtained by applying for it directly to the college or university the student plans to enter, as the selection of the students to be aided is the responsibility of the school officials. The Fund has been entirely allocated for the present school year but at some institutions replacements are being made at the mid term.

Martha Bohlsen, the former "Prudence Penny" of the Omaha Bee-News, introduced a new radio program on January 25 over stations WOW and KOIL. This new radio feature, to be known as the Homemakers club of the Air, will be broadcast regularly every Tuesday and Friday at 11:45 a. m. simultaneously in a special synchronized hookup, over these two Omaha stations.

The Homemakers Club of the Air co-sponsored by electrical dealers and the Nebraska Power Co., is designed as an aid to better, easier homemaking and better and more economical use of electrical service in the home. Miss Bohlsen will offer them a wide variety of homemaking hints, suggestions for short cuts and new methods to improve and lighten household tasks.

She brings to this new radio feature a background of several years' experience as conductor of Home makers' column of the Omaha Bee-News together with daily radio talks on homemaking over local stations.

Power Plant Gets Annual Inspection

A crew of 55 men started this week the annual overhauling of the Nebraska Power Company's power plant. The work, necessary to assure continuous, uninterrupted service, is to be completed by April 1.

This annual inspection and replacement of worn parts in the boilers, turbines and electrical equipment has made possible the company's outstanding record of continuous 24-hour service without a major interruption in more than thirteen years. Lee Ruf, plant superintendent, stated.

Thorough inspection is being made of the six 25,000-h.p. boilers in which all fire bricks and mechanical parts that are found to be damaged or even slightly worn are being replaced. Fire is drawn from only one boiler at a time. It is allowed to cool two days before the crew of twenty-five men assigned to this work enters it to replace damaged parts and clean its interior.

The eight huge turbine and all electrical equipment such as generators, switch rigging and meters, are being inspected and their worn parts replaced by a crew of thirty electrical and mechanical repair men.

FILIBUSTER STIRS IRE OF NORTHERN SENATORS

Washington, Jan. 27—When Senator Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, concluded his six-day speech against the federal anti-lynching bill here yesterday, a notable change had taken place in the attitude of some of the supporters of the bill.

Many northern and western senators and many southern ones, also, did not hear the Ellender bloody shirt arguments on intermarriage because they absented themselves from the Senate chamber; but several times during the week it was evident that the breast beating and the obviously absurd statements of Ellender were arousing the ire of northern and western senators so that many who heretofore had intended only to vote for the bill are now actively working for it and probably will make speeches for it next week.

Bilbo to Rave
Senator Theodore (That Man) Bilbo, of Mississippi, began speaking against the bill today and his speech is expected to be along the same line as Ellender's—on intermarriage, Negro domination, white civilization, etc.

The Stradivarius Quartet, which played at Fisk University January 16 and 17, is shown here with Mr. Harold C. Schmidt, Mr. William Allen and Mr. David Robinson of the Fisk faculty.

The Omaha City BYPU will hold its annual meeting with the Zion Baptist church Sunday, January 30 at 5:30 p. m. at which time election of 1933 officers will be held. Pres. Wm. Cooper serving his fifth year wishes to express his appreciation to the many loyal co-workers and friends and most especially to the Omaha Guide for their splendid cooperation and support. The City BYPU chorus will furnish the music and the public is invited.

Wm. Cooper, president and Miss Ruth Crain Cor. Sec't.

Mrs. M. J. Curtis, who is wintering in California, reports a very pleasant stay. She is in Los Angeles and reports it a most beautiful place to live or visit.

Woodson Appoints Gilbert Chairman Of State Drive

Mr. S. Edward Gilbert received credentials designating him as the state chairman of the nation-wide One Dollar Sustaining drive for 1933, sponsored by the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, Inc. and in view of this appointment, Mr. Gilbert is asking the cooperation of every progressive club in the state of Nebraska to help him in popularizing the study of the Negro in order that the race may not become a negligible factor in the thought of the world.

Anyone wishing to learn more about this all important drive may call Mr. Gilbert, at Webster 6070 or write to either 2418 Grant or 2423 Maple streets.

Mrs. Henrietta Michael died at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday, January 25 at the home of her step daughter, Mrs. Ennis Avant, 2432 Parker street, of a heart attack which she suffered with for the last five weeks.

Mrs. Michael was born in Alabama and was 68 years old. She was a member of Pilgrim Baptist church and various clubs, a lover of Sunday school and BYPU. She is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Avant, Mrs. Catherine Jackson and Mrs. Rachael Hartley; one son, E. J. Michael, all of Omaha. A great many grandchildren and several great grand children.

Funeral arrangements will be made later. The body is at the J. D. Lewis Mortuary.

Temperature of Northernmost City
The January temperature of Hammarfest, northernmost city of the world, is about that of Berlin, 1,300 miles to the south, due to the waters of the warm Atlantic drift.

Don't Want Lions Scared
Whipsnake 200 in England had a huge chalk figure of a lion cut in the ground to warn farmers not to fly too low and terrify the beasts with the hum of their motors.

Rev. J. C. Brewer of the Racine, Wis. AME church was in the city several days due to the illness of his daughter, Mrs. Winifred Gibson, 2821 Seward street. The Rev. delivered several sermons in different churches before his departure Tuesday night.

Mrs. Gibson who is under the care of Dr. Wiggins was also visited by her mother of Chicago.

The Ladies Friendship club met at the home of Mrs. Beulah Watts last Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Three tables of bridge were played and a delightful luncheon was served by the hostess.

KEENEY TELLS ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY NEBRASKA

"Nebraska has many advantages to offer industry but none more important than its pay-as-you-go policy and its freedom from sales, income, luxury, and all those other forms of taxation so prevalent elsewhere," H. G. Keeney, president of the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union, said in an interview here today.

"I believe the Nebraska advertising campaign which is calling attention to our state as 'America's White Spot,' is most timely. It should be effective not only in making America industry conscious of our advantages, but also in making our own people of Nebraska more conscious of these and more confident in our future possibilities," he added.

"I travel a great deal, and I always sigh with relief when I get back home after being harried every time I turn around, by people with their hands out asking for tax money for every little purchase I may make. I wouldn't object if I felt that these taxes helped to reduce personal or property taxes. But farmers with whom I come in contact in other states almost universally complain that their gener-

County Repaints Highway Signs

Two thousand stop and warning signs on county roads in Douglas county, many of them in service for ten years or more, have had their weather-beaten faces repainted for the first time since they were placed on their highway safety job.

Painters found scores of them battered with scars of shotgun pellets and rifle and pistol bullets fired in impromptu target practice. Others were decorated with unretained and uncensored drawings of wayside artists, drawings lost forever under the new paint.

The repainting job was performed by county employes under Surveyor Bill Green, whose duties as highway commissioner include looking after safety signs and guard rail on the 510 miles of county roads in the county highway system. The state highway department takes care of signs on the state-federal thoroughfares.

Green reports that the county's safety work in the past two years has included placing of 200 new warning signs outside city limits on Ames avenue, Fifty-second street, Sixtieth street and L street. Twelve thousand feet of guard rail has been used in new protective construction and for replacing railing damaged in automobile accidents.

Bravo Man.
Country Boy—Say, mister, can you tell me what an orator is?
Man—Sure. It's a fellow who is always ready to lay down your life for his country.—Windsor Star.

Again the Nebraskans are shocked by the sad news flash over W. O. W. at 10 p. m. Tuesday, January 25, stating our own Senator Burke has again turned traitor and joined 15 southern senators in their filibuster against the anti-lynching bill.

Senator Edward R. Burke by telegram and letter and in person to many Omaha civic organizations and to the Omaha Guide, pledged his loyal support and vote to the anti-lynching bill before and after election. Such disloyalty is to be remembered by his former supporters in the future.

Issues Call For Chicago Meeting

According to information received at the Midwestern headquarters of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, a conference of train porters and chair car porters has been called by A. Phillip Randolph, International President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, and will be held in the home of the Brotherhood, 4231 So. Michigan avenue.

Mr. Taylor Murrell, sec'y of the Omaha Division leaves for Chicago Thursday morning to attend the conference.

An outstanding social event among North Omahans was the City's BYPU Seventh Anniversary banquet and style revue held at the Pilgrim Baptist church Thursday, January 20 at 8:30 p. m., with the cooperation of the 10 churches of the City Union. The huge success of this gala affair was due to the splendid aid of the following: Mrs. Estella Robertson, who was in charge of the style show, displaying some 25 models showing the latest in morning, sport, street and formal apparel.

The WPA orchestra furnished the music for the evening, rendering popular melodies and many soothing numbers.

The Nebraska Power company furnished a 1,000-watt spotlight to display the models.

Mrs. J. D. Lewis served as mistress of ceremonies, and with her poise, wit, and personality and experience, she added glamour to the occasion and won praise from the audience.

The program consisted of remarks from Mr. J. W. Dacus, first president of the organization in 1931 and 1932; remarks from President William Cooper who is serving his fifth year; and remarks from Rev. F. S. Goodlett, alternate for Pastor Stevenson.

The loving cup was awarded to Pleasant Green BYPU for the best decorated table of ten, serving 250 diners who reported a very pleasant evening.

This elaborate affair was covered by E. K. Langevin, World-Herald photographer.

Bro. G. W. Wilson is reported in the St. Joseph hospital. He has undergone an operation on his eyes. At this writing he is recovering nicely.
