Alexander, had also been taken over by FEPCC.

What happened to Dr. Weaver himself is another unanswered question. Some say that he will resign, others said he will sit tight.

This version of what happened or what is alleged to have happened at the meeting has the verification of a former government worker close to the administration, who related the identical story as having been told as coming from the White House a week ago.

In other words, it had been previously decided the FEPCC was to have the things it asked for regardless of pressure from other sources.

Staff members at FEPCC differ on their stories, with no official statement forthcoming. One member says the FEPCC would of a certainty got Weaver's files, another is quoted as saying the FEPCC got everything it asked for, including an increased personnel.

Original FEPCC plans called for reopening of regional offices in several cities with the present staff members who had proven their worth promoted to higher and better paying posts. This plan has been abandoned because the War Manpower commission has regional offices. There is some talk of assigning FEPCC men to the regional offices of the commission, though there is nothing to sustain this.

No one is certain of what is happening, although information is available that McNutt's lieutenants, McSherry and Altmeyer, opposed any proposition to give the FEPCC any increased power of budget. Altmeyer is known to be opposed to the employment of mixed groups, according to his own statements before a House committee on budgets.

That he will abolish Weaver's staff and appoint and name his own field men is a statement accredited to Lawrence Cramer of the FEPCC. This also is without confirmation. Another "insider" commenting on Dr. Weaver's "absence" from the city says it would not surprise him if Dr. Weaver had no staff when he returned to the city on Monday.

While Gov. McNutt's office is the logical place from which the information should emanate, his multitudinous duties make it impossible practically to use him for comment, although he had tentatively promised an interview last Tuesday. Suddenly he found himself confronted with another gigantic task thrust upon him by the President, which demanded his attention elsewhere.

Politically wise observers are watching every move being made and see in the terrific problems being given McNutt, a subtle effort to bring about his elimination from the 1944 political picture. It is commonly known that the handsome Hoosier has ambitions and aspirations which do not harmonize with the present schedule and all "mopping up" of difficult problems is thrown in his lap.

During the conference with Mr. McNutt, it is said three proposals were offered by the committee. One was to abolish the Weaver outfit; one was to absorb Weaver's outfit and the third was to abolish the FEPCC.

In other words, make the FEPCC effective and stronger, or do away with it entirely. Mr. McNutt would agree to neither of these proposals preferring to allow the matter to hang over for a week.

Sides seem to have been taken in the matter, with some favoring Weaver and others favoring Cramer. Meanwhile, the fate of the Negro, who is supposed to benefit through these organizations, hangs in the balance.

Not long ago, many a woman would prefer to suffer in silence from periodic, functional pain rather than talk about this subject.

Nowadays, women and girls openly praise CARDUI's 2-way help. Taken as a tonic, it usually peps up the appetite and aids digestion by stimulating the flow of gastric juice;

thus it often helps build up resistance for the trying days to come. Or taken as directed 3 days before the time, CARDUI may help relieve pain due only to periodic, functional causes.

Try CARDUI. For 62 years thousands of women have said they believed it helped them.
