BENNETT COLLEGE OBSERVES ANNUAL FOUNDER'S DAY

October 31 to November 2 has been fixed by the board of trustees as the dates for the dedication of the new $150,000 Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel and Little Theater at Bennett College. The annual founder's day observance and the Annual Advisors Conference will be joined with the dedication program, thus giving the delegates and visitors a varied and interesting three days at this woman's college in North Carolina.

Friday, October 31, will be Founder's Day. The Bennett College trustees will hold an important meeting in the afternoon to determine next steps in the development program of the college. The dedicatory recital on the new organ will be the feature of the evening of the first day.

Saturday, November 1, the conference for high school advisors of girls as well as representatives from various colleges of the country will consider the subject "The Status of Women's Education." The morning hour will be devoted to "Women's Education in Retrospect." The afternoon session will be devoted to the consideration of "The Future of Women's Education."

On Saturday evening a pageant depicting the progress of women in America will be given under the direction of one of America's outstanding pageant directors.

Sunday morning worship in the new Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel will be conducted by three outstanding leaders of religion in America; and that afternoon, the dedicatory address will be given. All preliminary plans have been worked out to make this one of the outstanding events in the life of Bennett College and an event of great significance in the education in the South.

Miss Edna Mae Taylor of Omaha, Nebraska, and Lewis Henderson of Dallas, Texas, were the honored guests at a dinner party given at the home of Mrs. Alma Scoggins, mother of Miss Mary Sessions and Clifford Sessions. Everyone enjoyed the delicious dinner prepared by Mrs. Scoggins.

WAITERS' COLUMN

(by H. W. SMITH)

Mr. Corbert, the rapid fire headwaiter at the Paxton and his up and go crew are tops in giving Waldorf Astoria Service, they are always out in front and with such men as Mr. Fisher on Room Service, Mr. Chas. Andrews and Mr. Leonard Owens and Mr. Theo Thomas, Mr. Siah Jones, and Captain Booth who is from the Lone Star State and an extremely good dining room officer can always serve the high class crowd in double quick time. Mr. Pierson is always on the job in Serving Parties.

The Fontenelle hotel waiters are looking for a very large full business and when you see them on North 24th St. in their late model cars you would think they work in New York as their actions speak louder than words as they make rapid steps and walk fast and make business good at all the stores. The salesmen are very careful in giving them service to avoid a mistake.

Mr. C. C. Jones and the crew in the Cottonwood room at the Blackstone hotel are doing a good job taking care of the large crowds and we all know good service produces more business and that is what the hotels are reaching out for.

Mr. Avant is top room Service man, and also out in front in Serving first class parties on the top floor and carries a heavy loaded tray high in the air.

Mr. Ed Lee the athletic Club headwaiter was talking with this writer during his vacation and told all of us he was enjoying a much needed rest. Mr. Lee told this writer some years ago he was a class mate of Dr. Thomkins the recorder of deeds in Washington, D. C. and we know by that good scholars are top men at all times and we should all take our hats off to such men who are out in front.

Flash the Omaha Guide continues to go forward with all the news and every one is well pleased with the way they get out the news. Now why don't all of us take one year's subscription and keep the Guide moving on it is only two dollars a year, now what do you say about it.

Mr. Johnnie Fleming and the Country Club boys are going over big and as they are in the home stretch we are quite sure they will double their efforts to give satisfaction as Mr. Donovan and Mr. Simpson, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Hayes will continue to move forward in completing a good job for the summer—and Mr. Lambert can make a Tom Collins or a whiskey sour or an fashion toddy or a Alexander Cocktail in double quick time.

Mr. Harold the double header musician and head waiter and Mr. Chester Hodges and Mr. Jack White are all about ten pounds heavier, so we all can see what fresh air and morning rides to work does for the boys.

This writer shall visit with the Streamlined Chef Cook, Mr. John Rotello who is a very fine gentleman and all round good fellow and can serve 5-6 or seven hundred in double quick time and always has a pleasant smile for this writer.

Mr. James Richardson has gained about ten pounds this summer and Mr. Johnnie Maloy and Mr. William Edgerion and Mr. Lucas.

Mr. Earl are all top men at giving Service.

Mr. John Evans is just as pleasant as ever and carries a business look on his face at all times and we all know what good one can do when their actions are of that kind.

OLD LANDMARK RAZED AT LINCOLN U. (MO.)

A necessary sacrifice to progress was completed last week at Lincoln University with the clearing of the area of the campus occupied for thirty-eight years by Barnes-Krekel Hall, freshman woman's dormitory, until last year, when the modernistic Anthony Hall was erected on the east campus and the razing of the old dormitory was begun. The first section of Barnes-Krekel was erected in 1893, additions were made in 1902, and alterations of one kind or another were introduced at various times during its existence. The first portion of the building was the oldest structure on Lincoln's campus.

Barnes-Krekel had served many diverse purposes during its lifetime. At one time girls were housed in one side of the building and young men in the other; the school's cafeteria, classrooms and the president's home were also housed there in those early days. In 1940 the three-story brick and stone building housed in addition to 100 freshman girls—the university hospital and the laboratory high schools' Home Economics department. The large recreation room on the basement floor of Barnes-Krekel was a favorite gathering place for Lincoln students during their leisure time—scene of scores of the general socials and Greek-letter dances that are such an important part of social life.

The razing of Barnes-Krekel is part of a campus improvement program which is in its second year. A recent $70,000 WPA project to Lincoln University is to be used for completion of this program. Beautification of the twenty-acre campus is to be effected by roadbuilding and repair, and by landscaping. Mr. G. Robert Cotton, head of the University's Mechanic Arts department will supervise the entire improvement project. Mr. C. E. Dickerson, another member of this department and a specialist in landscape architecture, will direct the landscaping activities.

"For the first time in years," writes William R. Kuhns, in Banking, "the butcher, baker, and candlestick maker, their sisters, cousins and aunts are beginning to discover what a fine assortment of useful and unsuspected items their bank has for sale."

Many of us used to think of banks as institutions which were only interested in "big money" operations and which had little to offer the ordinary man. Today, the typical bank is actively seeking accounts of all sizes—and it offers as cordial a welcome to the legitimate borrower who needs a few hundred dollars as it does to the borrower who needs tens of thousands. It finances the purchase of automobiles and homes.

Today the banks are carrying on still another big job—the sale of defense loan securities. It is estimated that more than $100,000,000 worth of these bonds and stamps must be sold to the public each week if the Treasury is to avoid further inflationary sales of government securities to the banks. Private banking is again proving that it is one of the mainsprings that keeps this country going.

A Winning Cookie

By Frances Lee Barton

"Now let me see!" said Maggie Gee.

"What shall I have for dinner?"

"Try our Chip Cookie recipe."

"It is this summer's winner."

Chocolate Chip Ice-box Cookies

1/2 package semi-sweet chocolate, grated; 1/2 cups sifted flour; 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 1/2 cup granulated sugar; 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1 egg, well beaten; 1 tablespoon milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Grate chocolate on coarse grater. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter and add sugars gradually, creaming thoroughly; add egg, milk, and vanilla, and mix well. Add flour gradually, mixing well after each addition. Add grated chocolate. Shape into rolls, 2 inches in diameter, and roll in waxed paper. Chill overnight, or until firm enough to slice. Cut in 1/4-inch slices; bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375° F.) 10 minutes. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

2-Way Help for WOMEN!

What should a woman do who is run-down, suffering from functional discomforts, such as headaches, nervousness or cramp-like pain? The experience of women by thousands answers, "Take CARDUI!" For CARDUI may help you in two ways: Many who begin three days before "the time" and take it as directed, find it helps relieve pain.

Then taken by directions as a tonic, CARDUI usually helps stimulate appetite, increase the flow of digestive juice, and so improve digestion. Thus it helps to build energy and strength and reduce periodic distress for many. 61 years of popularity invite confidence in CARDUI.
