FIRE DAMAGE COSTLY

On the night of December 22nd, about 10:45 P.M. the Omaha Guide the oldest colored newspaper in Omaha was burned, almost completely destroyed. In fact I believe it was a total loss including Mr. C. C. Galloway personal items. My

FINANCIAL LOSS

Poor Junior Love. He claimed he lost $900 dollars in the Cotton Bowl crash and $300 dollars in another business venture. Boy you better take it easy. You will be in the hands of the receiver before long. What you need is some legal advice on how to invest your dough before it is all gone. Yes sir.

YOU SAPS WHO STARTS FIGHTS

Say you fellows. You got a wonderful chance to watch the city grow if you get wise to yourself in time. But if you don't your folks are going to watch the grave yard grow. Remember the grave yards are only one third full and h— ain't even started to fill up, so get wise to yourself. Cut the comedy when you feel kind of good. Just laugh it off.

McGill takes this means wishing and hoping all of his customers and friends a Happy New Year. The old Blue Room still packs them in. Also still wide open for private parties without any charge to you.

JUST MEDDLING

Our good doctor Solomon and wife dining at King Yuen Cafe. Mrs. Edna McClutcher Christmas shopping everyday. (Whew) What a lot of friends. Miss Juanita Cole enjoying a wonderful lunch at the Champion. My good friend John Elliot out swinging Benny Goodman. Wynonia Harris looking for some place to crack those crude jokes of his. Drummer Buford looking for some place to beat his drums. Also for some black forest. Hep Hep.

SOME WOMEN ARE FICKLE

Yes, Yes, she is awful funny. Three months ago she used to darn the poor things socks, but oh how times do change. Now she gets a quart beer bottle and sock the darn thing! She used to fix him fried chicken often but for thanksgiving she merely fixed him neckbone with navy beans dressing. Lay off the rought stuff Buddy. Maybe she will change. In fact she told me so.

STAG PARTY

Only Jess Hardin knows how to put one over on everybody. Food was bountiful. Well more food than a political meeting. But who was the fellow that his coat pockets was so greasy the next. Of course I don't blame him for looking out for tomorrow. It will be way up in April before the Union Pacific will put back that seventh man or extra diner. Take care of yourself Buddy. Winter ain't half gone. Just backing up for a running start. Say Jess Hardin your trusty employees want to know when are you going to broil some more hog wrinkles for them. One more encore.

STORZ BREWERY

The management of the Storz played host to about 115 of our people and what a reception. Everyone enjoyed themselves to the utmost. Those bartenders just would not let your container get half empty. And Chef Jones cooked about a wash tub of hot dogs for the gang and they were delicious. Tasted like chicken. No use talking about this and that, the management of Storz Brewery have demonstrated time and time again that he wants our business.

He has spent oddles of money and time to prove it. You would be surprised at the path that our people make to the Brewery office asking for this and that and the majority come away satisfied. But the best you can hear is don't drink Storz Beer. Me for one, thinks that Storz brews the best in this man's town. I can only speak for myself. Lete look at the real good things Storz have did for our people. No as individuals but as a whole. Not by giving away beer or hot dogs (but financial aid to many of our group who never mention the same to others. So lets be a little more considerate in 1940 and for get the past. Three cheers for Storz Beer.

AFTERNOON SPOILED

I feel awful sorry for the little lady whose afternoon was utterly spoiled in the Blue Room Xmas Eve night. I know not of the facts in the case but I know how your feelings was wounded. I can only heap praises upon his big brother for putting forth his best effort avoid all the terrible mess. Here's hoping you have a Happy New Year with our being hinderance at least by the same people.

H AND M

H and M buffet as their yearly event gave free of charge to all whom wanted real rich and mel-low egg nogg. Some of the boys made their third and fourth trip to the big white crock.

HEY YOU FELLOW

The young man that has the nerve to squirt carbonated water on the rest of the party. It is all right when you poured one half pint of whiskey in the young lady lap. She only thought it was accidentally and you poured coco cola in the gents lap. He thought you was just drunk. But when you squirted carbonated water on the folks Christmas eve, they think you are a nut and I am inclined to agree with them. I believe you can have fun without expense to the other fellow. It cost money to send clothes to the cleaners. So behave yourself with your crude jokes.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

By Judge Lawrence Welch

In order for a workman to receive workmen's compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Law, he must have sustained an "accident" which arose out of and in the course of his employment. The term "accident" as used in the law shall, unless a different meaning is clearly indicated by the context, be construed to mean an unexpected or an unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of any injury. From this definition it can readily be seen that if a workman falls from a ladder and breaks his leg or arm, he can qualify for workmen's compensation from his employer because this was an event which was unexpected and unforeseen, it happened instantaneously and was of such force as to cause a fractured boe, and it caused an injury which could be seen by any examining physician. Objective symptoms as used in the above definition means injuries which can be seen, felt or heard by a doctor and not injuries which the injured person must tell about, such as a headache. In the interpretation of the compensation laws, the Courts in many jurisdictions have held that strains which cause some physical defect to the body can be classed as accidents. For instance a workman who strains his back from lifting heavy objects may recover compensation for any disability he may receive, under certain conditions. Hernias from strains are likewise considered compensable if the workman can show it came from a sudden strain, which caused him immediate pain and other objective symptoms.

Occupational diseases are contrasted from accidents in as much as they are sicknesses which come on a person gradually and not suddenly. For instance a workman who gets dust in his lungs from his employment over a period of years which causes tuberculosis. This is an occupational disease. Occupational diseases do not come under the compensation law except those occupational diseases which arise out of and during the course of the employment and are peculiar to the smelting, metal refining or battery manufacturing industries and which are contracted by workmen employed in said industries. Occupational diseases from these industries are the only ones which, thus far has been brought under the Workmen's Compensation Law.

According to the 1930 Census, there were almost 12 million Ne-
