

WILLKIE'S SPEECH

there are some things that we must do before this Democracy can claim to be reaching anywhere near perfection. And one of those is to completely eliminate in this country any discrimination between people because of race or religion. Up to four or five

"Build-Up" Relief Explained To Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this also helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years.

months ago no man in the United States had less notion that he would ever occupy public office than I did. But in every phase of my life from the day I was conscious of things, every time the opportunity has come to me, whether as a boy in Elwood, or a lawyer in Akron, or a business man in New York, I have struck at every type of intolerance that has come in my way, and I have done so publicly."

Will Continue Relief For Those Who Cannot Secure Gainful Employment

On the subject of relief, Mr. Willkie said: "Now I have written it out and I want to make it exact so that no man can doubt what I say. If elected I shall continue relief for those who cannot secure gainful employment. It is not right, however, that America should continue a practice in which the Negro is the last to be hired and the first to be fired. The Negro has little hope if he must wait until the whites have all been employed, at least under this administration."

"I promise to do away with the theory that relief is a Negro reservation. I will abolish the discrimination of relief and I will strive to find creative work for the Negro as well as for every other man. It is indisputable that the leadership of America, in Government, in industry and in labor, give the Negro an opportunity to be creative and to participate in the great enterprises of American life. I hope that the Government, Capital and Labor will cooperate in providing such opportunity.

Mob Violence and Racial Discrimination

Mob violence and racial discriminations in government were scathingly denounced by Mr. Willkie as follows:

"I want to say that no man in America looks upon the hideous crime of lynching with more condemnation than I do. Mob violence shocks the conscience of the Nation and legislation to curb this evil must be enacted.

"Now in addition to that, in the administration of the affairs of Government during this administration, which has talked in fine words about Democracy but practiced little of it in certain departments in Washington, regular Jim Crow departments have been created. I say to you that under my administration there shall be no discrimination between people because of race, creed or color in the appointments to Federal positions. That man who serves as my subordinate who makes such discrimination will be fired on the spot.

"Now, if there is anything about my language—it is just simple everyday language—that anybody does not understand, it has no Harvard lilt to it—then speak up and I will restate it. I will carry out the Republican platform pledge to the Negro by seeing to it that Jim Crow departments in the Federal government, and in the divisions which the New Deal created by executive decree, are eliminated, and that colored citizens are appointed to any branch of the Federal Civil Service to which they are qualified.

Civil Liberties and the Negro

"I will give the Negro a chance to be heard before Government takes its decisions affecting his welfare and rights denied under the New Deal. It is my profound conviction that the Democratic party is incapable of protecting the civil liberties in this country in times of stress, and I believe that the colored citizen above all others needs the leadership that can protect the civil liberties of every group. I pledge myself to give you such leadership.

"Now, let me say to you that I am a complete believer in Democracy, and I think it not only the most pleasant way of life, but I think it the most effective way of life. I think that we must make it so effective that no proletarian dictator will seek or dare to strike us. But we cannot make it so effective against those proletarian rulers if we deprive ourselves of the opportunities and the talents and the abilities and the enterprises of 10 percent of our population.

A Summons To National Unity

"I summon all of you people here today to the great crusade of calling America back to its finer principle, calling it back to effectiveness. I ask all of you colored people to join with me because you know better than any others the pride of disunity and prejudice.

"I pledge you that I will never preach intolerance. Intolerance is what has torn the world to pieces in this armed conflict of destruction.

"I call all Americans—Colored, White, Jews, Catholics and Christians into a great United America to make this the most glorious place in the world.

"No candidate for the Presidency in all our long history ever faced the problems of the colored people of the United States with greater candor, courage, and sincerity than did Wendell Willkie in his first speech of the campaign addressing an audience composed mainly of colored citizens.

His unequivocal pledges, his refusal to dodge these questions of moment to our Negro Citizenship, have heartened them and rekindled in their breasts the fervent hope that a new day awaits them when New Dealism is banished from our government.

Senator William E. King introduced Mr. Willkie in an address which greatly stirred the audience and set them on edge for Mr. Willkie's address.
