Is Your Laxative a Popular One? In laxatives, as in people, it takes "something extra" to get to the top and stay there. BLACK-DRAUGHT has been one of the popular laxatives with four generations of Americans. That's one reason you ought to try this all-vegetable medicine next. You'll discover an all-around good laxative. Spicy, aromatic, easy-to-take. Punctual and thorough, yet usually gentle in its action when simple directions are followed. The main reason for all this is a "tonic-laxative" ingredient in BLACK-DRAUGHT that helps to tone lazy intestinal muscles.

Dark Laughter . . . . . BY OL HARRINGTON

Madam would you tell us if a very dear friend of ours—a fellow named Bootsie-lives here?

communication devices. We have about a hundred different military research jobs under way and a large proportion of the 2,000 scientists and engineers on our Bell Telephone Laboratories staff are devoting their full time to this work.

Our manufacturing branch, the Western Electric Company, is supplying great quantities of telephone and radio equipment for the army and navy. Among the many things that are being produced are tens of thousands of radiotelephone sets for training and combat planes. Also, there are special field telephones, switch boards and wire for the army, and complete communicating systems for new battleships and for aircraft carriers. There are many other new devices, such as, for instance, a new microphone for the pilots of fighting planes which fits around the pilot's throat, so that the sound of his voice can be heard clearly, without interference from noise. All of this inventing designing and making of military equipment is an important part of our defense responsibility and is in addition to our regular but greatly increased telephone task.

In conclusion, I want to express my sincere appreciation to the 380,000 men and women of the Bell System for a big job being done in the best Bell System tradition. The credit for this big job first goes to them. Then it goes back further to the system of private initiative and free enterprise which made it possible for them to develop their skills and their abilities. And then, finally, the credit goes back to the very system all of us now are working to defend—our own American democracy.

CHURCHILL ASKED TO REPLY TO NAACP CHARGES New York—The NAACP cabled England's Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Friday, November 14, asking him for a reply to the Association's letter sent by Clipper, September 26. The letter named instances where Negroes had been discriminated against by British agencies operating in this country.

M. J.—What is wrong with my feet and my head pains me something terrible. I want to send for my reading when it gets ready? Ans: You must go to a reliable doctor there in your city for treatment. He can diagnose your case and help you. Yes, the new 1942 Astrology Readings are ready now. The prices is 25c. Send for yours anytime.

B. C. T.—I have married the third time. My second husband still pulls after me and I can't help myself loving him. I love him so hard. This man I am married to is real nice to me in every way. But everytime I see my second husband he will buy me cold drinks and be nice. Does he love me or just playing?

L. S.—Please let me know if you think I should take the job that has been offered me about 200 miles away? Ans: Take it. At the present time you are badly in need of a change, especially what happened the first of October. The new job will make it possible for you to meet new high type friends and that is exactly what you need.

N. B. R.—I was with a man 12 years and we have two children. We separate because he likes the night life and I don't. He is begging me back right now since he found out a nice, high type man with plenty of money is going with me. The new man wants to marry me too. Tell me what to do and which one to marry. The first man says he will marry me now.

Mrs. 28—I have been reading your column for a long time and enjoy it as you help people. Now I have a problem. My husband and I have been married for two years. The first year we were lovely as we loved each other so much but now things have changed. He is so jealous if I go across the street and he is staying out too. Tell me what to do. Ans: Both you and your husband need a good old fashioned SPANKING. . . . it is very unfortunate that you two people could not see far enough ahead to behave yourselves and live true to one another. Your husband isn't doing anything that you aren't. . . . both of you are to blame. Now stop this running around cheating and live true to one another and you can get along and be happy again.

A. E. L.—I started to write you before but I was ashamed. I know that I did my wife wrong so please help me and tell me what to do to get her back again. I love my wife but some people are talking. Write me and I will do anything that you say. Ans: Go to your wife and ask forgiveness. Be sure that you have money in your pocket to dress her up for that will go a long way toward winning her back after the break she has recently. Your wife is no fool. . . . if you try any of your monkey business with her again, she will throw you down and she will never change her mind. Live up to your marriage code.

Write me and I will do anything that you say. Ans: Go to your wife and ask forgiveness. Be sure that you have money in your pocket to dress her up for that will go a long way toward winning her back after the break she has recently. Your wife is no fool. . . . if you try any of your monkey business with her again, she will throw you down and she will never change her mind. Live up to your marriage code.

Mrs. 28—I have been reading your column for a long time and enjoy it as you help people. Now I have a problem. My husband and I have been married for two years. The first year we were lovely as we loved each other so much but now things have changed. He is so jealous if I go across the street and he is staying out too. Tell me what to do. Ans: Both you and your husband need a good old fashioned SPANKING. . . . it is very unfortunate that you two people could not see far enough ahead to behave yourselves and live true to one another. Your husband isn't doing anything that you aren't. . . . both of you are to blame. Now stop this running around cheating and live true to one another and you can get along and be happy again.

A. E. L.—I started to write you before but I was ashamed. I know that I did my wife wrong so please help me and tell me what to do to get her back again. I love my wife but some people are talking. Write me and I will do anything that you say. Ans: Go to your wife and ask forgiveness. Be sure that you have money in your pocket to dress her up for that will go a long way toward winning her back after the break she has recently. Your wife is no fool. . . . if you try any of your monkey business with her again, she will throw you down and she will never change her mind. Live up to your marriage code.
