EXTRA EXTRA POLICE RAID ALLEY CRAP GAME

About 12 policemen swooped down on an alley crap game about 9 of the local boys was indulging in a little alley golf when some one called the cops. Although the cops had the alley surrounded from all angles it looked like all the boys are going to take a ride. But all the boys decided to run for it. Why, those boys run so fast they made Jesse Owens look like he was standing still. Doodle rey jump over a 9 foot fence without the aid of a pole. Esther Rochardson run so fast and his feet got so hot he lost both of his shoes. No, he didn't stop to pick them up, he kept right on going barefooted. I am willing to back any of those boys in the next A.A.U. for the 100 yard dash. Any of them can run the 100 in 8 flat providing that a cop is the starter.

TWO LOCAL MEN FORM PARTNERSHIP

John Riley and Joe Owens made their business venture the other day. Mr. Riley, the silent partner, what I mean by silent is Joe is the Boss. They run their business on a percentage basis after Joe deducts the expense they split the remainder 50-50. The first day receipts they took in 2.50. Here's how Joe deducted the expenses: 98 cents for gas, 12 cents for oil, 22 cents wear and tear on tires, 25 cents parking space in front of HM and use of telephone, 25 cents for fixture of one flat tire left: a balance of 68 cents to be split 50-10 between 2 partners net 34 cents. A piece Mr. Riley didn't like the way Mr. Owen conduct the business so he promptly resign for he swears there was only one pint of gas put in the car for 2 days and no oil put in for one week. But figures don't lie. Mr. Owen looking for another partner. Just write to Mr. Joe Owen Care of the HM Buffet reference required.

Down to Lincoln Nebr. Thursday night witness a ball game between Kansas City monarchs and the Chicago American Giants. The K. C. boys won 3 to 2. The crowd was mostly from Omaha. Too bad we got to travel 118 miles to see a good ball game. Times may be tough, but we can always manage to get hold of dough if we want to go some where. Ernest Ritchie had a lead, Al Brewer had a lead, Mr. Bob Samuel and his brand new V8 carried Mr. James Jewell, Mr. Burt Caldwell, Mr. Tootie, Richard Stanley. The car ran so smooth, ride like you are floating in the air, Mr. Mauley and his brother both was in attendance with large hosts and lots of fair sex was there from Omaha also.

DOCTOR JONES ON THE SPOT

Doctor Wesley Jones noted physician out to witness a base ball game at 16th and Boyd St. Sunday afternoon just another fan he thought. But things begin to happen. First a foul ball careened off

Near Riot on 22nd & Burdette Street, Monday

by Richard Stanley

A game between two bitter rivals, Hezzie Stars and Mose Ranson HSS broke up in the first of the 7th inning in a free for all fight. Freddie Harris one of the outstanding ball players was hit on the head with a baseball bat by John Harvey one time star player of the old Tuxedo Ball team. Freddie friends took him to a doctor. He was not seriously hurt. John Harvey boasted that he could whip any man on the HSS bench. His challenge was quickly accepted by Freddie who squared off and let go a right that knocked Mr. Harvey down. He stepped back to let John get up when John decided to get up he grabbed a baseball bat and socked Freddie on the head. This all started on 3rd base when Tapley was safe on a bad throw. A little misunderstanding between Tapley and Wm. "Penn" Franklin arose, then Hall of the HSS, short stopper cafe ovey to intervene and he and Hezzie Stewart begin to fight which was quickly stopped before any damage was done. The playing field was a mass of humanity was impossible to restore order. After about 30 minutes of free for all the cops arrived. The first question the cops asked was who had guns. There was no guns had by anybody if they did there was none in in sight then. The cops went on to remark that they would stop the game from being played on 22 Burdette I'm not sanctioning fights or any unlawful act but why condemn 15000 for what 4 or 5 people do. What we need is a policeman to keep the crowds back so some of those kids and grown ups won't get hurt. They crowd on the field so thick the players don't have enough room to run after the ball. We need a policeman to stop those young kids who specialize in making trouble by snatching bags of peanuts off the vander wagons. Two kids (white) were selling peanuts. Eight kids raided them and took them all. We don't approve of such action. That's why we want law and order. We have 2 or 3 thousand people over there every Monday, Wednesday and Friday and the public enjoy the games. So why let a few break up the pleasure of the majority. I am sure if the Park Commissioner is asked he will afford the right protection.

HAPPENINGS ON 22nd & BURDETTE ST.

Wednesday, July 26

Hezzie Muffins ran the youth-ful 4C something awful. The score 7 to 4. Somehow it seems the 4C club just can't beat hezzies stars, but they put forth every effort to beat the HSS. On paper the HSS have the best team or is that the HSS play the Stars too cheap. The 4C team hustle all the time every team in the league play awful hard against the HSS but don't seem to beat down as hard when they meet the 4C Woodson Center or the Stars. Looks like they get a real kick out of knocking Mose outfits over.

Mose's HSS beat Woodson Center 3-2 in a well played game but didn't score the winning run until the 6th. This boy Franklin is missed awful bad on 3rd base. If Franklin on 3 base, Freddie Harris on 2nd base and Perry Harris fifth man Vanis in center, Milton Moore in right, put Cowboy in left then the HSS will be hard to beat. They have hitting power and the best infield. In fact they got the best team only need a few minor changes. There is no use of talking moral support is needed to win ball games. It seem like all the 1 or 2 thousand fans pull and root against Mose but he keep on winning.

On July 28 Hezzie Stars won a raggedy game from Woodson Center score 8 to 2. Woodson Center is like a horse in and out. They play unbeatable ball on day come back the next and play a sorrowful game. They got a real good team. In fact they got the best season player on either team. Weak on pitchers. Their best bet is Ace. But you got to catch him right or he is wilder than male lion in Africa. On the same day, the 4C beat the HSS in a weird contest score 12 to 9. The game had more thrills than you could have witnessed in a circus. First HSS in the lead, then the 4C in the lead. That game was any body's contest until the last man was out. That was a very hard game for Mose to lose. Hall that brilliant short stopper made a sensational catch when Doodle rey fumbled an easy fly ball. That Hall was right to catch it after it bounce out of Doodle rey hand to save 2 more scores. The scores would indicate a roten game but on the contrary, the game was very good, packed with excitement and thrills, with a huge crowd in attendance, about 2000 fans. The outfield was packed with cars made ground rules necessary. What they need over at 22nd Burdett St. is a cop to keep the fans out of the playing field. It takes up too much of Mart's time to keep the crowd back and begin to get dark before the games are finished. The smaller kids crowd around the base line and the ball player have very sharp spikes on their shoes. If one of the players stepped on one of the kids the results would be serious injury maybe a big doctor bill or a broken leg. Mart homas does the best he can to keep them back but as soon as he starts to umpire the game they crawl right back and the older fans crowd the players off the bench. Maybe if we all get together and ask the Park Commissioner to build a larger stand, you can't tell, he may do it. Also ask him for some slides and other playground equipment so the smaller kids can enjoy themselves while the game is in progress. Sooner or later some of them kids are going to get hurt, so lets get together and ask for what we want. They have all sorts of play grounds in the white section for a wading pool and swings at 22nd Burdett St. Maybe Charley Payne can help our cause also the State Senator.

Monday, July 31. The 4I beat Woodson Center 6 to 5 in a five inning game. The game was packed with thrills and frills.

Mr. George Bryant, Director of the Omaha Civic band was on hand to dish out his popular music. The crowd was well pleased. Just as many listened to the band as witnessed the game. Thank you, Mr. Bryant, don't let a little incident like what happened keep you from coming back soon.

EXTRA! EXTRA! EXTRA!

Hezzie Rag Muffins is not rag muffin any more. They have got Out of the Barrell. Hezzie out of the Barrell Muffins played some wonderful ball until the fatal 7th. I am wondering where those jersey come from. They are so I don't know. Maybe Pitty Pat had some Records fingered the gorgeously even belt and smiled. At length he said. "Believe it or not, Leo but this is an Inca belt." Zaner grinned tolerantly. "Now I'll tell you; what's it doing out of its showcase?" "I know this sounds a bit incredible," Records spoke again, "but I'll bet every penny that I own that this particular belt is woven after the design of VIRACOCOA—the sea foam god of the Incas." Leo played with the shiny blade of his hunting knife with deliberate movements. At last he faced Records and asked seriously: "What makes you believe this so strongly?" "Listen, Leo," replied Records, half excitedly, "I have been studying Inca lore for many years and everything which I have read points to the fact that this belt was made by an Inca Indian. And nothing can convince me that it wasn't." "Hm," said Leo. "You certainly are sure of yourself. Well, you are supposed to know your archaeology; so I guess that you know what you are talking about. And it's possible that the big fellow whom we fought recently could be an Inca warrior." "I'm not very sure about the Inca part," interrupted the older man. "But I do know that he has plenty of warrior in him; my head still hurts." Zaner rubbed his own head. "You said it—that Indian certainly could take care of himself." The two explorers entered the land of dreams just as a huge black blanket enveloped the jungles and turned the brilliant day into a solid black night. They were tired and sleep came easy. Near midnight four stalwart Incas entered their quarters and grasped the adventurers' arms before they awakened!

Lou Gerhig Praises Louis

New York Aug. 3 (ANP)—Lou Gehrig, while being honored July 4th at Kankee stadium, took time out to praise Joe Louis and tell reporters he rooted for the champion in the recent fight with Tony Galento. "I rooted for Louis", said the great first baseman who has been forced on the sidelines because of illness. "He hasn't made a move that hasn't been dignified in his whole career. He's been every inch a gentleman and an example for the kids of this nation. He isn't photographed surrounded by beer bottles and with his shirt tail sticking out."

A. Now here's just the thing for hot formal nights. It's simple in lines, but attractive as the deuce, and should look equally well on anyone, no matter what complexion. For best results it should be done in white mousseline de soie, with a black crepe under skirt. Note the interesting neckline, and how the yoke comes down under the wide belt and flows down to floor length.

B. Bathing suits are snappy, attractive and brief this year, so here's one in keeping with the general trend. It's in a form fitting lastex (of any color you like best, as long as it doesn't scream at you) cut rather low in front and in a V shape in the back. It laces both sides (in a contrasting color if you like) right up to the waist. But for goodness sake make sure the lacing cord is durable, or it might be embarrassing no end.
