"ANDY" JENSEN DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Andy, should be known to every colored voter; his father, the late Andrew Jensen, Omaha's first colored friend, taught Smith Coffee, Omaha's first colored blacksmith, his trade in his shop in 1869; later establishing Mr. Coffee in the blacksmith business on Ponca Hill, just north of Florence in 1875; other colored folks who were taught the blacksmith from Mr. Jensen, were Buck Ray, Thomas Wheeler, also "Buck" Jackson, who is today Omaha's oldest blacksmith, and he is able to continue at his work daily. When Andy succeeded his father, his brothers the late Albert Jensen, and Emil Jensen, started Jensen Laundry in 1916, and when Andy sold out, he had 10 colored folks on his payroll; proving, he is the friend of the colored voters; and should receive every vote of the colored folks in Douglas County; you will be proud of him, as your County Treasurer. He is the only candidate running for Treasurer who had colored folks on his own individual payroll, proving he is worthy of your continued support for Treasurer, on Tuesday, August 11th. Tell your friends to vote for Andy; and we shall have our proper patronage in his office.

Andy says, "I am a candidate for County Treasurer on the democratic ticket. I filed for this office because I believe I can be of real service to the people of Douglas County."

I was born in North Omaha, graduated from public schools, high school, graduated from the Accounting College, study and took a law course at night school; 16 years of experience in Active City and County Administration; saved Douglas County $50,000.00 placing together the City and County election in 1933.

Andy was sponsor of the let a mile for soldiers, sailors and marines, coming home on furlough, sponsor of the occupation taxes; sponsor of subway taxes; sponsor of the erection of the Bancroft St. viaduct, Nicholas St. viaduct, Locust St. viaduct; president of the West Dodge Water District, past Finance Officer of the Teachers-Parents Association.

The office of the County Treasurer should be run for the benefit of the taxpayers. It should be made just as convenient for a man to pay his taxes as it is for him to pay his electric, grocery bill or his gas bill. Owners of motor vehicles should not be forced to stand in line for hours in order to get their car licenses.

I believe the bookkeeping and accounting systems in the treasurer's office should be modernized in keeping up with up-to-date methods.

If I am nominated, Andy states, and elected County Treasurer, I shall see to it, that the office is so conducted that the citizens of Douglas County will get prompt, courteous and accurate service at all times.

He was always right with the colored people appointing Dudley Wright as the first colored man to serve as Deputy County Sheriff. He also was one of the first Democrats who organized the Colored Democratic Club on 24th St. He surely deserves your Vote and Support on Election Day.

Mr. Endres has three sons who are serving the government... two in the military service and the third with the Federal civil service.

DR. GLATFELTER IN RACE FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR
 PROMINENT IN ORGANIZATION OF LINCOLN HIGHWAY; OFTEN IN PUBLIC SERVICE
 Fired by the desire to do something in the national emergency, prevented from following his profession by being over 45, Dr. H. E. Glatfelter of Central City offered his services to the state by filing for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

It was 45 years ago that Dr. Glatfelter came to Nebraska from the east, just in time to vote for William McKinley against William Jennings Bryan. He has been a prominent worker in the party all these years, faithful to the cause. In the formative period of this part of Nebraska, Dr. Glatfelter sacrificed his profession often in the public interest. He was the father of the Lincoln highway through Nebraska, taking a leading part in its organization. At one time he engineered a national convention of Lincoln highway representatives here at Central City. His record of performance in the public interest stands out.

To the office of Lieutenant Governor, his friends believe, the doctor would bring energy and enthusiasm. He can plan and execute. While he does not contemplate an active campaign over the state, the doctor has many friends gained while working on many projects for the public good.

He issued the following statement upon filing:
 "I volunteered to serve in the Army Medical Corps. They replied: 'That their age limit of 45, at this time, made it imperative to refuse my offer to serve.'
 "That it was just as patriotic for the older men to keep the home fires burning, so that the young men could be released to enter army service."

"In accordance with this, I am filing as a candidate for the nomination of Lieutenant Governor, on the republican ticket. Your support and election will release the younger aspirants, as they may and should serve our armed forces. My record in a public spirited way, pioneering in many projects, such as: Good roads, water conservation and pump irrigation, is well known over the state. I am proud to have had a part in bringing about those projects that mean better things for Nebraska."

"A pat of approval, on my back, a vote for me would be welcome appreciation. I will not campaign travelling over the state. The rubber situation is such, it precludes such means; neither do I approve of spending money to gain favor. Records should count."
 "Your support is solicited on the basis of keeping the home fires burning, in keeping with the American way of life and the protection and continuance of private, free enterprise, we do need a 'watch tower'. If nominated and elected, the unicameral will be just that—a 'watch tower'."

"Private enterprise made our nation the greatest, wealthiest, strongest and most powerful in the whole world. It is the means to win this war. We must and will win this conflict and perpetuate civilization. "Yours for the American way of life."

 "HARVEY E. GLATFELTER."

FRANK L. BURBRIDGE
 REPUBLICAN, A 20-YEAR RESIDENT OF OMAHA

...has announced his candidacy for the office of County Attorney. Mr. Burbridge has held no previous political offices. His seventeen years of law practice, here in Omaha, his background, training and qualifications fit him well for the office to which he aspires. He was born and brought up on a farm in Logan, Iowa; was graduated from Creighton University, as were also his four brothers: three of them from the law college. Arthur is former County Attorney of Bloomfield, Nebraska; Carl has been County Attorney of Harrison County, Iowa for the past six years, and Gail is now with the F. B. I. Mr. Burbridge's brother, Capt. Glenn Burbridge was graduated from Creighton University Medical school and is now in the medical corps at Fort Benning, Georgia. Another brother, Edwin, is a farmer at Logan, Iowa.

Mr. Burbridge is affiliated with religious, civic, charitable and fraternal organizations of the city of Omaha, where he is buying his home. His willingness to lend his time and services without reservation has made him a valuable asset not only to these special groups, but to the whole community. He is held in esteem by his associates of the bar and bench for his honest legal practices. His capabilities are well recognized by all who have had occasion to engage his services, or seek his help.

The primaries, August 11, will present to the voters of Douglas County an opportunity to elect a candidate for the important office of County Attorney; the office to which all other offices of the County Commission must look for guidance, and to which the people who are paying the bills have a right to look to have their interests regarded. The selection of Mr. Burbridge as that candidate will make possible in November the election of a County Attorney well fitted to administer the duties of this office honestly, intelligently and efficiently.

A SAVING OF $150,000 THIS YEAR

Savings to Omaha gas customers because of the 1940 increase in gas heat value will run more than $150,000 this year, according to Dr. Wilford H. Quigley, candidate for reelection as a democrat to the Metropolitan Utilities District board of Directors in the August 11 primary election.

Reviewing other major accomplishments of the gas and water departments, Dr. Quigley cited employment of a full time bacteriologist at the water works to safeguard the purity of Omaha's water supply and increasing in odorizing material in the city gas as a public safety measure.
 The entire bonded debt of the water department was paid off in December of 1941, leaving the water plant free from bonded indebtedness. Dr. Quigley is seeking reelection as a democratic member. One democratic member and one republican member of the six-man board are elected at the primary elections each two years.

A LETTER FROM JOHN ADAMS, JR.

Fellow citizens,
 I am a candidate for reelection to the State Legislature, 5th district. I have served this district for four terms in the legislature and I appreciate the confidence you have shown in me and hope that I merit the same. There are over fifty laws on the statutes of Nebraska that bear my name as introducer or co-introducer, such as the laws making it possible for us to have a housing project in Omaha, the law removing certain discriminations against Negro witnesses in court, the wage assignment law making it unlawful for concerns to hold up a man's wages on a wage assignment unless his wife has also signed the assignment, the social security laws, the law making it against the policy of the State for a union to discriminate on account of race, creed or color and many others. I have served on all of the important committees in the Legislature and have a great deal of experience in legislation. By reason of this experience I am better qualified to serve you at the next session of the Legislature. I am a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law and I have been a practicing lawyer in this state since 1929.

As long as I have been in the legislature, no one has ever controlled my vote. I always voted the way I thought was for the best interest of my Race and the citizens of this state, regardless of the consequences and the threats and pressures used to make me vote otherwise. No one shall ever control my vote, be it a corporation, newspaper or private citizen. I shall always vote for the best interest of the people of this state.

The people of my district seem satisfied with my record for my continuing to re-elect me and with a larger majority each time. This is no time to change. During this emergency we need men in office with experience, and men that are not afraid to stand up under pressure. Thanking you in advance for your vote on August 11th.
 Sincerely yours,
 JOHN ADAMS, JR.

A LETTER FOR FRANK BURBRIDGE

Fellow Citizen:
 Frank Burbridge is a candidate for County Attorney. He has had seventeen years of experience as a practicing lawyer in Omaha and is a graduate of Creighton University. He has calm judgement, poise, and is in every sense a gentleman and can be depended upon to carry out the duties of the office of County Attorney in an impartial manner without regard to race, creed or color. The citizens of Omaha need men like Frank Burbridge in office.
 Sincerely yours,
 Mrs. Hattie E. Adams

ALLAN A. TUKEY SEEKING REELECTION

At the primary election next Tuesday, August 11th, Allan A. Tukey is seeking re-election as Director of the Metropolitan Utilities District. On that day each major party will select a Director to represent it on this important Board, and Mr. Tukey is a candidate on the Republican ballot. The primary is final election day for this office, so everyone is urged to go to the polls and vote.

Allan A. Tukey has served on the District Board for many years. His record is one of sound business management. Mr. Tukey, and other members of the Board have kept the District free of the political influence which has proved so unfortunate in publicly-owned utilities in other cities.

Typical of the benefits of this type of management is the record of the water department's personnel. This year the District lists eighteen men, veterans of the water department, whose years of service add up to more than five centuries. Each has served the District since the water plant was purchased in 1912... over 30 years. Besides this outstanding personnel record, there is a long list of other veterans in both the gas and water departments... men and women who have served ten, fifteen years or more.

During the past thirty years there have been only three general managers. Selected by the Board of Directors, the first was Senator R. B. Howell, who served from 1912 to 1922. The second Colonel Theodore Liesen who served until 1939, and the third, Walter S. Byrne, is the present general manager.
 Omaha has received, among other benefits, eleven gas rate reductions, eight of them having been made during Mr. Tukey's term of office. All of the indebtedness of the water plant system has been paid off, the last outstanding $2,668,000 worth of water bonds having been retired last December 1st. Omaha has also enjoyed dependable gas and water service and today the District's rates for home gas service are the lowest for manufactured gas anywhere in the United States.

MIKE KRACHER WILL BE FAIR

Mr. Mike Kracher, Democratic Candidate for Sheriff, is the friend of the common man. He has no prejudice against people on account of race or religion or color.
 His record while he was Adult Probation and Parole Officer for the State of Nebraska, was one of fairness to all.

MR. LEE WELLS PLEDGES FAIRNESS TO ALL

Mr. Wells says: "I stand wholeheartedly for racial and Religious freedom without any qualifications. Many politicians speak of these freedoms, but few practice them".
 Mr. Wells is a world war veteran. He was a reserve officer for 22 years, 10 years a Major in the U. S. Reserves.
 Mr. Wells pledges a policy of fair representation to the colored people, if nominated and elected.

MIKE ENDRES, "NATURE'S NOBLEMAN"

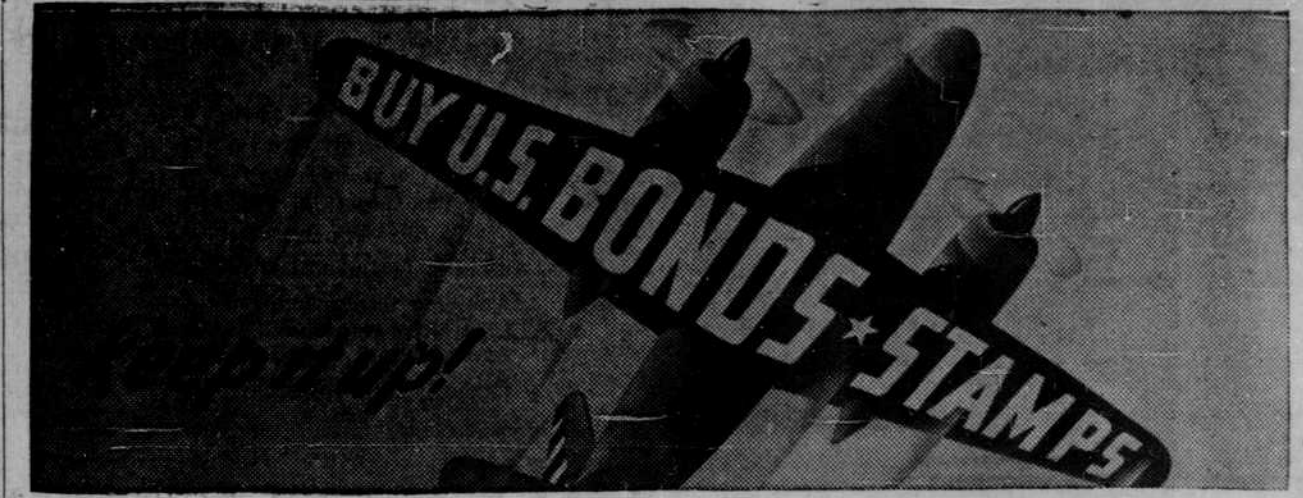

Good Old Mike Endres has filed for nomination on the Board of the Metropolitan Utilities District. Talk about "Nature's Nobleman" and you speak of Mike Endres. He is as fair and capable as he is honest, and honesty has always been his religion. He has been all these things to white men, and what is more remarkable in this country, he has been all of them to colored people, as well.

WHY KELSO MORGAN SHOULD BE ELECTED COUNTY ATTORNEY

Kelso Morgan should be nominated for County Attorney because:
 He is the best qualified candidate in the race. He has had the widest experience as a lawyer. He is a man of character and integrity. He has the required judicial temperament. He is an excellent trial lawyer. He will prosecute all violators of the law to the limits of the law, but he will protect with equal ability and courage all persons who are wrongfully brought before the bar. He will be faced with many intricate legal problems during his term of office involving taxation and other problems of the administration of County Government. To deal with them, Mr. Morgan is the best equipped man seeking this office. No one capable of intelligent fair judgement, will venture any other statement.
 In the public interest, Mr. Morgan should be nominated on the 11th of August. Intelligent, self-interest requires it of the whole people in general and of the Colored people, in particular.

10 PERCENT OF USO CLUB ATTENDANCE IS NEGROES

Ten percent of the daily attendance in USO clubs in the United States is made up of Negroes in Negro service clubs, and 15 percent of USO's group activities are for Negroes, according to the figures of USO operation in a recent month.
 There are 81 USO operations especially for Negroes scattered throughout the continental United States, and 35 of these are clubs set up in the new Federal Recreation buildings. There are 140 members of the staffs of these clubs, numbering some of the leading Negro Social workers in the country.
 The total attendance at group activities in this month included 173,167 members of the armed forces and 14,650 war industry workers. The complete number of group activities in the Negro clubs was 2,348 in one month, 866 of which were in cooperation with camp officials and community groups. Receiving USO information services were 29,719 persons, while 4,900 were given counselling service, and 2,900 were entertained by home hospitality. Most of the men, came to the clubs mainly for recreational and educational features.
 Volunteers at the Negro clubs, including leaders, hostesses, junior hostesses, and other participants in social activities, were 14,138, representing about seven percent of the total for all USO. Negro leaders hope that as time goes on there will be more volunteers to act as leaders, hostesses, and other participants in the activities in the Negro clubs. Steps are being taken to bring this about.

Worked with J. Harvey Kerns in bringing about scores of reforms now enjoyed by the colored population.

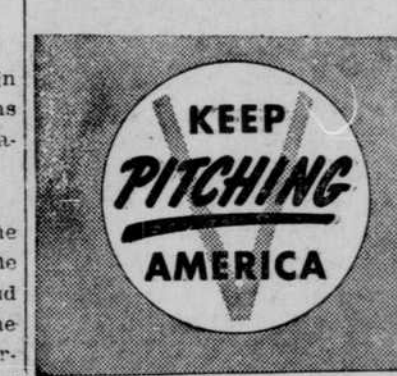

Interviewed Gov. Bryan at the governor's mansion during the darkest days of the Depression and pleaded for the opening up of some sort of public works in order to furnish work for the many unemployed. Was called back to the bedside of the ailing governor where the public works proposition was discussed pro and con. During this conference, the Gov. called Comm. Harry Truman and invited him to Lincoln, the Dodge Super Highway was soon put under construction.

Appealed for Race attendants in the Election office. There wasn't they thought, any suitable desk locations for such an undertaking. Gov. Bryan interceded. Mr. Galloway was given four applications. When the election rush came again there were three Race women working in the office. Mrs. Florence Terrell at the front counter, Miss Childs in the filing Dept., and another young lady typist.

For years it was known that Mr. Galloway would never leave the County Judge's office without repeating the question "Why aren't my people represented in this office?" Finally a candidate for that office told him "You can believe me, if I am elected I assure you that I will run that Court and office fearlessly and give all taxpayers their just dues, regardless of race, creed or color." He was elected and kept his word.

"There are one or two office holders who have not as yet, seen the light, but you may rest assured that they know where C. C. Galloway stands on the pro-rata question."

By Albert J. Bates

An empty expanse of prairie land becomes a vast airplane engine manufacturing plant... where a few months ago a factory engaged in the peaceful pursuit of hairpin making, it is today turning out parts for deadly guns... a belting company of yesterday is the producer of tank parts today.
 Industry is writing its most brilliant chapter of achievement and conversion since the dawn of industrial America. Marvels of conversion, production and speed are going on under our eyes... marvels too great to appreciate while they are in the making. It will take the perspective of years to gain a true appreciation of the accomplishments.

Not many months ago the automobile industry was geared to turn out more than 4,000,000 motor vehicles annually. In the greatest conversion job of all time... achieved in an unbelievably short period... it is now producing millions of articles of war ranging from small parts to complete tanks, airplane engines, howitzers, and other war equipment.
 Other plants, and in some cases entire industries, have changed almost overnight from peacetime pursuits to arsenals of war. New plants, non-existent a few months ago, have sprung up to add their capacity to our rapidly expanding production. And everywhere new production records are being established, in many cases double and triple the original figures.

AMERICAN WOMEN TAKE TO THEIR NEEDLES TO FREE MATERIALS AND MACHINERY FOR THE WAR EFFORT

In times like these, we want more than ever to keep bright and cheerful, look our prettiest and maintain the charm and dignity of our homes. Yet, we are not going to spend as much money on clothes and home furnishings as we have done in seasons past. We want to buy more and more War Bonds. We want to leave materials and machinery free to turn out the articles that are needed for war purposes.

The civilian sacrifice of cutting down on little luxuries and comforts is a small one and we are all anxious to do our part. Yet, we realize the importance of maintaining morale—both for the individual and in the home—and we welcome all those suggestions which will help boost morale. The use of clever, ingenious touches can do much to brighten up our wardrobes and our homes. There are many articles of beauty and utility which we can make ourselves which do not interfere with war production efforts.

Many women who have never before wielded a needle or crochet hook are discovering the many lovely fashion and household adornments which they can make themselves. Besides turning out attractive and useful articles and conserving the use of machinery and vital materials, they are, at the same time, developing worthwhile, creative hobbies—an important factor in maintaining civilian health and morale. History shows that women have always turned to their sewing, knitting and crochet needles in times of great national crisis. Today, America needs those women who keep their fingers flying—make every busy moment count. Beautiful, home-sewn, crocheted, knitted and tatted household and fashion items can do much to reflect our confidence, courageous and cheerful attitude.

Because of its economy and adaptability to many uses, crochet is expected to become more and more important as the need for conservation and economy in materials for civilian use increases. It has been shown that crochet and knit wear can successfully take the place of wool, felt silk and cotton in hats, bags, gloves, blouses, dresses, slippers, collars and scarfs. Even metal and wood can be replaced by crochet for costume jewelry, buttons, and shoe and hair ornaments.

If you are not an expert needlewoman, you will probably want to start your sewing and crochet hand work with simple clothing accessories or small household decorative items which are useful as well as pretty—dollies, table scarfs, pot-holders, lamp shades, glass protectors, and hot plate mats.

Once you have realized the pleasure, satisfaction and economies associated with making these useful and decorative articles for yourself and your home, you will probably want to undertake something a little more ambitious—an exquisite crocheted tablecloth or a charming bedspread, combining crochet and dainty hand sewn chintz ruffles, draperies for the living room, slip covers to protect your furniture, dresses for yourself and the children. These are all surprisingly easy to make. Many of the stores have sewing services which help the beginner over her uncertain first steps. If you don't find this help available, there are simple step-by-step leaflets and patterns available, so clearly illustrated and detailed that you will need no more aid than your own ability to follow simple instructions.

Use your leisure moments to create a little extra loveliness for yourself, your family and your home. It's not only pretty and practical—but patriotic, too.
