

SEX-IFIED MOVIES

At the risk of being called a prude, this writer wishes to register his objection to the picture "The Birth of a Baby" recently presented in Richmond.

It is true that hitherto much of sex education has been given in the streets and imbibed in the streets by the youth of the land.

"The Birth of a Baby" as a cross section of movie education may not appear ill'ic or undesirable, but as a trend it is horrible!

Every mother must go to bring into this world a child. Everybody knows in a way the part the physician plays in the delivery of a child.

It would be a fine picture for expectant mothers and prospective fathers but for the general public it is simply another play up of sex for the commercializing of one of humanity's most sacred passions.

One man was asked his objection to restaurant food and he replied, "restaurant food is not cooked to seat but to sell."

Somewhat ought to call a halt to this debasement of the only passion make life worth living.

Calvin's Newspaper Service TESTED RECIPE

By Frances Lee Barton

THE members of my family call this "mother's diplomatic pie." For when strawberries first arrive and the whole household unite in clamoring for big helpings of strawberries, there is a struggle between economy and my desire to be accommodating.

Fresh Strawberry Pie Glacé 3 cups hulled strawberries; 1/2 cup sugar; 1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin; 1 1/2 cups hot water; dash of salt; 1 baked 9-inch pie shell.

Combine strawberries and sugar and let stand 10 minutes. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add salt and pour over berries. Chill. When slightly thickened, turn into cold pie shell. Chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

next two years require matching. Thus, there is a total of $6,616,460.00 which must be matched with state funds if Nebraska it to make full use of the federal funds available during the biennium.

If the present rate of financing is continued, Engineer Tilley estimates that Nebraska will be able to match by June 30, 1941, approximately all except $6,500,000.00.

And reduction in the present rate of highway finances will effect this in direct proportion. Translated into mileage of finished roads, 100 additional miles of concrete slab, 400 additional miles of bituminous mat or between 800 and 12,000 additional miles of gravel farm-to-market roads would be added in Nebraska if the state highway funds were available by June, 1939 for matching by the federal government.

Loss to Nebraska labor totals more than two million dollars, since 90 cents of every dollar of the highway fund would be spent for labor.

ON THE AIR By Sallye Bell for ANP Last week students of Washington's Armstrong high school were featured on a program representing the fourth of a series of "Student Radio Workshop" programs under the auspices of Station WJSV and the Washington Post and with the cooperation of Washington's board of education.

The school's 55 piece boys' band played John Phillip Sousa's "Thunderer" and the 18 voice girls' chorus sang "Irish Love Song;" Craig Wesley played a violin solo, and talks were given by Helen Morton, senior at the high school who spoke on "Crime and Youth" and Francis A. Gregory, teacher of applied electricity at Armstrong whose subject was "Industrial Arts in the High School." Dramatic skit of the program was a scene from "The Beggar and the King." The program was produced under the supervision of Mrs. Estelle P. Webster, music teacher at Armstrong high school, and Mrs. Elizabeth W.

Smith, teacher of dramatics and English Those participating in the program are members of the Students' Radio guild of Armstrong high.

I'm sure Washingtonians enjoyed this broadcast by Negro students, and I only hope they didn't keep their enjoyment secret, but immediately wrote letters of appreciation to station WJSV, officials of the high school and board of education. It is only by audibly voicing, you know, that we can let them know that we want to hear more Negro talent.

M. Arthur Gilbert, concert was guest at his alma mater, Los Angeles' Sumner high from which he graduated in June, 1936. Mr. Gilbert is assistant to the musical consultant of radio station KFUA, and may be heard Mondays and Fridays featuring piano selections from 7:45 to 8 A. M. and plays daily for the Concordia Chapel from 9:30 to 9:45 A. M. His other broadcasts are: "Organ Reveries" on Friday from 10:30 to 10:45 p. m.; and "From the Organ Loft," 10 to 10:30 p. m., Thursday and Saturday, which is heard over the mutual chain. If west coast fans are getting his programs, I hope they are letting him know much they like him.

If you listen to "Her Honor, Nancy James," dramatic sketches on Columbia network Mondays thru Fridays (WABC-CBS, 12:15 to 12:30 P. M., EST), you'll be interested to know that GEE GEE, colored housekeeper in the sketches, is one actress who doesn't have to change her name for the script's sake. Her real life nickname is Miss Gee Gee James. She was christened Regina Theodore James, but ever since she was a little girl in Philadelphia, she's been called GEE GEE.

Her dramatic career began one summer when she won a dance contest. A producer engaged her, then 14, for "Charleston Dances," in Wilmington, Del. When vacation was over, she resumed her studies at John Halahan Catholic Girls' High school, where she became captain of the first colored professional basketball team in cham of Canada. The decision was Philadelphia. After graduating from high school, she sang with Claude Hopkins' band in Atlantic City and Los Angeles, then came to New York in "Hot Rhythm." This season she was seen on Broadway with Arelen Francis in "Michael Drops In."

In private life Miss James is Mrs. George Wiltshire, a mother of a six year old daughter whose name is of all things, GEE GEE.

These little biographic sketches of stars always make them a bit more interesting, and I hope you readers will tune in on "Her Honor, Nancy James" and listen to GEE GEE, and then drop her a line and tell her how you like it. I know she'd be glad to hear from you, so how about it?

Don't look now, but Zora Neale Hurston was interviewed over the air last Wednesday morning over the NBC network, station WLW Cincinnati, at 10:30 a. m. Miss Hurston is in Cincinnati for a series of commercial broadcasts, and may remain to continue her radio work until the latter part of May. Earl Hines and his orchestra played the Frog Hop ballroom, St. Joseph, Mo., and Skyton, ballroom, Sioux City, Ia., March 11 and 12.

GOOD NEBR. ROADS—INCREASED LABOR ONE DOLLAR IN GASOLINE TAX REVENUE MEANS TWO DOLLARS IN GOOD NEBR. HIGHWAYS

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT DOUBLES NEBRASKA'S ROAD REVENUE Pending in the Nebraska legislature are numerous bills intended to divert some of the gasoline tax revenue for purposes other than the building and maintenance of Nebraska's highways.

Today, State Engineer A. C. Tilley anticipates that by June, 1939 there will be $1,175,000.00 of federal aid funds available for Nebraska highways—but which won't be matched due to present inroads on state highway funds.

Adding to the federal aid which will be unmatched by June 30, 1939 the federal authorizations for the
