CLUBS
ORGANIZATIONS

December 28th was the evening of the Alamo Social Club's Annual Christmas formal at the Dreamland Hall. As the exquisite and lovely gowned ladies danced with their escorts to the swing music of Simon Harold's orchestra, the emblem of the Alamo in green and silver made a glowing background of a crescent moon and scintillating palm trees that gave forth the atmosphere of Hawaii. The younger set featured the Jitterbug during the evening. Out of town visitors were introduced by the president, Mrs. Saybert C. Hanger. Misses Connie Adams, teacher in North Carolina, houseguest of Mr. John Williams; Madams Corrine Williams of Kansas City Mo.; Margaret Dallas McCrany of Chicago, Ill.; Grace Maddox of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Drougerty of Kansas City Mo., and Misses Anne Juanita Bell of Kansas City, and Gwendolyn Bell of Jefferson City.

SOLOMONE GIVE "at home" PARTY

Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Solomon welcomed over 100 guests at an "At Home", New Years Day in their cozy little home on Maple St. This was the first "At Home" to be held among the Young married set. Mrs. Solomon who is quite artistic, arranged the beautiful decorations herself. The dining room table center piece was exquisite and exotic in itself, consisting of blue and white chrysanthemums arranged on a mirror. Tall tapering blue candles formed a guard for the bouquet. Napkins of a deep blue, candies, tea cookies, frozen eggnog, in blue and silver, served on a silver service on one end, while a silver coffee service at the other completed the artistic arrangement of the table. The buffet decorations completed the exquisite arrangements in the dining room by the tall silver candles in pale blue candelabras on each end while white vases filled with white and pink chrysanthemums stood in the center.

Guests registered in the guest log in the den which was decorated with American Beauty Roses. In the living room an occasional table stood with white chrysanthemums, pink carnations, and lavender. The whole setting made one of the most charming and artistic pictures ever seen. Madams C. Solomon, Lizzie Buford, Jessica Wright and Miss Virginia Jackson did honors at the table. Mrs. Saybert C. Hanger assisted at the door and registered the guests. Mrs. Shelton assisted in the dining room. Messrs. Nelson, Thomas and Leroy Franklin of Des Moines were out of town guests.

QUACKS GIVE PARTY

On December 27, as one entered the Dreamland Hall, the beautiful and artistic emblem in black and silver of the Quack club greeted the guests. The shaded lights shed a soft glow over the charming and sophisticated gowned ladies and their escorts as they danced to the swing band of the former "High Hatters". The Quack Club is the largest industrial club of the YWCA and the community. Out of town guests introduced were: Mrs. Katie F. Bell, mother of our popular and efficient "Y", secretary Miss I. Roberta Bell, Misses Connie Adams of Penn., house guests

The Sacrifice Club of Bethel A.M.E. church held its Annual Xmas Party at the home of Mrs. A. Bowler on December 27th. A very nice program was rendered by members of the club. Mrs. Floyd Cloud was the chairman of the entire party and program. Joy to the world was used as an opening by the whole group after which Mrs. Maggie Smith, vice president of the club, read a paper on the "History and Organization of the Sacrifice Club." Mrs. Elsie Embrey gave a very lovely instrumental solo "Star of the East." Next came a reading by Mrs. Martin, entitled "Home Sweet Home." Mrs. Grace Lewis, Mrs. Leona Lee, and Mrs. F. Cloud joined together and sang "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem" with Mrs. W. A. Camper as pianist. Mrs. Martin then gave another interesting and amusing reading. Mrs. Cloud sang the "Prayer Perfect" by Stenson with Mrs. Elsie Embrey playing the piano. Mrs. W. G. Camper, wife of the pastor, gave us her interpretation of the "Fifth Nocturne" by Leback. "Silent Night" was rendered by the trio consisting of Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Lee, and Mrs. Cloud with Mrs. Camper again at the piano. Our president, Mrs. A. Bowler, gave her favorite reading for us, "The House by the Side of the Road," after which we had remarks by our pastor, Rev. W. A. Camper. Miss Leah McKinney then acted as Santa Claus by delivering the presents which members of the club exchanged. Refreshments were then served. There was an abundance of Ice Cream and Cake and also mints and nuts.

At this time we extend our heartfelt sympathy to our secretary,

Mrs. Lula Thornton, who is mourning the loss of her sister who passed away on Friday December 23.

Happy New Year to everyone.
