LEGION NEWS

(Post Publicity Officer)

LEGION NEWS
When this reporter was on his way from church, he dropped into Mack's Cafe to get a bite to eat he was informed that it was closing its doors for the last time that night, Sunday, March 28th.

This closing however need not cause any worry among lovers of well cooked and tastily served meals; for around the fifteenth of April Alonzo "Mack" McGruder will open his new lunch room in the building recently purchased by Theodore Roosevelt Post No. 39 of the American Legion located on the northwest corner of 24th and Parker Streets.

Everywhere "Mack" has served meals and lunches he has had a large following. And there is little or no doubt but what the majority of his customers will be served by him when he is all set to open up in the legion hall. And Roosevelt Post joins with him in extending a warm and hearty welcome to all his many friends and customers to "come up and see us not sometime but often!"

With due respect and praise for the past officers who were in office before them and acknowledging fully the part they have played in the present program being put over by Roosevelt Post, none the less it must be stated as well that the present officers are certainly carrying on with vengeance from where they left off! And commander comrade Jake Carey is the answer.

To put over its present program it would be very difficult to find a man better qualified than comrade Carey. Although possessing congenial traits he is very exacting in his business dealings. There can be no half way measures with him. It is whole hog or none. Therefore members of the post know with him at the helm they will be steered through the treacherous waters of doubt and uncertainty to eventual success no matter how big their program.

MOVIE ACTORS AID IN FUND TO DEFEND "BERTH 13" MURDER CASE
Los Angeles, April 3 (ANP)—Promising the Cooks and Waiters Union to aid by their presence in seeing that an accused member gets necessary counsel for a fair trial, Hollywood movie actors will aid in raising funds for the defense of Robert Lee Folkes, charged with the Berth 13 murder of a woman passenger on a speeding passenger train near Albany, Ore. They were to appear at a dance on April 1 at Elks hall. Folkes will go to trial on April 7 on a charge of murder at Albany and funds raised at the dance will go to pay attorney fees.

"Grave doubts exist as to Folkes' guilt and it is imperative that his constitutional rights to a fair trial be safeguarded by seeing to it that he has competent counsel," a spokesman for a citizens committee which is sponsoring the affair said in explaining the committee's interest in the matter.

It was pointed out that despite the conflicting statements and "confessions" made by Folkes, the

Cootie Williams
COOTIE WILLIAMS AND ORK START COUNTRY WIDE TOUR IN MAY PUPIL AND TEACHER CLASH IN DUEL OF SWING AT SAVOY BALLROOM

A red hot contest of friendly rivalry, which is attracting wide attention in swing circles, is now on full blast in New York's famed Savoy Ballroom. This musical match is made doubly interesting because Cootie literally grew up in Duke Ellington's band, where he was ace trumpeter for more than 12 years. The best of friends these two top notchers and their hot-sending bands are figuratively speaking, literally blowing each other off the stand, much to the delight and fancy floor cutting of Savoy patrons.

Cootie Williams, who got his first real break with Ellington, today is internationally famed as a trumpeter and bandleader. He came up the hard way...over a rough and thorny road, calculated to have discouraged a less talented and determined man. With his hot-sending band, which ranges easily from the symbolic to devastating swing, he is not only reverberating the ratters of the Savoy Ballroom, but his popular musical interpretations are broadcast three times a week over the network of Mutual Broadcasting System.

Cootie soon will end his engagement at the Savoy, and in May will set out upon a tour of the country.

PC which was a creature of Mr. Roosevelt's creation? Second, what happened to the liberal attitude adopted towards Negroes in the armed forces, whereas no one knew exactly what Negro troops were doing until Mrs. Roosevelt herself in a speech said they are trained as stevedores in Liverpool working in competition with paid workmen for the unloading of ships in the North African campaign?

Third, what happened that he let the bourbon south take the reins of government from his hands and carry their nefarious principles into enlightened areas like Detroit, where the Klan flourished and housing for Negroes prohibited riots?

There are many questions which the Negro, 13,000,000 of them want answered. Even Mr. Roosevelt's best friends won't tell him. But Farley's ledgerman in asking the public to refrain from politics brought the biggest laugh yet! Imagine Farley talking about withholding politics for a 'couple of years!' If he attempted it personally, it would be the same as committing suicide.

EMULATE
(BY MRS. H. R. GREENFIELD)

One should set a goal of emulation to have a vision without which a nation, a people perish. The sky is our limit—shoot at the stars. No one can hinder you from shooting. You may hit the top of the tower on some skyscraper or in other words you cannot fail. When one is constantly looking up, there can be no going backward. One climbing a mountain is always looking up and forward because his goal is the summit or the top. So it is with a person on life's journey. The turning point in one's life is the upward march is by trying to emulate the masterful deeds of some eminent persons who are a success. It is very noble for anyone being worthy of emulation. Reading the life of famous people is a good habit forming for the person so engaged. It forms character and a desire to reach the goal. In life there is plenty of room at the top, so many fall by the wayside and fall to rise and make another try—none can hold another down. It is said "we are our worst enemies." We have never been whipped unless we think we are. Failure comes in our thinking failure. If you do not succeed at first try again. Many great men failed before they succeeded. But they were undaunted and were a success. Many could not read or write until they were of mature age. Frederick Douglass was a man before he could read or write. Yet he became a great race leader, author and statesman of his day. He kept on shooting at the stars. His determination was to succeed! Our youth should have the life and books of our great leaders before them, so that they could have their lives to emulate. They would strive to equal or excel them. With the vision before them of other great men and women who laid the foundation on which we build a great race. Children should select some noble character and emulate that person's fine qualities. We are living in an age of doing something—not a drone.

WHAT MOTHER TOLD ME
(By William Henry Huff for ANP)
Aunt Susan told me long ago that I should never whine. That if the others hoed their row I should somehow hoe mine. She said, "My son, a whining lad can never see for tears." I thought her lecture then was bad. But with the passing years I found my mother's words were true. And with a healthy vim I'm doing as she told me to. For I am heeding them.

THESE TIPS FROM Reddy WILL HELP MAKE YOUR VACUUM CLEANER LAST

OILING YOUR CLEANER
As with all mechanical equipment, oiling is perhaps the most important step in the proper care of your vacuum cleaner. Be sure to follow the instructions furnished by your manufacturer. If you have mislaid them, ask your dealer for correct information pertaining to your particular model.

- ★ Empty dust bag every time cleaner is used. This is vitally important both for keeping your cleaner at top efficiency at all times, and also for prolonging the life of the cleaner. Make it a part of your regular routine.
- ★ Keep brushes free from hair and threads, and be sure to replace them when they become worn. Also be sure to avoid running cleaner over pins, nails, hairpins, coins or other metal objects. Pick them up by hand, always.
- ★ If your vacuum cleaner does not seem to pick up threads as it should, check the belt, to see if there is enough tension there to drive the brush. If in doubt, replace the belt.
- ★ Be sure revolving brush is properly adjusted. Bristles should extend one-eighth of an inch below bottom of nozzle. Brush guard on nozzle should be sturdily in place as well. Nozzle should be adjusted so that suction lifts the rug slightly from floor.

If you need any information about your service, or help of any kind with your electrical appliances, do not hesitate to call us. Although it is necessary now to conserve on service calls, we will continue doing everything possible to assist you.

If you are buying a laxative answer these 3 questions first

Ques. Why do most people choose a popular laxative instead of a lesser known product? Ans. Because a popular-seller can generally be counted on to give satisfaction or it could not have won the respect of its users. Ques. What is one laxative that has been a popular-seller with four generations? Ans. Black-Draught. Ques. Why is Black-Draught made in 2 forms? Ans. Because many think the new granulated form is even easier to take. Black-Draught costs only 25c for 25 to 40 doses. It is purely herbal, usually gentle, prompt, thorough. Follow label directions.
