REVIEWING THE SPORTS

BY JOHN BEAN

Pro football... Jackie Robinson, former UCLA star, snagged a 40-yard pass from among the greatest football eleven in the world and jiggerbugged the remaining six yards to score six of the All-Stars thirteen points. But the Chicago Bears trounced the Stars 37 to 13. Jackie made nice gains on all his running plays when he carried the ball. But his gains were not far enough to bring one of scouts from the stands with a contract for him to sign. Maybe his gains were not "white" enough. But that is the American way of life, so. Some of the boys who played longside of Jackie will be signed up with one of the pro eleven with a season check $3,000 up. But Jackie was chosen by the American public to play on a team that represents the best football players in the colleges and universities of the U. S. A. and this, too, is an American way of life. . . . Down in Des Moines this September 5 the best football player from high school in the state of Iowa will play in the East-West game. On the West team will be a starting end by name of Lawrence Freeman. Freeman graduated from Central high of Sioux City and was picked as a member of the squad when 41,000 votes suggested that he would be quite a help to the West team. . . . Bobby Vandervere, Iowa's greatest pro football player, who showed Kenty Washington and Ozzie Simmons how to play football in Chicago last year when all three played on Duke Slater's team, may play with the Sioux City Comets. Vandervere learned about sports at Eldora boys school and is considered by some as the greatest athlete in the state. . . . Short Short Stories. . . . Brud Holland, Cornell's All-American end, will begin his third year as faculty member and assistant coach at Lincoln U in Chester, Pa. . . . "Flash" boe Louis' horse won the five-gaited class in the Harlem horse show last week. . . .

Dr. G. W. Adams of Washington, D. C., was elected president of the Negro United Golfers association which held its championships tournament on the Pankapog course in Canton, Mass., last week. Pat Ball, Chicago pro, won the championships and the prize money of $275. This is the fourth time the 42-year-old golfer has copped the National title. . . . In 1927 he won the title at Stowe with 293, in 1929 at Westfield, N. J., with 290 and in 1934 with 296 in Detroit. In winning the title this year Ball had to beat Clyde Martin, Joe Louis' personal pro from Detroit which was no picnic. Bud Ball finished the 72 holes with a 302, 18 over par, and Martin with 303. Zeke Hartfield, a pro at the Lincoln park course in Atlanta, kept the Atlanta's golf prestige intact when he shot 149 for the first 36 holes to rack up the lowest score of the entire tournament for 36 holes. But on the final 36 holes he went off stride with a poor 158 to finish third with a total score of 307. Hartsfield's feat brings to memory the 1938 championships held at Palos Park in Chicago. Pat Ball was there along with some 135 other top-notch Negro golfers. And Pat was leading the crowd in the opening round of the mens open. But after the first round the gallery trudged after lanky Howard Wheeler of Atlanta. . . . watched him tee up on the edge of a match follow, strided easily along the fairway and flop on the green while waiting his turn to put. During the afternoon he shot with results that would please many top-notch white golfer. He shot rounds of 68, 73, 72, 71. . . . and brother, that course was plenty tough and hilly. Wheeler's 284 won the title and $200. . . . and set a new record for the Negro championship. . . . just three strokes above the all-time U. S. open record set by the great Ralph Guldahl the year before. So Hartsfield takes his place alongside of Wheeler Bobby Jones, Charley Yates and others who have made Atlanta Golf No. City.

Jimmie Lunceford

New York. (TYP.)—Having just completed a nationwide ex-country tour Jimmie Lunceford, after playing a Labor Day date at the Renaissance Casino here, left on another jaunt that will keep him rhythmically "swinging" along the Atlantic Seaboard during the month of September. New Jersey, New Hampshire, Maine, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and No. Carolina have already or are soon slated to welcome America's No. 1 dance orchestra during the current month.
