REMOVE ALL BARRIERS (by Charles Stelzle)

It is generally assumed by some otherwise informed Americans that the progress of the Negro race in the United States began at zero on January 1, 1863, when President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation became effective. It is true that more than four million slaves started from scratch at that time, but nearly half a million Negroes were already free, many having purchased freedom through their own efforts.

great numbers of Negroes had already become skilled workers, and while undoubtedly many owed their training to experience obtained in America, they had an inheritance which dated to an African background, where for centuries many of their forefathers were skilled artisans.

In music they made a distinct contribution to American life. In religion, they swayed the life of millions. As humble workers on farms and plantations they made possible the dominance of the South in the production of tobacco, rice sugar and cotton, to say nothing about service in other fields.

The devotion to America as soldiers has been shown in every conflict in which our country has been engaged. During the first world war, 380,000 Negroes enrolled for service, and they were the first to get into action. And while hundreds of Americans were accused of disloyalty, it is said that there wasn't a single Negro among the number.

And what may be said about those who, in spite of prejudice and opposition have excelled as poets, teachers, journalists, artists, actors, businessmen, scientists and many other occupations? Given the same opportunities enjoyed by others, hosts of Negroes would today be in the front ranks among the people of our country. Sooner or later the people of this country will realize the unfairness of the barriers which stand in the way of the Negroes of America, and when that time comes they will be prepared to take their place shoulder to shoulder with all those who hope and work for the progress of our great nation.

U. S. PENALIZES GEORGIA FOR RAIDING ROAD FUNDS

NEWS ITEM: Uncle Sam has notified Georgia that it will lose $504,074 of its federal aid for highways as a result of the state's policy of diverting gasoline taxes and registration fees away from the highway uses. The penalty is the third and the largest penalty ever inflicted upon the states under the penalty clause of Hayden-Cartwright Act through which Congress apportions its federal aid to the states.

R. S. R.—My mother wants me to go off to school in mid term and to a school that I do not want to attend. Tell me if I should go or wait and go to school of my choice so that I may take the trade I like?

Ans: Talk this problem over with your mother in a sensible manner. Do not continue to fuss with her about it. Let her know that you intend to get a job and go to work this spring and summer so you can help bear your own expenses. If you get down to business with her, she will see your point of view and you can change her quite easily.

B. W.—I met a boy a few months ago and he has shown quite a lot of interest in me and says he loves me. If I should marry this boy as he has asked me to do you think he and I could be happy together?

Ans: Both of you are old enough to assume the responsibility of marriage and I don't think you would be making a mistake if you carried out your present plans. There is no question about your caring for one another—and this is mighty important too. I am sure you could be happy.

A. M.—I want to know what is wrong that my husband and I do not get along well together?

Ans: At the present time you aren't satisfied with your living conditions. You don't have enough privacy. Get you a place of your own to live and there won't be so much confusion in the home.

D. A. B.—Please Sir tell me if I am going to be successful leasing my land?

Ans: Yes, and it will prove to your advantage to rent out part of your property. Place an ad in the paper—also put a sign on the property and I feel that in a few months time you will have the opportunity to lease a part of it at a reasonable price.

M. D. B.—Should I stay on with this man I am with or what do you think would be the best thing for me?

Ans: Why torture yourself any longer—you two aren't suited and you have no business together any way. Don't you think that you had better go back home to your daddy and start over again. You need to search for a husband.

L. A. M.—Is there a possibility of me getting a better job soon?

I feel so depressed at times. May I send for my Astrology reading?

W. W. S. I have a girl friend who is always pretending she is when she isn't and trying to make me believe. Should I quit her or go on?
