WHAT OTHERS SAYS—

COMMITTEE AT LARGE

In my opinion you cannot defend that which you don't own. Can you defend or protect or give proportion of defense on borrowed rights? Borrowed protection is that which is solicited, or begged of a person or group of persons that or who have pooled his or their resources to maintain a sustenance for themselves and their posterity and build shelter communities in which to live.

Notice 22 persons have signed their name and title as defense steering committee and not one has sought to establish a foundation which must be a capital any legal organization must have a financial backing of its own, otherwise there are just a group of people begging or attempting to bulldoze others into using them as servants; then trying to install their method of operating the other man's judgement, for a man's holdings show his judgement. These people, have, farm, factory, products and state to draw from, because they build them and if you want control why not finance farm community, factory and state, by doing this you will get some place. Twenty two persons putting in $50.00 each would give a capital of $1,100, which would start a nice produce business, which farm could employ 5 rural on farm, one on transportation, 1 on management, 3 on produce and every customer a salesman and a booster. A store 2, an unknown spread for people will eat and must eat. Buy some land, build small homes complete and neat that can be had at reasonable sale on rent to those who desire.

No great ship is built on the ocean but in a dry dock on a concrete foundation, which is supported by the soil, so if we must rise above the head bowing servant type, we will have to make a dry dock upon which to build our ship for progress. Big servant titles, that have been parroted of others does not mean progress for the one making the organization or institution will ever control it.

Why not stop riding on the sea of sympathy and get on the land of production and use your dollar to produce for yourself as you pay others to let you work for them or to turn you free after some surprise occurs. Pay yourself—your people and your God.

To those published as employment committee: I ask what have you to offer as employment and what support do you give producers?

To those of Defense Training and Housing Committee: What land can you cultivate or place one on to defend—defense begins with a home—homes are not built on borrowed land. Tax sales makes available lands. Seek homes first.

To committee at large:—Both have said to me in person that efficiency and qualifications meant nothing in selecting ones to fill vacancies in positions and so long as these principles are held by these pennie grabbers, hopeless is it to prepare efficient people for positions coming up in the government of this state or nation. Recently one of this committee said in regard to a position in agriculture department which had been efficiently filled by one of our group for 8 years and whom the State of Nebraska had accepted his qualifications in so much as to give extension course to same for greater efficiency, which he made good—but this small, sized paper lugger and leech that preys upon the ignorance and sympathy of his group, forgets all this and asks dismissal of this employee —This is not gossip—this is straight from the shoulder. This same parasite has leeching many—so why follow anyone that can't defend himself. This in my opinion is the reason for being a committee at large, so as not to be held responsible for what happens.

SAYS EMPLOYMENT ARTICLES ARE WITHOUT FOUNDATION Under the heading of "Subject of Employment" which has appeared in the current issues of this publication. After a careful study of the articles, which to date are 2, I consider them without foundation and a menace to those of better judgement who can show something for their judgement. (1) Do not criticize anyone unless you can help them do better. (2) What has the writer to offer that would be a tangible asset to those who have to labor? (3) Can the writer of this article show any achievement that he has done that has built a foundation of an institution of self support for those he seeks to claim to elevate?

(4) Parasites always want larger bodies to suck on. A winner never knocks and a knocker never wins. A winner is too busy to knock and a knocker is too busy to win. Be winners.

(5) Ingratitude is one of the worst things one can practice, so to you who are employed be appreciative and win higher places don't "toady" for no one.

(6) The writer of this article does not believe in his theories. Proof a few years ago walked by a building owned by a member of his group, to sue a man of another group for not wanting him there. Again there was an institution employing persons of his group from operator, stage, cashier and all showing same product. He walks by this institution to be denied admission to part he chose and then tried suit.

(7) If this writer believed in merit system why not put it into practice by employing his group around his home and other places and pay high wages instead of chiseling. His reports remind me of an old pulpiteer Jake V. once he lived in an old mill pond by a mill a group of frogs who used the old signal bug noise of the mill as a guide as when they came up to the top after a night's sleep. One morning as they started for the top they heard a boom and a splash so back to the bottom they went. After so long they came together to discuss plans of how to find out what had happened. So they may go to get some fresh air or else they would all die. So a committee was selected to go to the top and with the frog lawyer as the group chairman, this group went slowly to the top with the chairman behind as they arrived at the top. Lastly he crept up and on to the dam and with a sudden plunge he was back in the water. The other froggies followed then to the bottom they went. All the frogs came around to hear the news.

Chairman made the report, we your committee went to the top as ordered and beg leave to submit the following report: We saw a dam by a mill site. But we did not see a mill by a dam site.

What he said was true but he did not go far enough to see why the mill was not there or what happened. So one by one the frogs died until there was not a frog in the pond.

So I would say to you who are employed think deep and let no one who cannot feed himself, lead you. Your judgement has kept you on the job this long in my opinion, you best stay where your judgement says.

MUSIC

National Observance, May 4-11 MUSIC—"A divine blessing given to man to inspire him—to bring him peace in time of strife—to give him courage, hope and love. Understood and enjoyed by everyone, it leads men towards happiness and mutual understanding."

MUSIC—"the only art of heaven given to man,—the only art of earth we take to heaven." So let us not be so absorbed in daily activities that we lose some of the best that life affords. During this week the entire nation is observing National Music Week. In songs, lectures, musical plays, and pictures, famous composers, and their works are being especially observed.

Recently the Choirs of eleven churches were presented in their annual Goodwill Spring Musical at the City auditorium. Their director was the gifted Mrs. Mabel Avant, director of the Pilgrim Baptist Choir. The founder of this Annual Musical is Mr. L. L. McVay of St. John A.M.E. Church. Omaha is indeed most proud of Mr. McVay's splendid ideas for progress and achievement. It is interesting to note that two of the purposes of this Spring Musical is most appropriate for the observance of National Music Week. They are "to create a better appreciation for higher class music" and "to encourage" individuals to make use of their musical talents."

Next year let us hope that the Annual Spring Musical will serve as the "prelude" to musical activities during the observance of National Music Week in Omaha. Most fitting this year as an introduction to this observance was the St. John A.M.E. choir program on Sunday evening. Outstanding on this musical program was the rendition by Mrs. Pearl Gibson, director of "Inflammatus" (Rossini). It was beautifully sung; spiritually and dramatically. Among the other numbers were "A Closer Walks With Thee" by Mr. Wm. Kyles, Jr., "I'm Waiting For Jesus and He's Awaiting for Me" by Mr. Napier and "I Do, Don't You" sung by the Quartette.

The Public is anxiously looking forward to the Annual recital of Mrs. Florentine Pinkston. For the convenience of music lovers and friends, Mrs. Pinkston wishes to announce that there will be three recitals this year: one will present advanced pupils, another will introduce intermediate pupils and the other will present primary pupils. These three groups will appear sometime in June.

Another musical that will command our attention is the operetta and ballet sponsored by Mrs. F. Pinkston and Mrs. Marjorie Bolden are. The date will be announced later.

The YWCA presented at Zion Baptist Church during National Music Week, the Operetta "College Days" a comedy in three acts. Miss Ethel Jones was the musical director and Mr. Eugene Murray was the stage director. Assistants were Mrs. May Gaston, Mrs. Lucy Mae Britt, Mrs. Elsie Porter, Miss Asilee Dotson, Miss Dorothy Beck, Mr. James Pretry and Mr. Arthur Reynolds and others.

The YWCA is most grateful to Mr. Lewis who secured members of the Softball League who assisted in the First scene of the play. Some of the men were: Mr. P. Allen, Mr. Herman Baring, Mr. Joe Brooks, Mr. John Arvey, Mr. Percy Jenkins, Mr. Melvin Key.

The proceeds from this musical comedy will be used to send delegates to the YWCA. Sectional Conference which will be held at Camp Brewster June 9-25. To all who assisted to make the Girl Reserve Musical Comedy a big success the YWCA is indeed most grateful.

BISHOP NOAH W. WILLIAMS (by H. D. Wheeler) To those who were fortunate to hear Bishop Noah W. Williams Sunday at St. John A.M.E. church, were given an opportunity to hear and see a man whose position among men of the world is the result of the very philosophy which he imparted to his audience. Said he, "Never do just what you are paid to do. Always do a little bit more". Such a display of initiative not only broadens the individual but awakens him to realize definite needs of service around him. It is one of God's ways in unfolding latent possibilities in one. Such a way may seem out of the way and unnecessary, but it always leads to higher heights.

As an example of the type of leadership which Negroes are in need of, Bishop Williams cited Richard Allen, the father of the A.M.E. church. Richard Allen had been a slave. He had saved up $2,000 in continental money, bought his freedom and started the A.M.E. church. He was only 27 years old, but he followed that course of activity for which he felt he had been called. His experiences were exceedingly trying. We need more "self-help" expressed among us. We need more "stick-to-it" in our endeavors. The ideal we must always have. It is our Light. It is expressed in the God Spirit which must pervade our entire lives. At unexpected and diverse places and times God reveals Himself to man as He did to Abraham, Isaac, Jacob Richard Allen and many other leaders.

Bishop Williams said that as far as set-backs are concerned, they are only steps towards our objective. We NEED a definite experience in our lives to jar us until we come to our senses. Our youth continued the Bishop must prepare itself thoroughly, not only for white collar jobs but for Vocational and Technical jobs. There can be no pretense, no getting by. We must produce the goods. Youth must realize that the humblest labor in life is dignified. In conclusion, Bishop Williams said that the whole organized force of the Church must be thrown open to young people. Omaha welcomes Bishop Noah W. Williams and can only express appreciation of his most timely messages by saying, COME A-

GAIN FOR OUR YOUTH NEEDS YOUR WISDOM,

This Week In Religion and Thought BY ROBT. L. MOODY

MOTHERHOOD—

The hearts of many mothers are aching in war-torn countries. Our present world problems reveal the honor and responsibilities of Motherhood.

On "Mother's Day" each year, we show much honor to our mothers both living and dead. But we may do well to create an awareness of the responsibility that accompanies this special honor. The young women of today and tomorrow need inspiration from the powerful influence of "ideal mothers" of today and yesterday.

We talk much about creating a better society through an educational process. It seems to be certain that this process must begin with our present and potential mothers. The native equipment of each individual has a determining influence upon his character. The development of this influence begins in the mother before conception. Of course, we admit that the father is the other source for equipment, but we may think of his part next month.

We honor the good mothers of the past but we also plead with the present and potential mothers to realize their responsibility to the child and society. Genuine honor can be appreciated best when it is preceded by wise and godly training of children.
