P. N. W.—My husband told me he has some money loaned out and if he can collect it, he will give it to me. Is this true? Why did he stop running around at once? Does he really mean to act the way he is doing now or will he go back to his old stuff? Ans: His "goose has been cooked" he has enough running around to last him for a long time. Yes, he means to conduct himself like a man if you will do your part, your home will be happy. I don't believe he will collect the money, forget it.

L. M. S.—Will my auntie be successful in the business that she has set up? Ans: Quite successful. But she won't make very much profit from her business this year—next year will prove an unusually good year for her.

J. H. S.—Was my husband the father of the girl that came to our house a few Sundays ago? Ans: Worrying about this is only piling the troubles on your shoulders. You are allowing your "jealous disposition as well as imagination" to run away with you. Try not to let such thoughts enter your head again.

X. X. S.—Does this man who has been asking me to marry him really love me? What must I do? Ans: Certainly he loves you. No man is going to chase a woman for months and insist that she marry him unless he loves her. Until you are able to determine whether you return his love, remain single. He will in all probability make a very desirable mate.

O. A. S.—Tell me if what I believe is true and is it my husband's? Ans: See your doctor and he can confirm the statement but it is very likely so. There shouldn't be a doubt in your mind, of course you must believe it to be your husband's.

L. S.—I am working terrible hard trying to be the lucky person to receive a scholarship this next year. How are my chances? Ans: Excellent. Anyone who has been on the honor roll for the past four years will probably be the one chosen. Keep up the good work, this is your chance of getting the college training that you wish for.

S. P.—Is it wise to continue to pursue her or should I find someone else? Ans: Find someone else, you will realize that you aren't getting anywhere to continue as you have been doing. A charming young lady will enter your life this summer.

T. M. E.—My boy friend is leaving town in two more weeks. Should I take another friend or wait until he comes back? Ans: Why should you sit quietly and wait for his return when you aren't engaged and you have no way of telling when he will come back. Yes, make some other friends but you don't have to take them too seriously if you do not like.

B. L. B.—Does this boy I am in love with really care as much for me as he says? I love him but I can't seem to prove it to him. Ans: He doesn't want you to prove it—although he knows perfectly well that you do love him. I would suggest that you not get intimate with young man for he does not have marriage on his mind as you seem to have.

M. D. A.—Will I be able to get a teaching position this coming fall or do I have worries before me? Ans: I seem to me that you will be elected to teach in either the city or county schools. I might be well for you to make some contacts so that you can feel relieved about your work.

E. B.—I have tried hard to live true to my husband and I want to know who carried that story to him about me. I found him at some lady's house but he said he was not going with her. What must I do? Ans: Stop worrying about what your husband claims someone told him about you—he knows perfectly well that you aren't playing a game of this kind. Keep your eyes on him and make him toe the mark.

M. W.—Will I ever get my pocketbook or any of my money back again? I am worried to death? Ans: Not a chance of your having this money returned to you. Try to drop it from mine and in the future—put your money in a savings bank if you have any surplus on hand.

C. M. C.—Am asking you please if you think that I will be treated this way always? Ans: Only as long as you stand it. There is no reason for you to have to put up with being abused—come to a show down and have some kind of understanding right now. As long as you take bad treatment, you can't expect a change.

M. P. H.—If I ask the man next door for some money will he give it to me? Ans: Enough of anything is enough, and he is about fed up. No—disappointment is ahead for you if you approach for he doesn't feel like putting out any more money.

P. S. S.—Does this man that I have been going with mean me any good? Ans: He likes you alright but that is all. Don't expect marriage from your association.

W. C.—My husband said we were going on a trip and I worked hard about a month getting everything together and now he says he's not going. I believe he is just putting me off. I want to know what I should do? Ans: Go right ahead with the plans and pack his clothes—the minute you get ready to pull out, he will be in the car. It would be advisable to try to get him in a good humor for there isn't anything at all wrong with him but he is putting—and you know why.

Such drudgery, and brought them cheer, comfort and better health, is the theme of this dramatic and interestingly informative program.

Saints." Jude 1:3) Be a real Baptist in faith, teaching, and practice.

All the Churches, and so called Churches are Sinful and Corrupt.

The Spiritual life, growth, and influence of our Churches has an ugly appearance, because of Sin and Corruption. We have all kinds of people in our churches, such as drunkards, liars, gamblers, card players, dancers, hypocrites men and women living in open adultery and other doing every evil and worldly thing that they are big enough to do, and them some.

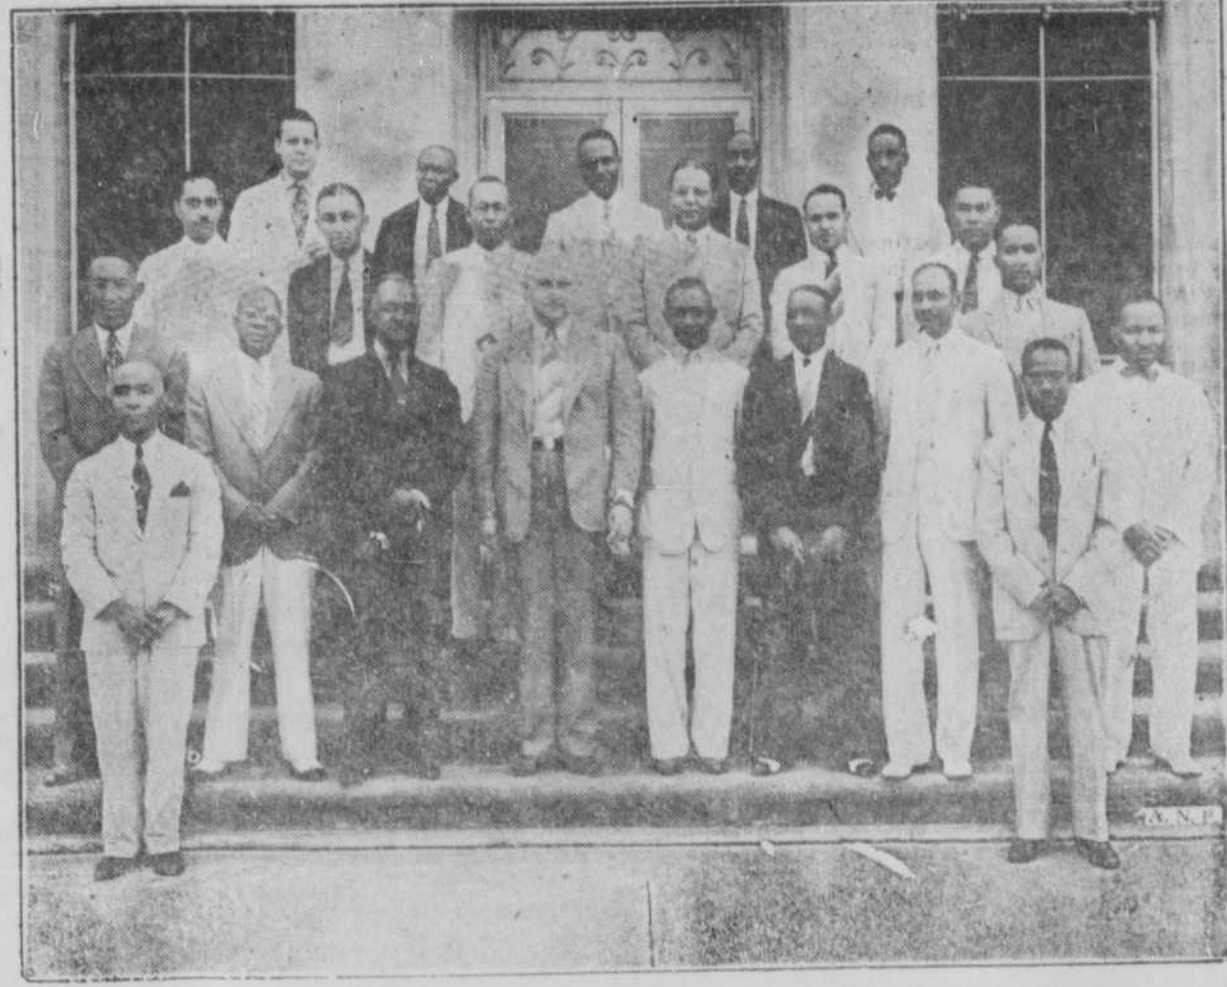

The pastors, the officers, and the leading members know who they are and what they are doing, and they lack the moral Christian courage to fight it, and take a stand against it. And in many cases it is because they themselves are doing the same things. Am again we strike to much for money, big crowds, worldly things popularity and the praise of men and will do anything to get it.

Our churches are worldly in their worship; and strive more to please, and to entertain the people with an ungodly service, than they do to magnify Jesus Christ, save souls, or cause the members to live like a Christian should and to keep unspotted from the world.

The majority of our church efforts are for material things and money at any cost. And yet the material progress of our churches are very discouraging. Because in despite of every ungodly, worldly, and hypocritical thing we do to get money; the debts on the church building are not decreased; bills are unpaid, the building are not finished; and some churches have never bought one foot of land as a church or bought one board to build God a house. This is due to sin, corruption, and ignorance.

There is too much public sin covered up in our churches, and ignorance is in the lead. Therefore God is not blessing them with prosperity. "He that covereth his sins, not prosper." Remove, and forsake sin; Clean your life like you clean your body; and make God, and His righteousness first, "And all these things shall be added unto you." Matthew 6:33. "An I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth." Galatians 4:16.

intensive study of the Baha' beliefs, but to the theory and practice of carrying their message to the world. On August 20th, a nine day general session will be held.

It is our conviction that the present chaotic condition of the world is not an indication of hopeless disaster, but rather the dying struggle of an era of conquest and hatred, and that from it will come a unified world of peace and happiness, the present turmoil probably terminating in another world war, will usher in a new era. This new era will be the fulfillment of the teachings not only of Baha'ullah, the founder and Prophet of the Baha' Faith, but of Jesus Christ and every other divine prophet of the past. Chastened by suffering mankind will turn to justice and cooperation, rather than to hatred.

One of the lecturers who will discuss the fundamentals of the Baha' Faith at the summer school. The world Order of Baha'ullah, this new order of peace and security will be presented by members of the Baha' Youth Group of Urbana, Illinois.

"An essential to the fulfillment of the plan is the development of world consciousness, and individual character," to that end, the Baha' concept of character building will hold an important part in the Louhelen Ranch summer school located on highway M-15, 10 miles from Flint, and 3 miles south of Division. OUR COMMENTS SHOPPING FOR BEAUTY "If you are Thirty or More"

For the woman who is thirty or more we urge you to look smart in your own mature fashion, which in this modern age, is considered very smart indeed.

Don't try to look like your younger sister. You don't have to. Some of the most chic women in the public eye today are women thirty or more.

Mature women must watch their makeup. Use rouge and lipstick, but be sure you learn to apply it deftly and with great care. Too much makeup on the older woman is disastrous.

Selection of makeup for the woman of thirty or more should be made only with the advice of a beautician—one who will honestly make a choice of cosmetics for her patron.

If your hair is white, you should use a pinkish shade of rouge. Apply it rather high on the cheek, blending it out toward the temples. Never bring it down below the corners of your mouth. This would tend to give older lines, which add years to your face. The women of thirty or more should never wear her hair dressed low. The modern trend of sweeping upward coiffures is particularly complimentary to the mature woman. Hair fluttering loosely and blown around the face gives the illusion of sagging contour. See that the hair is kept at the natural hairline in the back—but better yet, sweep it upward.

When you are thirty or more you just cannot afford to have a carelessly coiffed head. Only the young and beautiful can wear a casual hairdress.

Use a little oil on your eyelids—it will give the illusion of bright eyes. If brows and lashes are fading, use a bit of mascara. You will be pleased with the effect, especially if your hair is grey or mixed grey.

Too much power is aging. Be sure you have the right kind and learn how to use it properly.

Come in and let us give you professional advice about your cosmetic problems, then let us create for you a new modish coiffure that will make you look years younger. (Continued next week)
