

A MESSAGE TO GALLOWAY

Both Booker T. Washington, and his brother, Charles Washington, 2057 Florence Boulevard, dropped into the office and congratulated me on trying to add a little life to the GUIDE columns.

And the little seventeen-month old Judy Washington, the mascot of the district Red Cross organization, received a severe cut in an automobile accident, the other evening.

C. C. please let me quote something from "This World" appearing in the Minneapolis Spokesman. You know that the paper published and edited by our mutual friend, Cecil E. Newman, of Minneapolis. He says, in part:

"A lot of people have no idea how many jobs a small editor has. He is usually and is, in this instance, a jack of all trades. He's a part time office boy and janitor, telephone answerer, collector, ad sales manager, circulation manager, makeup man, information clerk, what is America Fighting For?

Freedom for the Future! (One of the Essentials of a Democracy)

The Liberty Bell enshrined in Independence Hall symbolizes the first successful fight by Americans for the right to plan their own lives . . . the right to build their own future.

In America—and only in America—every citizen can set his own goal with the right to work toward it unhampered by any system of caste or class . . . serene in the knowledge that he and his loved ones can ultimately enjoy the peace and security his labors have won.

Freedom of the future—the right of every American to earn his living as he chooses—to gain and hold success through his own initiative, careful planning and hard work. To many peoples of this earth that is only a beautiful ideal. In America it is a reality—a reality worth fighting for hard, as long as it may take, until Victory!

town trouble shooter, financial wizard, social worker, job finder, editor and publisher. As your assistant, C. C. I certainly can appreciate what Newman is writing about, but I like it, and with the assistance of your office secretary, Miss Bernice Gray, the work is a pleasure, and I wouldn't trade jobs with any, unless, probably, it was with a larger paper, with more diversified jobs. But, no, that isn't necessary, we can make the GUIDE larger.

Do you know a Mrs. Bertha Hawkins, C. C.? She is a widow. She lives at 2210 Ohio Street. Every time she sees me, no matter where, we stop and chin awhile. She says she knows you well.

I notice, C. C. that you get mail from Boy's Town regularly. Well, Mrs. Margaret Smith's boy, Louis Wilson, 11 years old, is now at Boy's Town. Mrs. Smith lives at 2815 Seward Street.

What is that pavilion-like building on 26th Street between Grant and Erskine Streets?

C. C. it would never do to have me as one of the judges of some local beauty contest or other. I'm meeting these lovely Omaha ladies every day and each seems more attractive than the other, if that is possible. I say that because I am thinking of Mrs. Theresa Lewis 2122

North 21st Street, who has just gotten over a bad case of LaGrippe.

Hot days are coming, C. C. And do you know that because of some kind of priority rulings that ice can be delivered but once a day? I didn't know it until I called on Mrs. Daisy Perry, 2914 Lake Street. You know she and her husband are in the transfer and ice business. She told me that but one delivery a day can be made on ice now, although people can call at the local ice stations, including their own, and purchase as often, and as much, as much as they please.

I also learned from Mrs. Perry that the Mr. and Mrs. John C. Adams, of Lincoln, were recent visitors of theirs.

It's too bad but Mrs. N. A. Perkins, 1844 North 20th Street, has been sick in bed for quite awhile.

One of the pleasant receipts of the week, C. C. was a "roundtable" letter from Michigan. It was a three page affair with every member of the "We're All Americans" committee each writing a portion of the letter. Gee, it feels swell to know that friends elsewhere think of you.

A detective-sergeant P. H. Jenkins, of Miami Street, I believe, halted me one evening, and congratulated me upon my journalistic efforts here. Is he a subscriber of you, C. C.?

"King Jesus is My Captain." . . . is the name of a rollicking choral number that I heard, Sunday, at the Bethel A.M.E. Church, 2428 Franklin Street, pastored by the Rev. B. E. Jones.

Or is it sacrilegious to call a choral number "rollickin'g"? Anyway I enjoyed it.

I enjoyed the services, except for one thing. At the close the pastor, the Rev. Jones, publicly introduced me to his congregation. I like to go, watch, hear, and observe things but I do not like to be noticed. Perhaps that is the wrong spirit but it is my nature. If I have any expression to make I like to make it unaware of those contacted. However, the Reverend was very sociable and I surely shall attend there often.

I also met Sgt. George Bevias, while there. You know the Sergeant is an old war veteran and each week he writes of his experiences in our contemporary, the Star.

By the way, C. C. who is the choir director at Bethel? And, particularly, who is the little pianist?

C. C. do you think I am a miracle man? Well, I'll have to be one if I hope to stay in the good graces of Mrs. Bertha Johnson, 2324 Charles Street. Remember, last week, I wrote something about the dog "Dopey" and credited the information from her. Well, I was all wet. The dog didn't die. It was the master, Sgt. Riley that died. The dog is still alive. "Long Live Dopey!" How's that Bertha?

I told you something about the Richard Turners last week. Well, one of them. (I think he is of the third generation.) Anyway he works at the bomber plant and he asked me why more colored women didn't try to get jobs out there. He said that foreign women get jobs but, apparently the colored women do not try. Upon inquiry I learned that colored women could be used for maids, dusters, and in the kitchen. All that is required is that the women be in good health; have a birth certificate, and an application picture. They should file their applications any morning at the employment office at Meade and Nebraska.

Well, there you are, Richard Turner. If some of the colored women do apply, and are qualified, and don't get jobs, please let me know.

COMING TO THE RITZ

May 24 - 25

Hattie Noel has been cast in a prominent role in Republic's big-budget production, "Lady For A Night," in which Joan Blondell and John Wayne are co-starred, with a strong supporting cast headed by Ray Middleton, Philip Merivale, Blanche Yurka, Edith Barrett, and Leonid Kinskey. Miss Noel has been seen in many films, and is one of Hollywood's most popular negro players.

and we will write further.

A happy little lady is Mrs. Lillian King, 1103 North 23rd Street, for soon she will be moving into her own home at 958 North 25th Avenue. That's enough to make any young housewife happy, isn't it?

From Mason City, Iowa, was Mrs. Ella Higsby visiting her son, and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Finney, 2016 North 22nd Street. No need to tell you that Mrs. Higsby was highly entertained while here.

A little sympathy is extended to Mrs. Al Scott, 1912 North 25th Street, for she has been having more than her share of sickness in the family lately.

C. C. Can you imagine an old guy like me having romantic moments? One evening, a pretty little girl, about 19, walked into the office. Needless to say she certainly was pleasing to look at. But she merely wanted to tell me that she is an aspiring evangelist; that she talks every Wednesday evening, at the Mt. Calvary Community Church, 25th and Grant, at 8 o'clock, and invited me in to listen to her. To support her bit of evangelism are Miss Doris Ransom, and Miss Teresa Union, singers, and Mrs. Charlotte Sinner, pianist. If you don't see me Wednesday night, C. C. you know where I'll be—maybe.

I had quite a chat with the Rev. L. W. Anderson, pastor of the Morning Star Baptist Church, 26th and Franklin Streets. He had just gotten back from a visiting trip to Kansas City. I don't suppose I should mention it but he sure was keyed up about the progressive spirit of the people in Kansas City. (However, they always told me that the distant fields always looked the greenest.) And in a lifetime of traveling everywhere I have found out that is true. I'm sure, however, the Reverend brought back some of that Kansas City progressiveness and will use it right here in Omaha to build up the Morning Star Baptist Church. I'll be glad to help in any way I can, although publicity is my only forte. If that is of any assistance, Reverend, it's yours.

Was that the "World of Today" carnival that spent the week at 30th and Wirt Streets?

Met another niece of yours, C. C. She's Mrs. Ophelia Harris, 1829 North 22nd Street.

I'll have to apologize, C. C. I must be getting old? I simply can't remember all the things I intended to mention. Please excuse me, but I promise, definitely, that by next week I'll bring you up-to-date on the things I've heard and seen lately. Please be with me then, will you? Thanks!

GODEFROY NEGRO EMPLOYEES GET 2-WEEK PAID VACATIONS

The Godefroy Manufacturing Co., St. Louis, makers of Larieuse Hair Colorink, has announced that all employees of the company will be given two weeks vacation with pay from July 3rd to July 20th.

The practice of shutting down the plant completely for two weeks, and giving all employees a vacation with pay over the same period, was established several years ago.

Mr. C. W. Godefroy, President, says, "When we first started this simultaneous vacation plan, which naturally includes our negro employees, still swas not even on the horizon. Nothing has happened to change my feeling that vacations with pay are a worthwhile contribution to morale and efficiency. We are pleased to be able to continue this plan in 1942, even under today's conditions."

Especially good eyesight to help America win the war is emphasized by the above chart which is one of a series based upon a vision survey conducted by Drs. Hugh A. Kuhn and Hedwig S. Kuhn of Hammond, Ind., among 16,332 industrial workers of the Calumet area. As reported by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness showed that 76 percent had various defects of visual performance, while 15 percent had defects serious enough to handicap their industrial efficiency, or ability to produce—a serious menace during war-time.

PROTECTION OF EYESIGHT IN WARTIME

(by Eleanor Brown Merrill, Director Executive National Society for the Prevention of Blindness)

All loyal Americans are united in their support of our country's war program. It should not take a war to make us all conscious of the importance of sight, but times like these make us realize, more than ever, the importance of good eyes.

Not only are good eyes necessary for men in the army, but also for men who are working in plants that are making war materials. The expansion and speed up of production in various industries during the war period have, of course, increased the hazards which result in eye injuries and other types of accidents. The most serious kind of industrial injuries . . . except for those which are fatal . . . are accidents to eyes that result in blindness.

We need today, more than ever, all of our trained workmen, and we cannot afford to lose the services of any of them through carelessness or negligence in providing eye protection.
