RACE HARD HIT BY WPA LAY-OFFS

New York, August 10 (CNA)—Hundreds of Negroes were among the 75,000 WPA workers ordered laid off this week by local WPA officials in complying with the provisions of the Woodrum 1940 Relief Bill. Those scheduled for dismissals have been on the projects for over 18 months. Besides these, approximately 700,000 more are slated for the axe throughout the nation as the work-relief agency made plans to reduce its rolls.

The dismissals to be staggered ployed on the Writers, Art, Music, over a six week period, were being felt especially by Negroes em. and Historical Records projects. It was pointed out that these agencies have been particularly helpful to Negro professionals, and that their separation from these projects will cause irreparable harm to the skill of these workers. Several hundred Negroes already have been fired from the Federal Theatre when that project was ordered liquidated by the Woodrum Act.

Meanwhile a survey of the Harlem business community showed an alarming drop in the volume of trade. One restaurant owner located on West 135th Street reported that the number of his customers has declined considerably. He expressed grave concern over the future of his small establishment should the drastic reductions go through. His fears were indicative of the growing alarm in the community.

Heads of the Workers Alliance declared they would make a special drive to fight for re-instatement of the dismissed Negro workers, taking into consideration the fact that they would be the last to receive employment in private industry even were private indus-

John D. Thomas Welcomes Visitors To New York

New York, Aug. 10 (C)—Genia John D. Thomas, owner of Little Gray Shop No. 2, 2465 Seventh Avenue, is nursing a sore hand these days from extending the "glad hand" to World's Fair visitors who come to his shop when they reach Harlem. Mr. Thomas announced months ago he would extend free courtesies to visitors such as allowing them to use his shop as their mail address and call for their mail on arrival in town. Many visitors took him up on the offer and he is busy sorting the mail for customers.

Geography In Stamps

ALBANIA, MONTENEGRO and SERBIA
 These three adjoining states once were independent nations and as such, issued their own postage. Now, the first of them ALBANIA, has been annexed by Italy, while the others, following the World War, were merged with other Balkan states to form the present kingdom of JUGOSLAVIA.

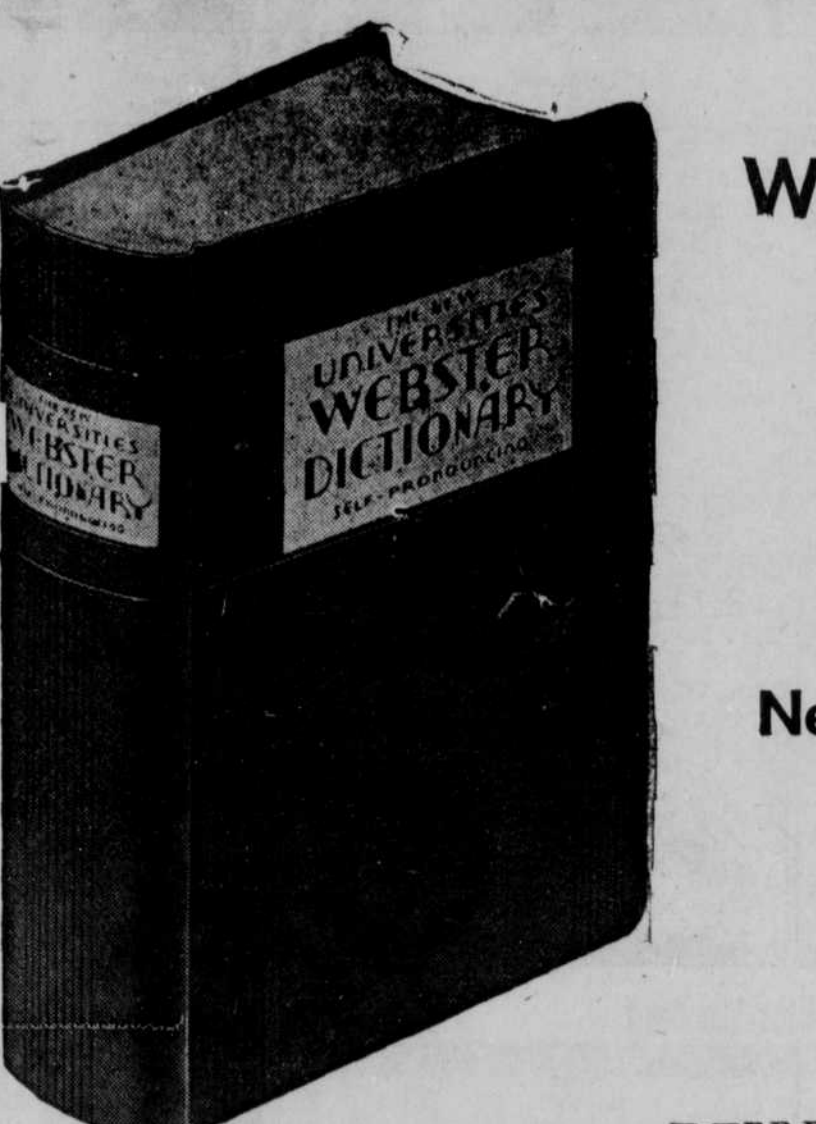

The postal history of ALBANIA dates only from 1913 when special surcharged Turkish stamps were issued for use there. Following the outbreak of the World War the country was occupied by Italian troops and declared independent. It remained a republic until 1928 when the government was changed to a monarchy. Numerous stamp issues appeared practically each year until 1930—then came a lull for five years, and another of two years to 1937 when the 25th anniversary of the Proclamation of Independence from Turkey was commemorated by a special issue.

The stamp issues of MONTENEGRO, though covering a period of nearly forty years, from 1874 to the World War, were relatively few in number. Moreover, such large quantities of these stamps were distributed through dealers that practically all of them are available at very low prices.

The same thing is true of a majority of the stamps of SERBIA, although the first two issues (1869 and 1868) are relatively scarce and hence command much higher prices.

Collectors of stamps of ALBANIA should be advised that Italy maintained post offices in the Albanian cities of Durazzo, Scutari and Valona for a number of years preceding the World War and that specially surcharged Italian stamps were in use there. These special issues are listed by Scott under "Italian Offices Abroad."

The former Turkish province of EPIRUS also should be mentioned in this connection since a part of it subsequently was incorporated into Albania. Several issues of Epirus stamps came out in 1914, two of them being for the city of Chimara, on the Adriatic Sea, and the third for the inland city of Koritza. Epirus stamps are plentiful and inexpensive.
