Farmer, lineman, business man, professional man... all working together in America's all-out program for Victory!

Our farmers are doing a big job! Wheat, corn, potatoes, beans and other nourishing foods—in greater abundance than ever before—are vital to America's victory program.

Because of war needs, metals and other materials are not available now for service extensions unless absolutely necessary for defense or public health and safety. But our Company is gladly continuing assistance to farmers now receiving dependable, low-cost electric service.

fill them immediately," he said. He called attention to the following excerpts from a statement issued in Washington by Jonathan Daniels, assistant national civilian defense director. Said Mr. Daniels:

"War industry, the coke ovens used in making steel, the railroads and the power generating stations will need from 10 to 20 percent more coal this year. This increase will begin to be felt after midsummer. There simply will not be enough locomotives and cars, coal, ships and barges, to supply all the needs of the domestic market after midsummer, if buyers wait to order coal. This means home owners and small consumers must fill up their coal bins now and find extra storage space for additional coal.

In foresighted early purchasing of coal "we can help ourselves and at the same time help the government by easing the strain on the transportation system," Director Scholtz commented. "Buying Coal Now thus becomes another way in which we on the home front may aid in the war effort. It becomes our duty to take care of our coal needs early so that there can be no public appeal next winter for shipping of coal for domestic needs in cars and barges that should be carrying coal to war industries. It is up to us to see to it that there is no shortage of transportation facilities to provide coal to keep these industries going at top speed to supply equipment to our men on the fighting fronts.

"Coal dealers are doing their part in advertising to the public the need for immediate buying for protection against coal bin shortages next winter. They also are offering easypayments. If we do our part as consumers, the problem will be solved.

"This is another situation which should sharply impress upon us the fact that total war demands intelligent public action to keep production rolling and domestic needs supplied."

DRAWINGS BY NEGRO ARTIST FEATURE NEW ADVERTISING SERIES

NEW YORK—An advertising campaign in which a series of illustrations drawn especially for the purpose by E. Simms Campbell, well known Negro artist, is featured, has been planned to run in this newspaper by Schenley Distillers Corporation.

The advertisements are for Cream of Kentucky whiskey, a product of the Schenley company. The first illustration drawn by Campbell for the new series was of Ike Murphy, famous Negro Kentucky Derby jockey. The succeeding drawings are character studies of various types.

WOOL CLIPS TO BE COLLECTED BY RED CROSS

Wool clips, principally the prohibited cuffs from men's and boy's trousers, collected from the clothing stores of Douglas County are to be turned in at the Red Cross Chapter House, 208 South 33rd Street, according to official notification from the War Production Board received this week by the chapter. Under the arrangement worked out by Irving Squires for the WPB clothing section and Mrs. Dwight Davis, director of volunteer service for the national Red Cross, the local chapters of the Red Cross are to collect the wool clips and dispose of them into channels for reprocessing into wool cloth for defense and essential civilian uses.

In return for undertaking the job as collection agency, the local Red Cross chapters of the county will gain between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 annually for their war time budgets, Mr. Squires said, and cuff material removed from some 50,000,000 pairs of trousers now on hand in retail and wholesale stocks will make available enough wool cloth to manufacture at least 300,000 suits.

Mrs. Jack Abajian, co-director of volunteer service for the Douglas County Red Cross, is also issuing an appeal for blankets and quilts for foreign war relief and civilian defense. "During spring house cleaning, some Omaha households may find that they have more quilts or blankets than they need," she says. "We will appreciate the donation of such bed covers for the Red Cross here and abroad. Organizations or individuals having new completed garments of clothing to give away are also asked to remember the Red Cross regardless of the type of clothing they have made, and new wool scraps and pieces of all kinds are welcome at the chapter house for various uses.

U. S. ACCUSES SEVEN, INDICTS THREE, IN SOJOURNER TRUTH RIOT

had been executed. The second count charged a "seditious conspiracy to prevent, hinder and delay execution of any law of the United States."

Maximum penalty on the first count is $5,000 fine and ten years imprisonment, and on the second count $5,000 fine and six years imprisonment. The men were indicted for violations of civil rights under Section 51, Title 18, U. S. Code, and under Section 6, Title 18 U. S. Code.

The indictment charges that the defendants for some time prior to February 28, and up to and including the date of presenting and return of the indictment, have caused picket lines to be maintained around the housing project for the purpose of preventing occupancy by the tenants; that they have publicly threatened rioting and bloodshed if Negro tenants attempted to occupy the project; that they have induced other members of the National Workers League and the Seven Mile Penelon Improvement Association to engage in picketing the project; and that they have prevented by force, "the authorized agents of the Federal Works Administrator, to wit, Guy C. Larson and the members of the Detroit Housing Commission, from installing said citizens as tenants in said Sojourner Truth Housing Project, in lawful execution" of Federal Statute.

The indictments by the federal grand jury climaxed twenty-four hours of rapid developments here on the Sojourner Truth situation. On April 15 the federal government instructed the Detroit Housing Commission to proceed with filling the Sojourner Truth Housing Project with Negro occupants. John B. Blandford, Jr., National Housing Administrator wired the Commission placing the responsibility for effecting tenancy with the Detroit City Government.

"Please proceed as soon as feasible with the established program for the occupancy of the Sojourner Truth Project" the telegram said. Commenting on the telegram Mr. Blandford said: "We are at war. Men of all races and creeds are marching in our armed forces and are at work in our vast war industries. That is the spirit of American democracy.

"By the same token, war workers and their families must have adequate homes, regardless of race or creed, if the country's output of planes, tanks, ships and machines is to grow in sufficient volume to win the war."

The second development was the resignation of Frank D. Eaman, Police Commissioner. Eaman had been in office about two years. On all sides it was denied that he had resigned because of the Sojourner Truth controversy, but it is significant that the Police under Commissioner Eaman did as much, if not more, to prevent Negroes from occupying Sojourner Truth as the so-called white rioters did. It is the opinion of Detroiters that the police department joined with white residents to keep Negroes out of the project.

Within a few hours after the federal government announced that Negroes must be moved in, and that Detroit city officials would have the responsibility of carrying out the order, Commissioner Eaman resigned. It is believed among the Negro population that he is resigning rather than carry out the orders of the federal government.

The indictments came as a result of an FBI investigation by the Department of Justice based upon possible violations of section 51, Title 18, U. S. Code, the so-called civil rights laws. The legal department of the NAACP has been urging action by the Department of Justice under Title 18 for a number of years and in 1940 Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, submitted a comprehensive memorandum to the Department of Justice citing cases involving Negroes where he believed the department could act under Section 51, Title 18.

On March 5, a few days after the riot at Sojourner Truth, Walter White, NAACP Secretary conferred with housing officials in Washington and urged FBI action. On March 9, Attorney General Francis Biddle authorized a federal grand jury investigation and on March 10 Frank H. Patton, special assistant to the attorney general, was sent from Washington to Chicago, April 21 (ANP) Willard Saxby Townsend, hard fighting national president of the powerful United Transport Service Employees of America, stand this week that the UTSEA is now engaged in negotiations with Phil Murray, president of CIO to clear the way for bringing Townsend's 25,000 railroad employes into the CIO.

If the deal goes through it will represent the greatest gain the CIO has been able to make in the railroad industry. With the A. P. Randolph's Pullman porters at Detroit to take charge of the case. Mr. Patton presented the case for the government to the Grand Jury. Roy Wilkins, assistant secretary of the NAACP, and Victor W. Rotnam, assistant United States Attorney General and head of the Civil Liberties section of the Department of Justice, arrived in Detroit, Wednesday, April 15. Mr. Wilkins was present with Mr. Rotnam in the federal building when the indictments were returned by the grand jury.

Immediately following the telegram from Mr. Blandford, city and state officials held a conference in Lansing with Governor Van Wagener and army officials and state police heads in an attempt to devise a method of introducing Negro tenants into the Sojourner Truth project.

MOVE TO SPEED N. ORLEANS TEACHERS' SALARY CASE

New Orleans, La.—Action to speed up the prosecution of the suit for equal pay to Negro teachers here was taken when Joseph F. McKelpin, local teacher, filed a motion Thursday April 16, in the U. S. district court of Louisiana to advance the case on the docket. Acting for McKelpin are Attorneys A. P. Turgaud, of New Orleans and Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel.

The motion states that "unless this cause is advanced on the docket for a speedy hearing it will cause hardship to the plaintiff in that the next budget of the Orleans Parish school board is to be made up in June, at which time the mover's salary and the salaries of other teachers will be fixed for the next fiscal year."

ready in the AFL, the affiliation of the UTSEA with CIO will give each of the dominant labor groups an international union completely controlled by Negroes.

I a letter to George F. McCray, director of the Midwest Labor Service bureau, Townsend gave the following reasons for seeking to end five years of existence as an unaffiliated organization: "We are now a strong and well established organization with contracts with all the important railroads in the United States and since we are fully aware of the problems confronting labor and our country under the stress of war and the need to achieve victory as quickly as possible, we want to pool our strength with labor and management for the common good.

"Moreover," Townsend stated, "we hope by our example of seeking organic ties with organized labor, to strengthen the fight to integrate Negro defense workers and all other workers in the labor movement and in the industries of our nation."

Final disposition of the question of affiliation with CIO will be made at the UTSEA convention in Cincinnati, May 17-19.
