POSTAL ALLIANCE SOCIAL

The local Alliance of Postal employees, their wives and guest were entertained Saturday evening October 18th at the Masonic Hall by Comrades Andrew Williams and Wallace Wright.

A few lively and competitive games of whist were in progress when the host called time to partake of a turkey dinner fit for a King. Served banquet style, the tables were decorated with lovely flowers and a touch of the Halloween season was noticeable.

At the end of this course, Comrade J. W. Dacus, acting as Master of Ceremonies, called on Mr. Nathaniel Hunter, Mr. A. R. Goddett and John Field for a few remarks. They responded with words of encouragement and commendation for the members of the Alliance. Also thanked for being invited to such a swell dinner and to socialize with the comrades and their wives.

The invited guest were Mr. and Mrs. Nat Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jackson, Mr. A. R. Goodlett, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sandler, Mr. and Mrs. William Rouhac, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Alliance members present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dacus, Mr. Olie Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Ruddy Gerrin, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Levi-son, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Prestige and Mrs. Amanda Smith.

Miss Katie Beasley of 3501 Burdette St., gave a reception at the FWCA for her cousin Mr. James Murray and his bride Mrs. Luvnia Stone Murray, both of St. Paul. The hostesses were Auryne Kincaid, Bernice Murdock, Johnice Harsten, Maty Yancey, Mildred Green and Mrs. Inice Merrill. Mr. and Mrs. James Murray returned to their home in St. Paul Thursday October 2, 1941. They reported that they enjoyed their stay here in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller, 923 North 25th Avenue were the proud parents of a baby girl.

Mr. and Cleo Ewing 930 1-2 N. 27th St. were the proud parents of a boy.

Mrs. Aleene Taylor of San Francisco, who recently visited New York, spent a few days as house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Triplett on Wirt street at 2711.

Mrs. Taylor attended the Louts Nova prize fight while in New York. Mrs. Taylor has returned to her home.

MUSICIANS' CORNER

"Personalities in The NEWS"

HI HO Everybody, I hope your all feeling fine... I am jumping off for a week end visit to Chicago to bring back to you the latest in music find, there. Haven't been to the windy city of Chicago for quite some time. Perhaps I may discover a very nice personality for my next weeks column. I hope so at least. Oh! yes... I knew there was something else. There is a very charming young lady whose first name is Lydia. She sings in an ensemble here in town. They tell me she has a voice of exceptional brilliance. Don't know her last name yet. However by next week I am hoping to know not only her last name, but also a great deal as to her musical ability. As soon as I learn this info. I'll let you know the know. Until then don't forget I'll be thinking of you in Chicago.

Boodbye now!
—The PRINCE.

ENJOYS "QUEEN ESTHER"

The Omaha Guide:
2418 Grant St.
Omaha, Nebraska,

Dear Sirs:

Mrs. Thomsen and I on Friday, October 10th, were privileged to see the presentation of Queen Esther at St. John's A.M.E. Church. We were both delighted with the execution of the various parts and the ability displayed. The music was excellent. The fine folks who took part are to be commended for their skill and training. The leaders are to be commended for what we recognize to be hours and hours of hard labor to perfect such a production.

Yours very truly,
Arthur C. Thomsen.
District Judge.

THE BEAULAH BAPTIST CHURCH

Council Bluffs, Iowa.
The services for the day was very good. Sunday school was open by the Supt. Deacon Burks at 9:30 a. m. and it was largely attended, and the spirit of God was very high.

The eleven o'clock service was well attended. The pastor in charge, Rev. E. Green preached a very good sermon. Subject "Use What You Got that they might believe." Text Exodus 4th chapter 2nd verse. ## ...Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY BUREAU

The Larieuse Beauty Bureau was established by the Godfrey Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

These tingling October days make it exciting to start out on a beauty-making program, and if you find yourself with that up-and-down feeling this bright morning, seize the mood and make something of it!

Exercise is a must, whether you like it or not. The basic exercises approved by leading health authorities are quite simple—and here is a trick to make them more fun and more beneficial. A noted New York Beauty Salon, which believes in the value of stretching for beauty and relaxation, has put an exercise aid on the market. This gadget is simply a piece of tough elastic with loops at each end in which to slip the hands and the feet during your exercises. If this isn't available, you can make one yourself which will serve very well.

Here are some of the stretching exercises recommended by this authority. We've tried them, and they are fun and downright sensible.

1. Lie on your back and put your hands in the loops of your elastic strip. Place your feet in the middle of the elastic and push them up until your knees are straight and legs at a right angle to the body.
2. Sit on the floor with knees drawn up like both ends of the elastic in one hand, hold the center with the other, and stretch your arms high above your head and as far apart as the elastic will allow.
3. Lie on your back, put both loops of the elastic on one foot, the other foot in the center of the elastic. Raise your legs, stretching them as far apart as possible, then lower them slowly.
4. Stand erect with both arms over your head, one hand in each loop. Pull one arm straight down to the side, keeping the other arm straight. Repeat with the other arm.
5. Sit erect, grasping the ends of the elastic and stretch your arms wide over your head. Rock hard on the hips.
6. Stand up, with feet about a foot apart. Hold the elastic taut over your head and swing torso from side to side, without relaxing the stretched elastic.
7. Now you go flat on the floor, with knees bent and feet on the floor. Loop the elastic over your feet and stretch one leg straight up, then lower it and repeat with the other leg.
8. Lie on your back with arms outstretched at shoulder level, feet straight up in the air. With the elastic loops over your feet, swing your legs from side to side, touching the floor at each side, and keeping the elastic taut.
9. Finally, sit with your knees straight, toes up and heels forward. Lie down and sit up again as slowly as possible.

If you make your own exercise aid, be sure that the elastic is strong enough to make it real exercise to stretch it. This extra stretching, added to the familiar exercises is a splendid idea. A few minutes of these exercises every morning—and we mean every morning—will help you gain the lithe, young figure that you want.

It takes a little will power—but it works!

What are your beauty problems?

This Week In Religion and Thought

BY ROBT. L. MOODY
TOYS AND DEFENSE

World affairs and conditions have forced us to think of defense in every phase of our daily living. Toy manufacturers in the United States agree that the American way of life, can be taught through play.

This Christmas the children will receive toys which will suggest and teach the various methods of military and other phases of defense. They will not only emphasize these but they will also teach by the use of toys which will specially demonstrate American methods of homemaking, art, science, transportation, engineering, building and industrial production.

This is not beginning of training through play, but stress is being greatly increased along this line. This will give children constructive play for physical, mental and social development.

WAITERS' COLUMN

(BY H. W. SMITH)
We had the pleasure of being one of the extra waiters at the Omaha Athletic Club on October 9th and oh say was it an evening of good fellowship for this writer. As we all know it is always good weather when good fellows get together. We had the opportunity to exchange a few words with the manager Mr. Jack Ager, who was one of our best friends when this writer was one of the regular employees. Having a very sick wife at that time, he was a friend indeed, as I was very much in need. We shall always think very kindly of him.

FONTENELLE HOTEL

Now as the Cornation Ball is in the makin... the Fontenelle hotel will be all dressed up as the elite of Nebraskans will be out in full bloom at the ball and the waiters will be on the job and when the King and Queen appears on the scene, it will be very pleasing to the eyes to look at them and Mr. Underwood and Mr. Reed will do double Service instructing the boys how to double quick step forward march, as they have went through the performance themselves before. Now let's all give them a hand. Hats off to the boys!

Mr. John Evans was making double quick steps on October 7th as the 4th Club was at the Rome Hotel with bells on and about 550 strong, and the waiters served them in double quick time, and do you know Brother John Evans is a very fast waiter as he covers so much ground in every step he takes.

The Cottonwood Room at the Blackstone Hotel is on the top in decorations as the high class trade continues. Mr. C. C. Jones and his crew of waiters are out in the front. Mr. Avant the Streamlined Room Service man is tops at all times.

FLASH!
The Omaha Guide should be in every home as it has all the news. Join the NAACP, and help your cause along.

MAJOR SMITH, LONG TIME RESIDENT OF NEBRASKA AND EMPLOYE AT STATE-HOUSE, PASSES

Rev. Isaac B. "Major" Smith, 88, popular Negro interdepartmental messenger and mailman at the state capitol since the administration of Adam McMullen, 1925-1929, died Thursday night at his home, 645 South 20th.

A teacher, preacher, linguist, and bank clerk before assuming his capitol responsibilities, he was widely known among Nebraskans and was called "Major" by his many acquaintances, made at the statehouse. He suffered a heart attack last month and was unable to return to his work.

A resident of Lincoln for 27 years, Smith was also a prominent personage in fraternal circles, being past master of Lebanon Lodge No. 3 and past patron of Amaranthus lodge No. 3, AF&AM. He was also past grand secretary of the Nebraska Grand Lodge Negro section, AF&AM.

AFFILIATED WITH A.M.E.

He was affiliated with the African Methodist Church and the Cornhusker lodge of the Order of Elks. Surviving are his wife, Annie; a son, Isaac B., Jr., New York and a granddaughter.

Born in Providence, R. I., he taught school in South Carolina, part of the time on the plantation of a U. S. senator, before coming to Lincoln. He later obtained a better school, now known as the Lincoln high school, in Sumter, S. C.

He then was drawn to Nebraska according to a brief autobiography he wrote in 1932, by the slogan "Equality Before the Law." Smith lived for a number of years at Beatrice, where as a steward for the Elks, he became well and favor-

JOOP THE GIRAFFE WILL SOON GREET OMAHA CHILDREN AGAIN

YES Joop is coming back with a brand new Junior Programs production, written and played exclusively for children. The Adventures of Marco Polo are to be colorfully presented in a Music-Drama at Tech High on Nov. 6th and 7th. Admission this year will be 13c plus 2c tax and tickets will soon be on sale at the schools.

The story is being told to children throughout the schools. The Public Library has a special shelf of books including stories, history, costumes, customs, music, dances, etc., of Venice when Marco was a boy as well as far-away China and the court of KUHLAI KHAN. A victor recording of the play is being circulated through the schools. This recording was made by the same people who will appear in the production in Omaha. Children of Omaha will no doubt be singing the song of the Three Wise Monkeys who would SEE NO EVIL, HEAR NO EVIL, SPEAK NO EVIL.

Enjoyment of any play, ballet, or opera is, of course based upon understanding. With that thought in mind greater preparation for full enjoyment of this rollicking adventure story, than for any previous Junior Programs productions, is being offered.

The Nation Depends on Metals

Defense weapons and telephone lines and equipment contain a great deal of copper, aluminum, zinc and other metals. National defense is taking much of the available supply.

Already the telephone business is using substitutes for some metals but there is no known substitute for copper for telephone wires in cities and between towns and soon we may not be able to get any copper for additional telephone plant except as it is considered essential to national defense.
