THIS WEEK IN RELIGION & THOUGHT

by ROBERT L. MOODY "American Jim Crow Cars For German Jews"

A recent editorial from the New York Sun quotes a German newspaper, Das Schwarze Karps'.

In the world's freest country where the president storms against the devilish invention of race conscious, it is not permitted for a Negro citizen equally to sit or to have a berth next to a white person in a train, even if the white person may be only a sewer cleaner and the Negro a World Boxing Champion or otherwise a national hero.

This democratic example shows Germany also how to solve the problem of traveling foreign Jews. In the world's freest country (USA) members of a despised race are seated with their racial comrades and not whites even if they flaunt a British passport or a French citizenship certificate.

How the Germans humiliate us in their pretended imitation of us. We find no pleasure in their sarcastic remarks about our beloved country, but we must bow shamefully before the truth, though it was not spoken in love.

White Tenants Block Jim-Crow Eviction

New York, July 13 (CNA)—New York's tenant organizations this week were celebrating a partial victory against landlord discrimination following a court decision granting a Negro family the maximum six months stay of eviction.

The landlord, the estate of Max Eisman, 271 Madison Ave., sought to evict the Rev. Alger L. Adams and his wife, Jesse Wells, a social worker from 71 Lexington Ave., because of their race.

In a ruling following a legal battle royal, Municipal Court Justice Charles J. Garrison granted the couple the maximum time extension allowed in disposes proceedings to find another apartment.

At the outset of the hearing, Justice Garrison attempted to minimize the jim-crow aspect of the case, asserting that the case was "just another ordinary landlord-tenant case."

Sharp exception this analysis was taken by Oscar Albert, executive secretary of the City Wide Tenants Council and Barney Rosenstein, Council lawyer. Albert termed the law on which the case was based, which permits a landlord to evict a tenant without cause as a "hold over from feudalism", and insisted that the case was clearly one involving jim-crow discrimination.

alism", and insisted that the case was clearly one involving jim-crow discrimination.

The Adamses moved two years ago into the building at 71 Lexington Ave., which is also occupied by nine other families, all white. The new tenants got along nicely with the white tenants. However, the landlords, in May 1938, suddenly sought to evict the couple without warning or explanation. The white tenants rallied to protest the discriminatory act and signed a petition of protest, causing the landlords to withdraw the disposes.

Two weeks ago, the Adams were again served with eviction papers.

Race Problems Linked with Special Issues of Day. A. C. P. Conference

Richmond, Va. July 13—Judge William Hastie told the thirtieth annual N. A. A. C. clear that the "Fair Labor Standards Act is concerned with the Negro only as a wage worker."

"The Act has and will continue to have a tremendous effect on the economic status of the Negro worker," he said, "because this worker has changed from agricultural to industrial employment to a high degree during the last twenty years."

Emphasizing the significance of a race's full cultural development being built upon economic security, Mr. Dykstra concluded. "Every time the Negro's status has improved economically, he has increased his cultural contributions to American life become a better citizen and a better neighbor."

It is becoming increasingly futile to think and act solely in terms of racial betterment," the jurist said. "While the defensive strategy of the association nationally still be directed largely at racial disadvantages, our offensive strategy, our sustained and sustaining program must increasingly emphasize and embody the recognition of common interests across the color line."

WAGE HOUR LAW AIDS NEGROES, SAYS OFFICIAL

Richmond, Va. July 13—Because the Fair Labor Standards "seeks to protect all workers, of every racial group, from exploitation," it gives to the Negro worker a protection that will allow him to make his fullest contribution to American life on a material basis that is built up through sound economy.

This was the sentiment expressed by S. H. Dykstra, representative of the Wage and Hour division of the U.S. Department of Labor, in an address before the thirtieth annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here, June 28.

Speaking before that session of the conference having to do with economic problems of the South, Mr. Dykstra said: "It has been the lot of the Negro in the United States to be a marginal worker. That fact more than any other, has conditioned the development of the race, economically and culturally. Were it not true there would be little need for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People."

Tracing this development from the slavery period in America, and showing how racial animosities have come to have a place in American life mainly through this false economic position to which the Negro worker has been relegated, the labor official made it

Disorderly at Allen Uni. Trustee Meet

CHURCH OFFICIAL CONDEMNS FACULTY AND STUDENTS FOR THEIR ATTITUDES

Columbia, S. C. July 13 (ANP)—Dr. L. H. Hemmingway, secretary of Church Extension of the AME church with his office in Washington, D. C. was "hooded and prevented from speaking before the Allen university trustees by a howling mob-spirited group of lay trustees, and his speech frustrated in the meeting of the board of trustees last Wednesday in Columbia.

Hemmingway praised the efforts of South Carolina who had just placed on the table $20,000 for education the May Day Endowment collections from the field, referred to the recent strike pulled at Allen and said that "it is a sorry group of professors and instructors in any college who will allow the students to have a strike and not stop it." This created a stir that virtually broke up the trustees meeting.

The lay-delegates to the next General Conference claim that they will organize their forces against the re-election of Dr. Hemmingway to his present place as Church Extension head.

"We are a land of many cultures and many races and everyone, the Scandinavian and the Italian, the German and the Jew, the Briton and the Slav, the Negro and the Indian has contributed his full share of mind and muscle to the upbuilding of our American civilization," the hard-hitting New Dealer, told the graduates "We must take pride in everything worth while that our various ethnic groups have given us and we must never—if we are to remain free, peaceful and united—permit the spread of poisonous and idiotic notions of 'superior' and 'inferior' Americans. We are all Americans, members of the same commonwealth fellow workers in the same society."

Ickes in his address referred to the vital connections between democracy and education

"Democracy means the political freedom of the person; education implies intellectual freedom, freedom from prejudice, from bad taste, from self-deception. To be ignorant and at the same time free is a contradiction in terms. Deception has always battened upon darkness."

A similar note was struck by Governor Lehman and Mayor LaGuardia, who also addressed the graduates. Governor Lehman pointed out:

"Our nation is composed of people of different stocks and many love of liberty."

Sec'y Ickes Hits Race Hatred

New York, July 13 (CNA)—Addressing the 3,500 graduates of the adult classes of the New York City Board of Education, Secretary of the Interior Harold L.
