Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks, and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

Not since that dramatic day in March 1933 when President Roosevelt, having taken his oath of office issued the Bank Holiday proclamation as the first act of his administration, has the New Deal been in so difficult a position as it is now. And never, politically speaking has New Deal power and prestige been at so low an ebb.

That, at least, is the opinion of practically all newspapermen and publicists, including those who support the Roosevelt Administration as well as those who oppose it. The president personally may still hold a high place in the esteem of the people. But some of the most important of the "reforms" and "experiments" which he fathered have fallen on extremely evil days.

In the words of Time, the President has recently taken "a series of blows such as no President of the U. S. ever suffered and survived." First blow was the strong congressional fight against renewing his powers over money.

simply couldn't be mustered. Congress was not yet through with its undeclared war on the White House. The Administration's $4,000,000,000 "self-liquidating" lending and spending program was a mere shadow of itself after it had run the gamut of congressional resolutions and amendments. The foreign credit proposal was deleted. A clause was inserted barring loans for projects competing with private business. Proposed appropriations were cut all along the line. Even the words "Self Liquidating" were removed, by Committee demand, from the bill's title.

Worst blow of all, perhaps from the political point of view, came with the passage of the Hatch bill. Introduced last session by Senator Hatch the measure had been buried in Committee. This session Representative Demsey went to work and forced it out into the open. Gist of the bill is to make it illegal for any federal officer-holders, with certain exceptions such as the President, his aides, cabinet members, etc., to use their job influence to raise money or to influence votes. It is obvious what this means to any federal political machine. It means that political control will largely depart from Washington to become centered in state capitals and other local subdivisions. It means that comparatively few federal jobholders will be delegates to the next Democratic nominating convention, where close to half were at the last convention. It means that the President's direct power over the Democratic party has been greatly reduced.

And even this wasn't all. Immensely important New Deal creation is the National Labor Relations Board. And the House voted, by almost two-to-one majority, to investigate it to discover whether it has unduly favored workers over employers, has exceeded its lawful powers, and has favored the CIO over the AF of L.

This isn't all there is to Congress' revolt against the New Deal, but it touches the high spots. Of immense importance is the fact that the opposition comes principally from within the party. The Democrats are literally torn asunder. Leadership, especially in the Senate, has largely collapsed and party discipline is almost nonexistent. Party whips have given up, discouraged, during recent weeks when trying to get "the boys" into line.

On the Republican side of the fence, the votes, of course have been cast against the New Deal. But the Republicans have rarely taken the offensive in fighting proposed legislation. Instead, they have followed the plan laid down by canny Majority Leader McNary had a hard time keeping his men under control. But he did, and the wisdom of his plan, in the view of hardened political observers, has been proven. New Dealers cannot say their program was sabotaged by the opposition party as they could have if Republicans had been in the first line trenches during the fight.

It is harvest time in Europe. And so for the moment, there are no new major crises. Men who are needed to bring in the harvest cannot be set to marching and fighting.

TESTED RECIPE
By Frances Lee Barton

LUSCIOUS chocolate ice box cake, far from difficult to make; just the thing we like to eat as a summer supper treat. Read this recipe a while; clip it for your "special" file. But don't file it till you make—one delicious ice box cake! Company comes a while you're away—this cake always saves the day.

Luscious Chocolate Ice Box Cake
4 squares unweetened chocolate; 1/2 cup sugar; dash of salt; 1/4 cup hot water; 1 tablespoon cold water; 1 teaspoon granulated gelatin; 4 egg yolks; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 4 egg whites, stiffly beaten; 1/2 cup cream, whipped; 3 dozen lady fingers.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sugar, salt, and hot water, stirring until sugar is dissolved and mixture blended. Add cold water to gelatin and mix. Add to hot chocolate mixture and stir until gelatin is dissolved, then cook until mixture is smooth and well thickened. Remove from boiling water; add egg yolks, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Place over boiling water and cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add vanilla; cool. Fold into egg whites. Chill. Fold in whipped cream. Line bottom and sides of mold with waxed paper. Arrange lady fingers on bottom and sides of mold. Add this layer of chocolate mixture, then arrange lady fingers and chocolate mixture in alternate layers, topping with chocolate mixture. Cut off lady fingers around sides of mold and arrange cut pieces on chocolate mixture. Chill 12 to 24 hours in refrigerator. If desired, add 1/2 cup finely cut walnut meats to chocolate mixture before turning into mold. Unmold. Serves 12.

M. K. G.—Do you think that I am doing the right thing to let my niece stay here in my home? I am terribly worried about this matter.

Ans: Your niece is NOT IN LOVE with your husband but if it makes you unhappy to see them carry on, arrange at once for her to get another place to stay. There is no need to keep anyone in your home if it has a tendency to make you unhappy, so stop this matter right where it is before trouble does arise between you and your husband.

I. L. W.—I am thinking of taking a course of art at home and wonder if I will be successful in it?

Ans: The course would help you. But you wouldn't have work after you completed the course. I favor your taking something that you could depend on as a future profession and I don't believe it will be art work.

G. R.—I'm corresponding with a married man and I wish to know if he tells me the truth and will he do anything to please me. Does he love me as he says and should I put all my confidence in him?

Ans: Be your age, you act like some thirteen year old girl instead of 26 year old. This married man will never mean anything to you and if you want to find yourself in a lot of trouble just continue on with him and you are bound to be made unhappy. Why don't you go with a single boy.

E. K.—What does my husband do with his money and where does he go and where are his shorts?

Ans: He left his shorts at the same place he left his hat and also where he leaves the largest portion of his money. You had better give him a piece of your mind and put a stop to his frolicing around.

R. C. B.—Do I stand a chance of getting this job at the club where I worked last winter? How can I find out?

Ans: You stand an excellent chance of getting back on there the first of October. You had better call the Manager or go by to see him right away. Let him know you are waiting for your old job back.

H. T. S.—I seem to be just crazy in love with my lady friend and I wish to know how I stand with her?

Ans: This girl likes you, but she isn't as much in love with you as you seem to be with her. You are mighty nice to her but I don't think that she appreciates you as much as she should. Don't let yourself fall too deeply in love until you feel more assured of her.

M. E. C.—Will my daughter overcome the spells she is having and will she ever overcome them?

Ans: Her health is quite poor right now. If she were to get the best of medical treatment for a period of a few months, I feel that she will be well again. She is young and should react to treatment rapidly.

G. K.—Please tell me if the man I have been keeping company with loves me?

Ans: Yes, he does. He also would like for you to be his wife and is anxious for it to take place soon too.

On Monday morning, Aug. 21, at 9 o'clock, Rev. G. A. Stams, Rector of St. Philips Episcopal Church, celebrated a nuptial mass for Mr. and Mrs. Otis Armand Hudson who were married there on Sunday. Members of the families of the bride and groom were also present. The party was afterwards entertained at breakfast by Mrs. E. R. West at her home 2916 Decatur St.

Mrs. Abbe Chase of 2515 1/2 Grant Street has been on the sick list for about a week.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES
NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK is the only city in America that contains 5 COUNTIES

NEW YORK'S POPULATION (7,600,000) is the largest of any city in the world, except Greater London, with 8,600,000.

NEW YORK COUNTY has the smallest area of any county in America—only 22 sq. miles.

TODD HILL, on Staten Island, has the highest altitude along the Atlantic Coast south of Maine.

Mrs. Berton of Oakland, Calif., was among the one who lost her husband in the train wreck. She stopped over in Omaha and visited about an hour with Mrs. Leon Moore. Mrs. Berton was carrying her husband's remains to Mississippi for burial. She left on the 8:30 o'clock train Friday night August 18.

Little Miss Eva Jean Little of Council Bluffs, Iowa has returned home after spending several days with her brother Oscar and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCarthy 3006 Lindsay Avenue.

GARDEN PARTY FOR WEDDING GUEST

Admit a perfect setting, in the beautiful gardens of the E. R. West home at 2916 Decatur St. with its many hued flowers and myriads of gorgeous shrubbery, the ladies who were to assist Mrs. Augustus Hicks at the Wedding reception of her daughter, Charlotte and Mr. O. Armand Hudson of Los Angeles, Calif., were hostesses at a delightful and largely attended garden party, Thursday, evening Aug. 17th from 7 to 10 P.M., when they honored the groom-to-be, his mother, Mrs. O. Hudson and his brother, James Hudson.

Two large lace covered tables, with large centerpieces of garden flowers were set in the garden, from which dainty refreshments were served. Garden chairs were scattered conveniently about and an immense electric spotlight, shed its rays over a glorious sight as more than 200 guests were received and introduced to the charming guests from the west. The hostesses for this very lovely affair were: Mesdames E. R. West, Jasper Brown, J. S. La Cour, Leslie Shipman, Issac Bailey, James G. Jewell, John Albert Williams, George Watson and Elizabeth Buford.

WHITE MAN SLUGGED TRYING TO JIM CROW COLORED BUS PASSENGER

Dr. and Mrs. Charles West of Washington D. C. arrived by motor Wednesday last to spend two weeks here as the guest of Mrs. West's brother, Mr. Jesse Hardin and Mrs. Hardin. Mrs. West is the private secretary to Mrs. Mary McCleod Bethune in Washington.

Dr. West accompanied Messrs. Henry Black, Dr. C. H. Singleton, and Mrs. Cleo Mortimer to Minnesota for several days fishing.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 24 (ANP)—S. D. Bount, white, of this city will doubtless think twice before he again tries to enforce Jim Crow rules on buses when Negroes are included among the passengers. Last Sunday while riding on Glenview-Faxon bus, Blount saw a colored passenger, Richard Dean, 24, sitting "too far up front."

In a brusque, insulting tone, Blount reportedly yelled at Dean and ordered him to move to the rear of the bus "where he belonged." Then the feathers started flying as Passenger Dean proceeded to trim Blount in approved "Joe Louis style."

Next morning in City Court Dean was fined $25 on a charge of assault and battery, $10 for "disturbing the peace," after Patrolman Hook had testified. Hook said that when he arrived at the bus a crowd of 100 persons had gathered, but that the hard hitting Dean had left. He was overtaken about three blocks from the scene, however, and in the tussle that followed, was said to have slightly injured Officer Hook's arm.

WHAT KNOT SAVING CLUB

The What Knot Saving Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Turner 3018 Burdette. There was a very brief business meeting and the remainder of the time was spent in socializing. The members enjoyed a series of games.

The Hostess for the evening served a menu of fried chicken, peas, and potatoe balls, ice cream and cake. They adjourned to meet next at the home of Mrs. Lillie Williams, 2622 North 25th Street.

Mr. Emmett Redman of 2726 Parker, who was injured in a fall from a ladder causing him three broken ribs and a broken arm, is able to be out again and is feeling exceptionally well.

BOTH RED AND WHITE HANDY REFRESHMENT FOR DROP IN GUEST

The California wine growers' new $2,000,000 educational advertising drive, plus America's first National Wine Week, is keeping Lou's Finocchiaro Inc. busy these days.

Housewives, intrigued by the dozens of new uses for California wines, are stocking their pantries with several varieties of wine, for serving with meals, for cooking, and for handy refreshment for drop-in guests.

"My regular wine customers are buying more wine for varied purposes," Louis Finocchiaro says, "and people who never have bought wine before are coming in and asking intelligent questions about wine. I like the opportunity to tell these customers that there is no mystery to wine, and that simply by trying a few varieties, one will soon find what wines suit the individual taste."

"Our basic wines are dry and sweet. Dry wines are both red and white, and are for service with meals, and in the many new wine coolers which are popular during warm weather. Sweet wines like Sherry, Port, and Tokay, are used as appetizers, refreshments or with dessert."

Louis Finocchiaro Inc. has some new booklets issued by the Wine Advisory Board, showing many appetizing uses for California wines.
