C. K. O.—I want to ask if these plans that I have in mind will be alright and does this party mean me any good?

Ans: The plans you have made are alright. But you should not depend on this other party as playing any part of your plans. He is still very infatuated with this other woman, and as long as he feels this way, you should not depend on him.

S. L. C.—Is this disease that I have now very serious and where did I get it from?

Ans: Any disease is serious and you should consult with a doctor immediately. It is going to take several weeks or longer to get on your feet again, and I believe that you know perfectly well where you contacted such.

B. L. J.—Tell me if my husband is having affairs with the woman I have in mind and does give them money?

Ans: He might if he had enough money, but he isn't financially able to take care of his own little family and he certainly knows better than to take on other responsibilities. He's a high stepper but he isn't half as popular as he himself believes.

C. F. C.—Will you please tell me if my father is coming for me and carry me with him?

Ans: He certainly is working towards this end. Conditions will pick up for him financially this winter and he is making every effort to have you by his side.

E. C.—Will my mother be successful in getting a job soon or should I work another year for her?

Ans: Yes, Your mother will find the right kind of employment before the end of this year. Stick by her just as long as she needs you, for this is one sacrifice that you won't ever regret. When she becomes again, then you can make the change that you desire.

C. E. B.—I have been married two years and my husband was good until his mother began coaching him against me. Should I live with her?

Calvin's Newspaper Service TESTED RECIPE

By Frances Lee Barton

THE reputation for having the biggest shade trees, and the most hospitable mother will bring your children's little playmates flocking into your backyard to play. With a well filled cookie tin and a glass jar of quick chocolate syrup in the ice box your role as hostess will be an easy one to sustain—and it won't be burdensome. Here's the recipe for

Chocolate Syrup
(Base for chocolate drinks)
5 squares unsweetened chocolate;
1 cup sugar; ½ cup hot water; 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten.

Melt chocolate over hot water; cool to lukewarm. Add sugar to water, stirring until sugar is dissolved; cool to lukewarm. Add syrup to egg yolks, about one-fourth at a time, beating well after each addition; add chocolate in the same way. Then continue beating mixture 1 minute, or until slightly thickened. Turn into jar, cover tightly, and place in refrigerator. Syrup can be kept for several days. Use 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup for 1 cup milk. Makes 2 cups syrup. And here are two summertime "refreshers" you can make with it:

Frosted Chocolate
1 cup chilled milk; 2 tablespoons Chocolate Syrup; Chocolate Ice Cream.

Add milk slowly to syrup, stirring constantly. Add ice cream, and beat or shake until ice cream and chocolate mixture are blended. Pour into tall glass and serve at once. Serves 1.

Chocolate Soda
6 tablespoons Chocolate Syrup;
¾ cup carbonated water; 1 tablespoon whipped cream.
Combine syrup and carbonated
water. Shake well with cracked ice. Pour into glass and top with whipped cream. Serves 1.

here in this city with his selfish mother?

Ans: You are "playing your cards" very backward when you turn against your husband's mother. Don't you know that you won't ever be able to come between them. To try to do so only makes your husband lose respect for you. You had better drop the grouch and make up to your mother in law, regardless of how you dislike to do so; and you will wind your way back into your husband's heart again.

S. C.—does this man mean what he said about attempting suicide on his family?

Ans: In his depressed moments he means it, but he soon snaps out of the feeling. My suggestion is that you star clear of the whole thing and do not see this party again. You can't expect anything from an association of this kind.

E. B. G.—As this is a serious hour for me and I am on my last go round, tell me if the trip I am planning will be successful?

Ans: Very much so. You are going to meet up with a young lady of your own Nationality and within a period of time you are going to be happily married. Your business connections will be good this coming year.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

FRED E. AHLERT, A.S.C.A.P.
Building A Song House

By Joseph R. Fliesler

"WRITING a song is like building a house," says Fred E. Ahlert, a S.C.A.P. composer of popular songs. "The plans, or blueprints of the song house consist of an idea and the title. Every idea has a mood, whether it be tragic, facetious, or dramatic. The melody must carry the mood of the idea through the song. The title embodies the idea."

"It is a combination of ability, together with intense application, that brings out the best in a songwriter."

"Generally, we try to put the title in the first line of the chorus. That is not a hard and fast rule, however. Sometimes it goes on the second or on the fourth line, depending on where it can be most favorably emphasized. When the title is in the chorus in the first eight bars, we often use the next eight bars as a repeat; after that comes a release of eight bars then the concluding eight bars pick up the strain of the first eight."

"That is the frame work of one type of song house. There are many others, as there are many plans for houses. Sometimes the melody is created as pure melody before the idea and title. It then becomes the business of the lyricist to put the musical idea into words and a title, and adapt his lyrics to the melody. This collaboration can be between two persons or it can be between the two selves of the composer-author if one person writes both words and music and the melody happens to come first."

"Then comes the hard work, the rounding out; submission to a publisher, the acceptance (let us hope), the orchestrations and arrangements, 'plugging' all to sell enough copies of the song to repay composer, author and publisher for the efforts they have put into the song house."

"Like a house too, the song is generally rented, and the first tenant usually gives his name to the house. Just as no matter how many times it is re-rented it is always known as the 'Blank House' or whatever may have been the name of its first occupant."

"In that way, my song 'Where The Blue Of The Night Meets The Gold Of The Day' is always accompanied by the name of Bing Crosby; 'Mean To Me' suggests Helen Morgan and Kate Smith; 'I'll Get By' Rudy Vallee and Harry Richman; 'I'm Gonna Sit Right Down And Write Myself A Letter' Fats Waller and Benny Goodman; 'Walking My Baby Back Home' Harry Richman and Walter Winchell. Kind Hearted Escapee

ears of Sleuths Suspension Gives Self Up

Chicago, Sept. 1 (ANP)—Dennis Alston, 20, is kindhearted above all else. On Aug. 6, he was arrested by Detectives Glenn Cro-kett and John L. McDonald, but escaped out of the back door of a radio shop where he had gone
with the sleuths to show where he has disposed of loot in a burglary.

The detectives were suspended
because Alston escaped. Last week
he heard about it, so Wednesday
he surrendered to police. The sleuth will appear before a police trial board this week.

GERMAN FARMER HAS NEGRO BLOOD; CAN'T OWN LAND

Berlin, Sept. 1 (CNA)—The Nazi authorities have decreed that a German peasant who had a Negro ancestor is not "fit" to own property in Hitler's Germany.

The case is that of a young farmer who was named by his uncle to inherit his farm under the Nazi hereditary farmers' act as the nearest male relative. While investigating the youth's ancestry
the Nazi authorities learned that his great grandmother had been a mulatto. The records disclosed that she was born in 1805 in a Dutch colony, the daughter of a white father and a black mother.

The Nazi court thereupon ruled that "the establishment of colored blood must necessarily lead to inability to become a peasant on German land. The requirements of blood purity are of such prespon-derant importance that there can be no release from them."

The large estate was thereupon declared the property of the Nazi
state.
