THE TRIAL OF THE TRAITORS

The traitors on trial in Washington, D. C. are faring much better than they would have fared in Germany, if they had been traitors to that country.

In time of war passions are deeply stirred and but little evidence is required to produce summary action.

We hope the guilty are convicted and punished and that the innocent may be freed.

THE ASSAULT ON ROLAND HAYES

The assault on Roland Hayes in a bright town in Georgia last week constituted the best bit of news for Germany and Japan that has gone out of the United States since Hitler's rise to power.

According to the news stories, Mr. Hayes' wife had a misunderstanding at a store to which she had gone to make a purchase.

Such incidents as this serve Hitler far more effectively than the boldest traitor. And in National Self-Defense, they must be stopped all over the country.

complishments by the letters B. S. look out. These letters may mean what the French ladies describe as to use an American phrase, "Zed Bull."

We wish we might define more fully the popular meaning of these letters, B. S., but the tender years of many of our readers forbids it.

And that reminds us the right to learn something in the years which follow their granting, for God knows we are ignorant young things when first they are bestowed.

But that B. S. is the worst one of them all.

THE LEGISLATIVE RACE

Editor Omaha Guide:

Three of the candidates for the legislature are between the ages of 30 and 44. They are John Adams, Jr., Clifford Hammond and S. Edward Gilbert.

When war was declared on April 6th, 1917, I prepared to enter the military service.

Are you going to ask the mothers and fathers whose sons are in the Army; sons not much younger than you, to vote for you to stay away from the fight?

Our country is at WAR. Our first duty is to win it. I have offered my services when called, although I am old enough to be the father of anyone of the three young men; Adams, Hammond or Gilbert.

Mr. Hayes' wife had a misunderstanding at a store to which she had gone to make a purchase.

Mr. Lovejoy Crawford and Mr. Branch Mr. Murray have promised to attend the next meeting of the C Club.

Brother John Evans continues to hold his own at the Rome hotel.

Mr. George Thomas of the streamlined room service of the Fontenelle Hotel told this writer that the boys are all wondering how this writer gets all the news and some of the waiters don't like to see their names in print, but they will quite understand that everybody goes when the wagon comes and how!

We are all very sorry to know that Mrs. Lena Patterson, grandmother of Mr. Glover Scott, has passed and her daughter Mrs. Merlene White was called back from KC.

The White Horse Inn waiters Mr. Branch, Mr. Louis White, Mr. Isaiah Jones, Mr. Dave Russ are on the job and how.

We would like very much to hear from Mr. Redd of the Fontenelle Hotel and also Mr. Underwood.

Do you take the Omaha Guide—If not start today!

The Omaha Club waiters are all making plans for vacations and as they will all take long trips out of the city—bon voyage.

The Omaha Athletic Club is the headliner of Ala Carte and a party service is just up their alley for the wide awake crew of waiters and the kitchen force and the front door men and office crew.

Meanwhile, we offer to Roland Hayes our deepest sympathy. We bow our heads in utter shame because such a thing has happened in one of the sovereign states of the Federal Union.

THE COLOR OF THE DEVIL AND HIS IMPS

John Milton, who wrote "Paradise Lost", upon which his greatest fame rests as an author, gave to Beelzebub, or Satan and his supporters, called imps, the designation of black. Black was to him the symbol of evil.

What we are wondering is this: if Milton were writing his great work now, while Hitler goes to and fro in the Earth, would he not designate Beelzebub or Satan as a white man with a tooth-brush moustache and Moloch as another so-called white man who poses Napoleonically.

If we had the power to write as Milton wrote, we would pen a drama in which the leading role of infamy would be played by Hitler, the white Satan, and Mussolini, the Moloch among his imps, would be a perfect blonde, and lesser imps would be the white quislings of every conquered land.

But why all this business about color? God carves his image in ebony as well as ivory.

WAITERS' COLUMN (BY H. W. SMITH) WE. 6458

We are all very glad to know that our good friend Mr. R. C. Price is improving as we miss him very much as he is one of Omaha's outstanding business men.

The RR. boys are going over the top and Mr. George Dean and Mr. Felix Metoyer are in the running at a pool game.

Mr. Frank Clemons one of the old school of roast beef knights was one of the star waiters at the Athletic Club during the Elks Convention.

Mr. Lovejoy Crawford and Mr. Branch Mr. Murray have promised to attend the next meeting of the C Club.

Brother John Evans continues to hold his own at the Rome hotel.

AUGUST 11, 1942 IS THE DAY

Dr. Willard H. Quigley, Democrat, member of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Utilities District, is seeking re-election in the August 11 primary election.

Graduate of Creighton University Medical School, former Creighton Athlete, and now a prominent Omaha Physician, Dr. Quigley completes six years as a Utility director January 1.

He was chairman of the board in 1941, and signed the check which paid off the balance of the Water Department's bonded indebtedness, leaving Omaha's municipal water works, valued at approximately $15,000,000—free of debt.

Dr. Quigley led the movement for cheaper gas during 1941, a step which reduced Omaha's gas bill approximately $155,000 a year.

His record on the board has been one of a consistent friend of the small water and gas user and his interest has resulted in providing water service for many hundreds of small homes that would not otherwise have been served.

His six year's experience on the board aid his medical education have been of great value in administering the two vital municipal services—gas and water—for the Metropolitan Utilities District.

The primary election August 11, is final for the Utilities board, since the representative nominated from each major political party automatically becomes a board member.

Dr. Quigley is seeking re-election as the democratic member of the board.

This was disclosed today by the Department of Justice in announcing that the First President's nearest living collateral descendant is assisting Attorney General Francis Biddle in presenting the Government's case.

The Department's George Washington is an attorney on the staff.

George Washington is helping to prosecute the eight Nazi saboteurs on trial here before a Military Commission.

GOOD NEWS FOR COLORED SCHOOL TEACHERS

Just before going to Press we received the following information from Peter Mehrens, a member of the School Board. From several hundred applicants, white and colored, three of our race have passed the examination and are now on the eligible list to be installed as teachers in the Omaha Public Schools.

Thanks Mr. Mehrens for this information. We are very happy over it and we hope that at last the color line has been broken down after so many years.

The successful applicants were Helen Garrett, Oskaloosa, Kansas; Theima Lee Maor, Red Oak, Iowa; Arthur Shropshire, Hannibal, Mo. PROGRESS IS ON THE MARCH... VOTE FOR PETER MEHRENS.

of Assistant Solicitor General Oscar Cox, who with the Attorney General and the Judge Advocate General of the Army is directing the prosecution. As a member of the team of civil prosecutors, Mr. Washington is one of the select few permitted beyond the heavily guarded entrance to the trial chamber in the Department of Justice building.

Mr. Washington is a direct descendant of General George Washington's brother, Colonel Samuel Washington. He is also, somewhat deviously, related to Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Washington's grandmother, Jane Todd Washington, was a cousin of Mary Todd Lincoln.

Mr. Washington's participation in the trial of the eight Nazi saboteurs is, therefore, in the family tradition. General Washington appointed the panel of officers which tried the famous Major Andre, brilliant British spy who was caught behind the American lines during the Revolutionary War. General Washington also refused Andre request, after he was condemned, that he be shot rather than hanged, since the soldier's code of honor regards shooting as far less ignominious, and therefore more appropriate, for a spy.

President Lincoln also used military commissions extensively throughout the Civil War. In 1865, the conspirators who plotted his assassination by John Wilkes Booth were tried before a military commission. This was, incidentally the last military commission before the present panel.

Adding to the historical atmosphere of the current trial is the fact that the Attorney General himself is directly descended from Edmund Randolph, the first Attorney General of the United States.

Mr. Washington is 34 years old, and a graduate of Yale and Oxford Universities. He practiced law in New York for a number of years before joining the faculty of the Cornell Law School, in Ithaca, New York. Mr. Washington is now on leave from Cornell.

UNHAPPY WIVES FIND NEW HOPE IN SPECIAL VITAMIN COMBINATION

Clinical Tests Demonstrate Sterile Women May Be Aided—Happy Homes Are Dependent on Babies

Nothing equals a baby to bring complete unity and happiness into the home and the husband and wife into a stronger bond of enduring love and mutual interest.

new vitamin of the B Complex group has a striking effect on sterility. Twenty-two women, with known sterility records for as much as five years were selected for the test. After weeks of heavy dosage with Paraminobenzoic acid (a vitamin of the B Complex group) more than half of these women became mothers.

Many homes break up from lack of children and contribute to the amazing American record of one divorce for every five marriages. Unhappy wives, childless due to a vitamin-deficient functional weakness, may now enjoy the desires and activities of Nature's most wonderful creation—a normal, fully-developed, vigorous woman.
