R. B. F.—I am very worried over the mistake I have made in life. Are things bad for me? Should I ever have anything to say to the boy that I kept company with for so many years?
Ans: There is no need for you to "grieve over spilt milk." The mistake has been made and you will have to make the best of it. Profit by your mistakes, but it isn't necessary for you to hold a grudge against the young man you have been going with.

H. M. L.—I am writing to ask you your opinion of my husband. Is he mindless? What on earth is wrong?
Ans: His mind is not affected. The chief cause of his indifferent attitude is that he is SELFISH. He would like for you to think him unbalanced, but he has more sense than he shows. He is going to change when he finds out he can't use you.

A. B. C.—Will I be successful if I try the treatment I was consulted about a month ago?
Ans: Any treatment that you should take ought to be from a medical doctor. This is the only way for you to completely recover and do not put any confidence in these "heresy remedies."

L. E. W.—I have been living with this man three years. Tell me if I should stay on with this brute or do what I have in mind?
Ans: Why waste your life with some man you do not love? You are a very young woman and if you want through life as unhappy as you are now, then it is your own fault. Don't jump into a bargain of this kind. Look for a husband in the meantime.

I. C.—Do you think that my husband is going to have to leave again this summer in order to find a job? I am in love with another man and can't help it. Will he give me any money?
Ans: If your husband finds out about this other man he will leave and won't ever return. You aren't trying very hard to make your early marriage a success. Don't gamble with your husband's heart. Leave this other fellow alone or hurt yourself a job.

How well you look Depends so much on taking care of your health

FOR a woman to look well, to enjoy the work she has undertaken to do and to carry on her favorite activities among her friends, she must first feel WELL. Her body must be kept properly nourished and she must be free from severe nerve-wrecking pains. For younger women especially, employment of any kind turns to dreadful toil when health begins to run down. Behind that tired look—back of that giving up of so many things she used to enjoy—may be monthly suffering that pulls down her strength and darkens her view of life.

Often because of a run-down system from poor nourishment there is a painful, worrisome condition every month, depressing the nerves, causing sleeplessness, loss of appetite, and wearing out resistance. This is called "dysmenorrhea." If the pain is not due to any actual defects of the body or improper formation of the organs or to any disease found in the womanly organs, it is called "functional dysmenorrhea." This is the most common type of painful menstruation and is the kind which can be helped by CARDUI.

CARDUI aids in relieving the functional pains of menstruation, and it helps to quiet nervousness at such times. It is therefore a medicine which helps women to take better care of their health.

CARDUI has been helping women in this way for over fifty years and thousands of them have told of its great benefit in their cases. It is a tried and tested medicine, widely and favorably known.

If you need a bitter tonic to help you to obtain more energy and strength from the food you eat, or a purely vegetable medicine to ease functional pains of menstruation, try CARDUI. (If not benefited as so many women have described, it may be that your physician should advise special treatment in your case.)

Shark Fishing Profitable
Newspaper accounts report that shark fishing off the Shelburne Islands is now more profitable than trawling. They say that this season they have been able to make catches worth $3,500 to $4,000 in a few days. Large galvanized-iron swivel hooks 50 fathoms apart on stout lines are baited with haddock. The sharks, from ten to fourteen feet long, are hauled aboard by means of derricks. Every part of the fish is used, flesh being salted for food and skin preserved as fine leather. While the shark lines are in the sea the fishermen shoot dolphins, which are used as food on silver-fox farms.

Do Not Live on Air
It was a belief among the old naturalists that chameleons existed on air. This is not true. The fact that these creatures are able to go without food for long periods no doubt led to this erroneous earlier conclusion.

Oldest Railroad Station
Mount Clare in Baltimore is the oldest railroad station not only in the United States but in the world. It was built in 1830. It is now used as a freight station.

Swords From Heaven
It is believed that ancient traditions of certain fine swords being sent from heaven can be explained by the fact that they were made from meteoric iron.

The Port of Pompeii
Excavations have brought to light what was once the port of Pompeii. In a tavern were found the skeletons of three men trapped while drinking wine.

W. L.—My only ambition is to become an aviator and would like any information that you could give me along this line and also my future?
Ans: You know what you want, then young fellow you must go right after it. Your education comes first, then enter college where you can take up aerodynamics. The profession is a very exciting one.

B. J.—I have taken a liking to a man and want you to tell me if he is too young?
Ans: Let him decide this question. There isn't any reason why you and he couldn't find happiness together provided you took an interest in the things he likes. Don't allow yourself to grow old, keep yourself young and fit.
