This week's Editorial Review

THIS YEARS GRADUATES

Graduates (we salute you. But you fairly ask us whether? Frankly, we answer, God only knows; we don't. Our generation has made a mess of the world, and we have nothing to leave you, on the threshold of your maturity, but tragedy and war and ruin, a debt which the next ten generations will have to pay. We hope that our generation will slay Hitlerism and bury it, so that you may have freedom to repair the damage our generation has done in the world.

We know why we have had this tragedy. We have had it because we loved greed and selfishness and wrong more than right and justice. We made a world based upon force in all its phases and forms and we are reaping the harvest of our folly. And we say to you as you enter life, turn away from the false gods we worshipped, for ours were the gods of evil and destruction; yours must be the gods of construction and service. Guided by them you must rebuild, not only the physical world, but our whole structure. Your religion must be one of brotherhood and humanity.

May the God of heaven guide you in the trying period which you now enter. Bind up the wounds of the world and make men and women BELIEVE AND HOPE AGAIN.

THE TAX CRUSADE

Just now a tax crusade is on and the County Attorney is bringing tax foreclosure actions right and left, and the "tax Buyers" are waiting and watching for "Bargains".

We hope that this crusade is on the level and not one being conducted just before election. We hope, also, that none of the suits has the "squeeze" element in it. Maybe, there is no such thing now-days.

The home owners should make every effort to protect their homes from loss through this means, and they should get legal advice on the question. If they do not have money to pay the taxes, they should apply for a "tax deferral" or "tax abatement" before the county auditor.

ey with which to pay an attorney we are sure the Public Defender would gladly advise them. And while we are on the subject, we might add a word about taxes in the district where colored people own property. For tax purposes their property, proportionately, is much more valuable than property located anywhere else in Omaha; but as security for loans from the loan companies, it is worthless, because loans cannot be obtained on it.

This is a condition which is most unhealthy, and represents a condition comparable to Nazism toward Jews in Germany. It is one of the conditions which Germany has discussed a great deal during her Second World War. It is about time for a change. ow about it, loan companies?

Meantime, do the best you can about paying your taxes.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY HAS A DUTY TOO

In the midst of this war the Republican party has a duty to perform no less important than that of the party in power in the Nation. Its representatives in the Congress should state frankly its post-war aims, as it has stated its war aims. Moreover, it should insist that the democratic party in power state its war aims.

Does the present administration stand upon the "Atlantic Charter" the speech of Vice President Wallace, or the speech of Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles? Or shall the Republican party through its representatives in Congress, declare for a vigorous prosecution of the war and the winning of it, with its aim of giving to all peoples and colors and creeds equal opportunity in the world.

We think the Republican party should declare its aims and demand that the party in power conform to the principles they set forth, if they are right and just.

Is the war being fought to win democracy, in fact, for everyone in every land? Will democracy be extended to American Negroes after the war? Everybody knows they do not enjoy it now. On every hand this is being admitted. Such conservative publications as "Modern Industry" and "Fortune Magazine" have recently pointed out that ten percent of the nation's man power is not being used because of "color prejudice".

Is this to end now and remain extinct after the war, or be made a part of the world effort to give democracy to everyone?

When the Republican party demands of the party in power an answer to these questions, we will think it justly vital.

Let us know about these things before we begin to vote for members of Congress this Fall. And remember, the Republican Party, no less than the Democratic Party, has a duty, too.

ASTROLOGY READING for 1942 GUIDING LIGHT on your HUMAN RELATION PROBLEMS by ABBE WALLACE SERVICE "Let Us Reason Together In Wisdom and Understanding"

M. E. R.—I want to ask a question in behalf of my son. He does not have satisfaction in his home with his wife. And I would like to know what is wrong. Can you help me to guide my son right in his marriage?

Ans: Circumstances arose that forced him into marriage before he was ready to assume the responsibility of a family. The friction that has existed between them has kept them from realizing the true meaning of marriage. You shouldn't show partiality one way or another. Encourage them to forget the misunderstandings of the past, and try to help them to live a normal married life. They aren't kids any longer. It's time they put away their childish habits.

B. B. A.—I am wanting to know how my husband can get his birth record. Tell us what we could or should do to clear this matter up as he has a job if he can get this record. I need an answer right away.

Ans: Since there was no record made in your state of your husband's birth, he must produce evidence that will verify his correct age. Get a written statement from his mother, one from his father, ... giving time of birth, place of birth, both county and state and have each statement notarized. If he has insurance papers, present them to the State House, Bureau of Vital Statistics in the State where he was born. If a family Bible record of his birth can be obtained, that record would be preferable above anything else. This information should be sufficient to get the record. If there is any further information you would like on this subject you may write me privately.

A. M. S.—I was with a man 7 years, 7 months and 3 days. We parted about another woman. I caught him and that woman hugging and kissing on New Year's night. The next day he caught me with a man and I left him. Last Saturday he came and talked to me and said he and this woman were thru and he wanted me to take him back. I still love him. Should I take him back?

Ans: No, wait awhile. If he loves you as much as he is trying to convince you at the present time, he will prove it with a wedding ring and marriage certificate. He's had his fling... and needless to say, you have had yours. During this time, you have realized the insecurity of such relationships. Marriage is the only happy solution to your problem.

E. S.—Will my hair dressing business be a success, or must I stop altogether. My husband doesn't have regular work and my business helps out a lot. I'm hearing a lot of gossip and it makes me a little afraid. And I would like to know what to do.

A MESSAGE TO GALLOWAY

Every possible convenience is built into the home and it is furnished lavishly. Truly, the happy married life of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Tapp is indeed a success story. Now retired, Mr. Tapp spends his days and nights in quiet and happy solitude with his helpmate who for over twenty years has labored with him in making the ideal home.

Little Margaret Louise Whitey, daughter of Mrs. Marjorie Whitey, 2762 Grant Street, had a most enjoyable birthday party on the tenth. Her eighth.

Another birthday party was that of Mrs. Frances Redd, 2515 Patrick Avenue, recently, when she entertained thirty-five guests at a luncheon and house party.

Little Gloria Brewer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brewer, 1518 North 26th Street, was recently burned on the leg, although she is coming along nicely now. The little girl is the niece of Mrs. Susie Redd, 2996 Blondo Street.

And Mrs. Redd, and sisters, also had other sisters, the Misses Eva and Rose McCants, of Chicago, to visit here for awhile. It is believed that Rose will remain in Omaha.

Mrs. J. F. Moses, schoolteacher, of Little Rock, Arkansas, is visiting a few weeks with her brother, whom she has not seen for over twenty years, and is staying with her brother and sister-in-law, the Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lamberth's, 3231 Evans Street.

Also, Miss Dorothea Lee Hayes, of Fort Worth, Texas, is staying with the Lamberth's until school starts in September.

Mr. Lamberth, you know, has been in the general hauling business in Omaha for over twenty years.

And Mrs. Ashby Simmons, 2228 Willis Avenue, also has out-of-town guests for the summer, the former Omahans, but now the popular school teachers of Kansas City, Kansas, the Misses Gertrude and Lucky Booker. I understand that they come to Omaha each year to decorate the graves of their parents.

Mrs. Simmons also entertained Mrs. Wm. Marsh, former Omahian, but now of Los Angeles, California, who visited Omaha recently.

Mrs. Beulah Nowling, 5022 25th Street, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Jones, 2324 Evans Street, is on the sick list. Nothing serious, 'tis thought.

Here's another one of those long-time-one-job-men. Wonder why I didn't think of it awhile back when I was writing about others? But this one tops them all for this time. It seems that George Reeves' 2413 Blondo Street, has been working for thirty-one years for the Missouri Pacific as a stationary fireman. Mrs. Sadie McClain, 2619 Caldwell Street, was telling me about him. I forget what the relationship is between them now. I guess you know, anyway?

While talking with Mrs. McClain I thought I was going to be able to revive some recollections about travels in Haiti and San Domingo but it appears that while Mrs. McClain's people came from Haiti she has never been there.

Here's a little church story from San Domingo (on the same island with Haiti). It occurred in one of those primitive out of the way

HORNPIPE IN A CONVOY

AT SEA—PIXPAGE—(Approved by U. S. Navy) In immaculate whites the sailors aboard a U. S. Man-O-War do what seems to be a mixture of buck and wing and sailors' hornpipe during physical drill (note the luxuriant beard of the man left of center) while enroute to a battle zone with a convoy. In the army and navy communicate it was reported that a movement of some 600,000 men to battle stations across the Atlantic, Indian, and Pacific oceans had been carried out in the first three weeks of the war.

Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY BUREAU The Larieuse Beauty Bureau was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

If you've ever thought, "my feet are killing me", then this article is directed to you, because when your feet hurt, your beauty disappears! Tense, haggard lines appear on your face, your disposition is anything but sunny, and your hair turns old and gray—all are direct results of aching feet!

You might say, "It can't happen to me", and we're glad that you take the optimistic point of view. Just the same, we want to warn you that it can happen to you if your shoes are not properly fitted. Of course, there are many creams on the market that will help do away with the lines in your face, and you can touch up those graying hairs with a reliable hair dye, but we predict you'll be a cranky old woman before you should, unless you get the right shoes for your feet.

Now, more than ever before, the proper fit for shoes is of grave importance. America must march on to victory both at home and abroad, on feet that are fit. Women will do more walking, standing and dancing than they have for many years. To do this, they must have their feet firmly on the ground.

In keeping with the feet for victory theme—shoe manufacturers throughout the nation have done a beautiful job of designing smart looking shoes that combine all the valuable points demanded by the patient woman who wants to get her best foot forward. Shoes now have both beauty and comfort, and for the first time in several seasons, you can dress for a tea party in shoes that are comfortable enough to hike in.

Toppling all the styles in popularity seems to be the open toe, cuban heel, pump which is graceful and comfortable for dress-up wear. Open toes have been a delightful comfort to women who have always Sounds. A Sound, as you know is an inlet but hardly worthy the title of a Bay, or Port. Nothing but small water-craft can enter the Sound.

They had no church building there. The weather was always warm and they didn't need to worship inside. But they did have a man-made, with nature's help, church, right on the Sound. The cliff was sheer rock and the men cut into the rock and made a tier, or rather several tiers of hard stone seats, in a sort of semi-circle.

The congregation would come and sit on the side of the cliff in these stone tiers. The preacher had a little barge and he anchored it in the water and then would preach to the congregation. When he got the congregation warmed up the sisters would get happy and commence shouting and then one by one they would jump in the sea and rush out to the barge for the preacher to bless them, or whatever he does to emotional souls. And then sometimes several of the sisters would get happy and all try to get on the barge at once and then preacher and all would become submerged. But did they mind that? Not at all. Nothing dampened their enthusiasm. In fact the wetter they got the more enthused they became. Half of the time I used to envy them for it was no picnic sitting there on that hard stone tier in the hot sun. A jump into the sea really seemed welcome.

And for a collection. Do you think they collected money? Not at all. The preacher would simply announce that he hoped the Good Lord would send him a Sow; a sack of Grits; Some Peas; a Little Coal Oil hundred and fifty pounds. Well, I went to South Omaha, and I found the friend, but she only weighs two hundred and eighty-nine pounds. Is that a record, C. C.? Do we have any subscribers weighing more than that? —CCM—

Mrs. Lucy Brooks, 2913 Grant Street, has been ailing recently. If you should ask me I would say that she has been grieving over the fact that her second boy, Elmer Brooks, has now gone to the army. You know her other son, John Henry Brooks, went last December. —CCM—

Charlie Case, 2210 Clark Street, is the kind of a subscriber I like. He's a real booster with some mighty fine ideas on racial cooperation. You want to talk with him sometime, C. C.

The other week I mentioned something about the beautiful sight I witnessed of the children prettily costumed attending some function or other at the St. Benedict's church across the street. One of your readers informed me that it was the occasion of the crowning of the May Queen and that Miss Agnes Nelson, 2867 Binney Street, and, incidentally, St. Benedict's only high school graduate, was the Queen. Aren't your readers good to me in explaining everything, C. C.?

Did I tell you at the opening that everything happened during the week? That included being attacked by a dog. I was running to catch a street car, and cutting across lots to do so. Perhaps I shouldn't have been cutting across private property. Anyway a dog resented it and he came chasing me. He snapped at me but I was too busy running to pay him any attention. When I got on the street-car the motorman and some of the passengers, who witnessed the running race, inquired as to how bad the dog bit me. And with everyone looking to see how bad I was bit I looked too. Fortunately, the dog got only a good bite of a trouser leg. Just another job for the tailor. But I'm dog-gone glad it was no worse, dog-gone it. —CCM—

See you next week, C. C. I can't remember any more now.
