Hanger President; Robert Jackson, secretary, Mr. Jasper Brown, treasurer.

The annual Meeting of the Urban League Community Center, was held Tuesday Feb. 14, at the Center. Reports were read and approved. The names of board members elected were read. At the end of the business reports a play in pantomime was presented by girls and boys from the different groups in club week at the Center. The play was written by B. B. Squires, executive secretary of the Urban League and directed by Eugene Murray, supervisor of Recreation. The play depicted the Negro in his progress from his entering the U. S. as a slave to the present day. The success he has accomplished in all phases of culture and what that culture has added to the success of the progress that has made the U. S. one of the outstanding countries in the world. Mr. Squires broadcasted the story as the cast gave an outstanding realistic performance in pantomime. Musical numbers, sung by the group were "Water Boy" and "Steal Away to Jesus." Miss Edrose Willis, accompanist at the piano. The play ended with actors and audience singing Negro Anthem "Life Every Voice and Sing."

An exhibit of Art and Hand work made by the classes under the efficient leadership of Mr. E. E. Murray was presented at the end of the play. A large appreciative audience was present.

"Interracial Review"

Now In New Home

New York, May 4 (C)—The Interracial Review, published by the Catholic Interracial Council of New York, George K. Hudson, editor is now in its new home, 20 Vesey street, lower Manhattan, having been moved from 220 W. 42nd street in midtown. The new location is "back of Old St. Peter's on Barclay street," the Review chronicles in its current issue.

"St. Peter's" says the Review, "is the mother of Catholicism in New York city having celebrated its sesqui-centennial anniversary in November, 1935. It enjoys a unique position in the story of race relations in the U. S. For 66 years until July 2, 1853, Pierre Toussaint, saintly Catholic Negro and confidential adviser of New York's fashion leaders of his day, worshipped at that church. He occupied Pew No. 25."
