Demand Hearing on Bills to Lessen Jim Crow in Army

New York, May 7—A call to organized groups in the country to rally and demand a hearing by the House Military Affairs Committee on the three bills introduced to widen opportunities in the army for Negro citizens and lessen discrimination against them, has been issued by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The bills (H.R. 10164, H.R. 10165) were introduced by Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York, at the suggestion of the Pittsburgh Courier. The NAACP, in a memorandum to its 400 branches, youth councils and college chapters and to a selected list of cooperating organizations, urge support for the three bills.

Citizens are urged to write Congressman Hamilton Fish, House Office Building, Washington, D. C., voicing a demand that the House Military Affairs Committee hold hearings on the bills and not leave them in pigeon holes. Letters and resolutions also should be deeply colored people resent the discrimination now existing against Negroes in the army.

The Association emphasized the necessity of everyone backing the Pittsburgh Courier in its campaign for these bills and stated that even they cannot be passed at this session, a hearing upon them before the committee will present "a means of opening up and exposing the official policy of discrimination against Negroes in the army, and offer an opportunity to register deep resentment all Negroes feel against such discrimination." In essence the bills provide:

H.R. 10164: names the units of the Regular Army and states: "Nothing in this Act shall be construed as discriminating against the appointed of Negroes as officers or enlisted men in the various establishments as outlined."

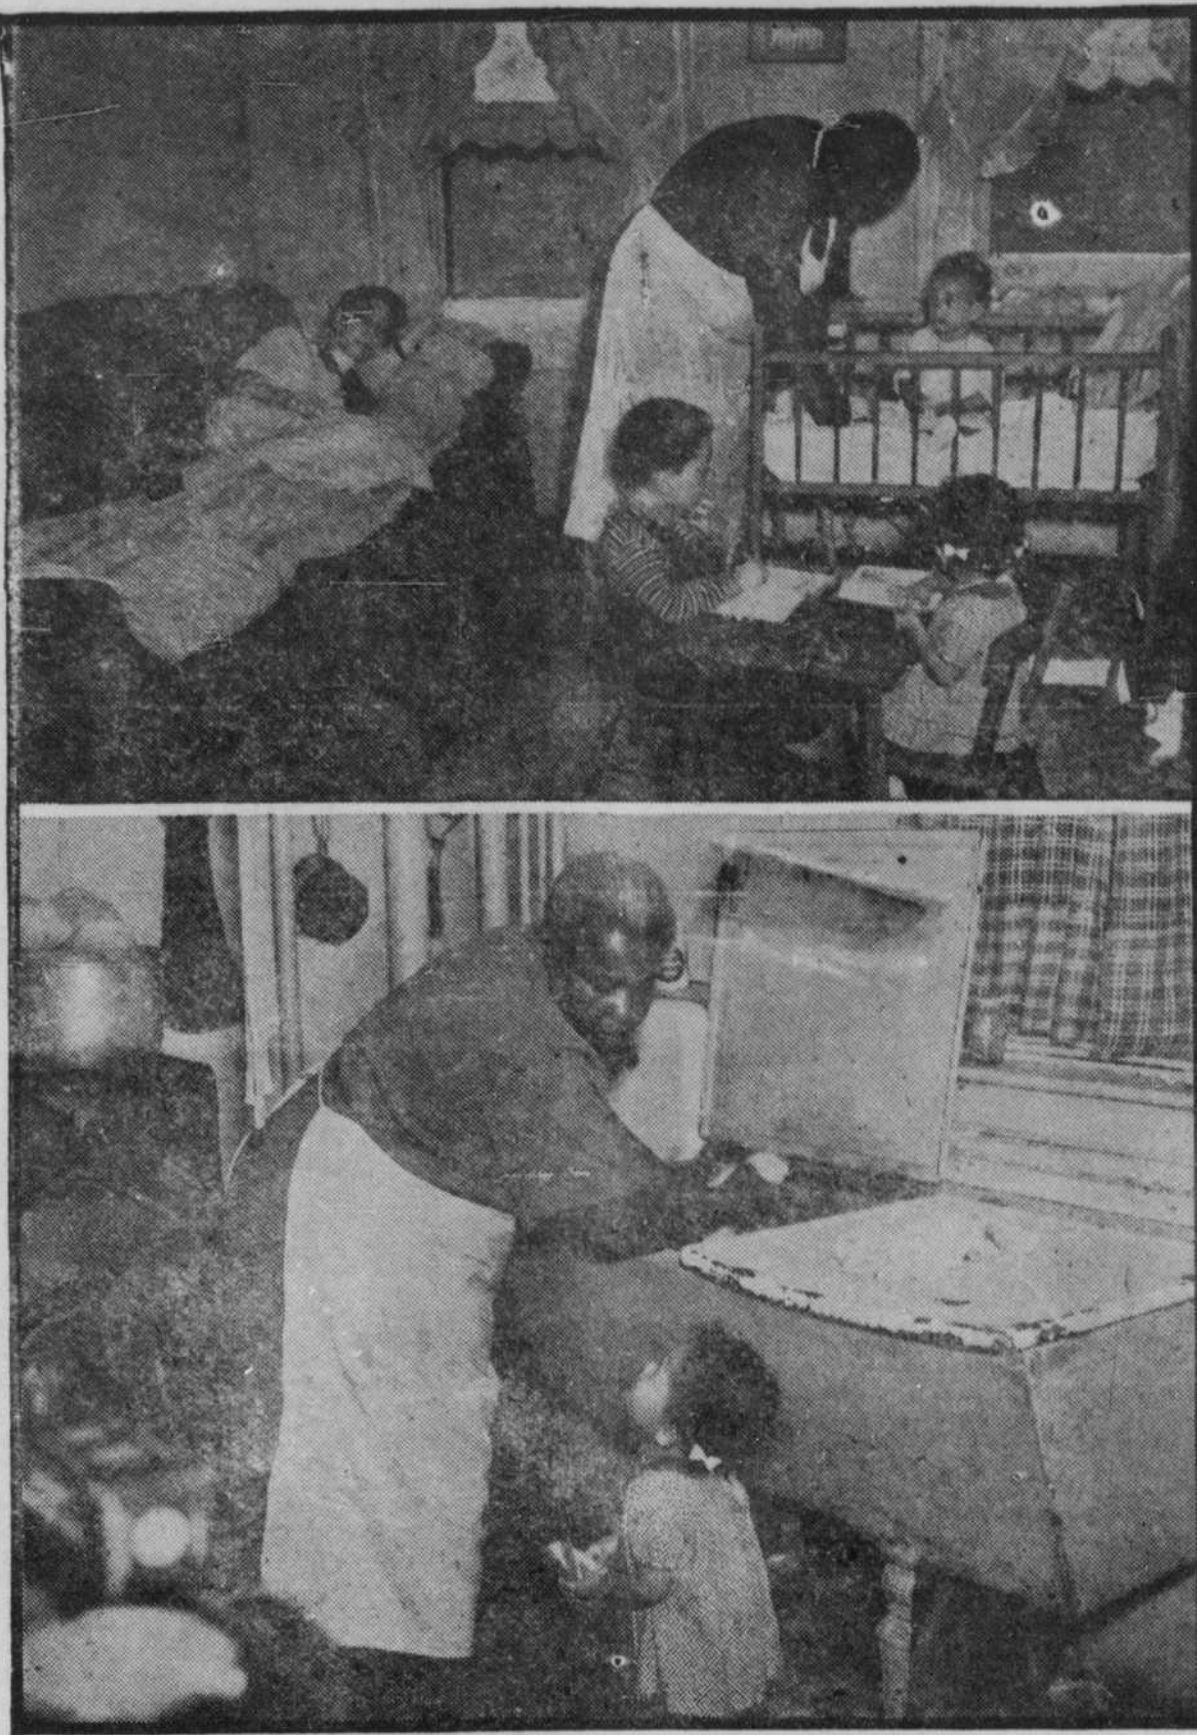

H.R. 10165: covers the appointment of cadets to the United States Military Academy, "two of whom each year shall be of the Negro race until there shall be an aggregate of eight such appointments of Negro cadets."

H.R. 10166: specifies the organization of the Army in time of peace and provides that one division "shall consist of enlisted Negro men."

WPA Housekeeping Aid

Typical of the housekeeping aid project, sponsored by the Works Progress Administration, are these scenes taken in a Harlem tenement home of a relief child.

The top picture shows the housekeeping aide tending the children while the mother is recovering from illness. In the lower picture is a view of the aide doing the family laundry in the home. She is also prepared to serve in other household duties. At regular meetings with physicians, visiting nurses and welfare workers, the aide is guided in the health phases of her work, thereby increasing her ability to be of greater service.

In thirty-nine states 14,400 women have served 500,000 families as housekeeping aides. Many of these WPA project workers have reached a high level of fitness in their work and are finding their way into private employment.—WPA Factos.

American Negro Is Growing Competitor

New Orleans, April 30 (By James F. Bozeman for (ANP))—Through-out 10,000 mile tour of Dixie, I find the 80 percent of our dark brethren who yet call Dixie home are in many ways growing into what can be considered a commercial competitor. Along the great Gulf coast and deep into bordering states are found, where state highways lead, filling stations intelligently operated by Negroes, and patronized by all races. In Galveston, Tex., I point with pride to the Webb Furniture store in the heart of the uptown (white) business district and dealing with all races. business comes from whites. In Pensacola, Fla., you will find the Negro ice cream king of American, Ernest Singleton, whose company supplies the entire may at Pensacola with ice cream, and he is the leading man in his field regardless of color.

As a land owner and real estate dealer as well as farmer, the deep south Negro is gradually catching his stride in the struggle for something of his own. The economic depression taught a valuable lesson that no college nor university could offer. Land owned by our race in Yazoo County, Miss alone is valued at more than $3,941,596, and buildings at $1,600,234. Twelve other counties in the deep South exceed Yazoo in acres of land owned by Negroes.

Invisible Sunlight at Dunbar Bank to Golden Gate Expos. Close Its Doors

San Francisco, May 7—Invisible sunlight, imprisoned within the walls of an amazing new lamp and bombarding chemical powders, will duplicate all the pastel tints of the rainbow in a $1,000,000 night illumination extravaganza for the palaces of the Golden Gate International Exposition, to be held next year on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay.

This was announced by W. P. Day, Exposition Vice President and Director of Works. Simultaneously in New York General Electric engineers announced their new tubular fluorescent lamp to the world. New "cool" light sources, producing colors rivaling the rainbow, are made possible by the new lamp and will have their first large scale outdoor application at California's $50,000,000 Exposition.

Twenty-three hundred of these new, revolutionary lighting tubes will be used in specially designed floodlights for providing colored illumination of the walls in the Court of the Moon, Court of Reflection, Court of the Seven Seas, Court of Flowers and other locations, according to A. F. Dickerson, Manager of General Electric's illuminating laboratory and Illuminating Engineer of the Exposition.

"The possibilities of colored illumination in exterior use are greatly multiplied by the development of this new fluorescent tube," Dickerson said.

Efficiencies in terms of colored light have been stepped up in some cases as much as 100 to 1. Under this new light the walls of the courts will become luminous and iridescent in color shades and tones which heretofore have been artist's dreams that seemed beyond practical accomplishment. For the first time we are able to mix lights as we do paints and produce the theoretical results on large areas as a reasonable cost that have been limited in the past to the stage due to the expense."

Fluorescent powders compounded and specially heat-treated in the company's Nela Park laboratories held the secret of the efficiency and color-producing qualities of the new light argon gas as low pressure, and a coating of fluorescent powders, selected and blended to produce the color of light desired.

When current is applied, the argon serves as a "starter" and in a fraction of a second a feeble blue light with a large component of invisible ultra-violet radiation is generated inside the tube. This radiation strikes the fluorescent coating and is re-radiated in the visible range of spectrum. Each powder has its own characteristic wave-band with its responds to the ultra-violet, thus forming its own particular color of emitted light.

MORE INFORMATION WANTED FOR NAACP

New York, May 7—More information on discrimination by the civil service against Negroes is desired by the NAACP, which is planning to present evidence to the senate committee appointed recently to investigate discrimination in the civil service. The N. A. A. C. P. has received some information on discrimination and has several cases in its files, but in order to make the case as strong as possible, more information is desired quickly.

Work Speeded On Last Units Of Fair Building

San Francisco, May 7.—With $10,000,000 in construction work virtually finished on Treasure Island, San Francisco Bay site of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, the Department of Works, headed by W. P. Day is well into the second half of the building program of $20,000,000.

Work is well advanced on the final Yerba Buena Island unit of the Exposition's $600,000 highway system. This unit ties into the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

Work on another unit of exhibit palaces will soon start. The contract was awarded on a bid of $419,000 for construction of buildings surrounding the Court of Pacifica. The contract includes extensions of the Building Progress and Vacationland buildings, two great palaces on the northern side of the court, one of which will be occupied by Ford Motor Company, the Western Gateway, entrance to the court from the ferry terminal building; twin Elephant Towers flanking the entrance, and other architectural features.

Plastering is well under way on the exhibit buildings of the main palace group and the ferry terminal building. Bids have been asked for general plastering of the Tower of the Sun, the 400-foot steel spire rising from the Court of Honor.

FIVE ENROLL AT THE ALTHOUSE BEAUTY SCHOOL

Five new students seeking a scientific training in beauty culture, enrolled at the Althouse Beauty school, Monday. The enrollees were: Misses Katharine Wheat, Margaret Griggs, of Maryville Missouri, Sarah Burch, Beatrice Johnson and Louise Cooper.

New York, May 7 (C)—Harlem depositors were stunned Wednesday morning as written notice was received from the Dunbar National bank, 2238 Seventh avenue and 2824 Eighth avenue, that a resolution had been adopted on for liquidation of the bank. The resolution will be presented to the stockholders on May 23 for ratification, but meantime "depositors will be paid in full, and any depositor who desires to do so may withdraw his funds at his convenience."

Noted as the only bank in New York employing an interracial staff, the Dunbar was organized in 1928 by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and opened for business in the Paul Laurence Dunbar apartments, which were also built by Mr. Rockefeller. The bank has over $3,000,000 in deposits, and about 16,000 checking, thrift and Christmas club accounts.

As for the reason of closing out the business, the announcement said the entrance of the Federal government in the low-cost housing field in Harlem, adjacent to the Dunbar, caused Mr. Rockefeller to sell the Dunbar apartments, and having left the housing field, it was not expected he would retire from the banking field in Harlem.

The Dunbar is the only bank north of 126th street in Harlem, its main office being at 135th street, and its branch at 150th street. Between thirty and fifty colored persons will lose their jobs from caretakers to branch manager, as the bank closes.

Mrs. Roosevelt:

room, reminded for the thing which is better done than the average, and there is always room for the person who can do a better job than the average person; and anyone in a minority group has got to strive to do a better job not just for himself as an individual, but because it is going to help the whole group that he belongs to and because it is going to have an effect on what all the others are doing to be able to do; and every time we fail every time we do not our best, we don't help if we did ourselves down, we let down all the others that might help if we did our best and if we did succeed.

"So, in making your phase, in seeking the place which you can hold a position on the has got to be better than a man would be who would be going to hold that same position; and if she fails, she is not going to fail alone, just as an individual, but is going to hurt other women who try to hold that same position for a long time. I think we women have learned that that is the case.

"Minority groups are in very much the same position that women are in. There is always fill in the community, remember that it will require the best that is in you. It will require you to do the best, while you are here, in preparation. It will require you to learn all you can of practical things, of academic things; but, above everything else, it will require character. No one can succeed without character. It is the most important preparation that any of us can have, to learn to control ourselves and to force ourselves to do the best that is in us, instead of being content to get by. A great many of the young people who came to my house frequently tell me that they are all right in school and in college—oh, yes, they get by—and I always tell them that they may get by in college in their examinations or with their fellow students who are their fellow students in life it is not good enough to get by. You will have to do a great deal better than that, if you are going to contribute something to the community in which you live and to the democracy which today is a normal as a form of government in the world."

At the conclusion of the address, while the audience was giving Mrs. Roosevelt an ovation, a young woman student presented her with a mammoth bouquet. Before she could conclude her thanks, groups of students uncovered the stand before which she had been speaking. It was, unknown to her, a replica of the desk used by Washington in New York—said to be a gift from General Lafayette.

Made in the Hampton Institute Trade School, President Howe presented it to her and President Roosevelt.

The Rev. Dr. Chester B. Emerson, for the Board of Trustees, delivered a brief but impressive charge to the classes which will graduate next month.

Immediately after the exercises in Ogden Hall, Mrs. Roosevelt was taken to a reviewing stand, erected for her, and witnessed "Retreat" by the battalion, the cadets passing in review before her.

Mrs. Roosevelt's coming brought a most notable party from the North and other points in the country, including the wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mrs. Henry W. Morgenthau, Jr.; Mrs. P. G. T. Woodruff, Mrs. George Vassar College, Mrs. Malvinia Schriber and Mr. and Mrs. George Bye of Washington, D. C. This anniversary was one of the greatest in the history of Hampton Institute.
