"NEGRO PRESS HOUR" OBSERVED BY BAPTIST

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 22 (by R. C. Fisher for ANP).—"The Negro Press Hour," when a report of the editor of The Voice of the Baptists official organ, Rev. R. C. Barbour of Tennessee, made his annual report to the National Baptist Convention, U. S. A., last Friday morning, was one of the high lights of the 58th annual convention and the celebration of the 75th year of the emancipation of the Negro in America.

"The Negro Church and Press are institutions where the Negro has always enjoyed the opportunity of expressing himself without the dictation or domination of any other group. He is freer in the Church, than in other spheres. His leadership here is unhampered. He worships as he pleases, plans the church activities to his liking, finances the work and has absolute power of control. Here the Negro physician, lawyer, school teacher, and those of various professions and pursuits have received their start to independence and success. The white man doesn't bother his religion. The Negro Press like the Church is independent. It thinks for the Negro, speaks for the Negro, and fights for Negro. Its policies and principles are not for sale, neither are its ideas subsidized by financial expediency, or its influence used for personal aggrandisement.

"As we peruse historical records we find that there were efforts on the part of the Negro in America to self expression back in his early beginning. The first illustration of Negro publication was in 1770, when some of the literary productions of Phyllis Wheatley were put in circulation. As early as 1782, melodies ascribed to the American Negro were being printed in Britain. In 1827, Samuel Cornish and John B. Russwurm, Americans, placed their names to the first Negro periodical.

D A V TO HOLD ANNUAL 'FORGET-ME-NOT' DRIVE

To Be Held Sat. Sept. 24

Omaha's Disabled Veterans of the World War, young men 20 years ago are commemorating now the 20th anniversary of Meuse-Argonne Battle. It is a far cry from the days of the Argonne forest to the lack-a-day existence in Omaha, but Omaha's 800 Disabled Veterans will never forget the World War.

Aching bones, arthritis, tubercular lungs, gastric ulcers, searing wounds from mustard gas, blinded by gas and shell, minus arms or legs from high explosives. Many of these men today are not receiving their just benefits from the government because no one has been financially able to assist them in the proper adjustment of their claims.

Baptist Leader Say That Father Devine Is Not God

St. Louis, Sept. 22 (ANP)—Condemning charlatans who prey upon the religious tendencies of the people and confuse them with false doctrines, Dr. L. K. Williams in his sermon the closing day of the National Baptist Convention, struck sharply at the pseudo and "Gods" which masquerade under the cloak of what pretends to be a church.

Observers said that the deliverance was one of the most soul stirring sermons of President Williams' long career.

Dr. Williams preached from Psalm 42:3. Dr. Williams began by saying, "God is our Father." "Father Devine is not God, never created anything, he did not even make anything. He only sings songs he has learned from us, The Christians God is "God Almighty." He is the revealed God and if you will hold its annual Forget-me-not flower sale on the streets of Omaha next Saturday, Sept. 24, for the purpose of raising funds to carry on the necessary work to help their more unfortunate comrades to secure the just compensation due them, thus removing many from our local relief rolls and at the same time be bringing into this community many more dollars. So we urge you to "Wear a For Get Me Not" Saturday, Sept. 24, in tribute to the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

The Disabled Veterans of Omaha still say, "America First", and the present European situation has but one reaction from the Omaha World War Veteran, and that reaction is "Keep America out of War."

want to know—look at Jesus. Our Jesus Christ was born of the Holy Spirit and believers are asked the question set forth. Not only infidels but Saint and Prophets alike have asked the question in this text—"Where is thy God?" This question is a challenge to the faith of the believer when David was a fugitive from his enemies and when some of his foes met him and made fun of his face. The whole World is going wrong, but God is at the trottle yet. The Devil's purpose is to rob Christians of his faith and make him faithless. The Church should get on its knees and protect itself not only from invasion of Satan but from false leadership of cults.

PURGE FAILURE SEEN AS DOOM TO LYNCH BILL

USED RACE ISSUE

Washington.—(ANP)— Failure of President Roosevelt's "purge" of such southern senators as Smith of South Carolina is seen here as a blow to passage of the federal anti-lynching bill at the next session of congress.

Smith and George were two of the bill's greatest opponents, and rode to victory in the recent primary on the race issue. Astute and experienced, they know all the tricks of combating such legislation. Where newly elected southern senator might be just as anxious to defeat the measure, they would be handicapped because of their newness in preventing the bill from coming to a vote as Smith and George did last January.

The result is that the strongest of the southern senators will present the same old unbroken phalanx against the bill which Senators Walker and Van Nuys have promised to bring up again this session of congress.

Stay out of Bradford county politics or take the consequences. This is a white election." The demonstrators burned two crosses.

Sixty Negroes registered for election, largest ever to become eligible vote in this town. They were among the total of 725 qualified to vote.
