BEAUTIFUL

(BY MRS. H. R. GREENFIELD)

There is so much beauty all around us to be admired if we would look for it. People travel to Europe to see beauty before they see the beautiful right here at home. There is Yellowstone Park, Niagara Falls, What can be more beautiful? Then there is that magnificent sight, sunrise on Pikes Peak, indescribable beauty. When one stands above the clouds beholds the sun burst forth in her beauty of every hue to cast that panorama of coloring one is held spellbound in utter amazement at the great and glorious wonders of God. The mountains that are snow-capped the year round. That cross on the mountain with its indentation filled with snow high on the mountain side. How this cut was formed no one can tell, it is called The Holy Cross. Stands out silently in all its beauty, perfect symbol of our Saviour.

One could tell of many beautiful scenes all over this country which are natural, not made by human hands. One who feasts on these objects gets an uplift that nothing else can give so much in return. Boys in the armed forces are seeing much that is beautiful and are having great experiences. When they cross the equator that is a wonderful experience to talk about. Even though to gain it is maddening. Spring is here, it is so beautiful, trees budding, birds singing, flowers coming, sunshine warming and brilliant. What can equal it for last beauty. One can smile and laugh again. A baby is beautiful. Everyone loves it cooing and laughing. It is so real, we like the real beauty. Man made beauty is fading and not lasting. A beautiful woman is pleasant to look at, but years take its toll and robs her of her beauty. Nothing can rob the sunrise on Pikes Peak of its gorgeous beauty.

LEGION NEWS

(BY JULIUS E. HILL) (Post Publicity Officer)

With so much hustle and bustle going on around the Post as it prepares to move to its new location there is little time for anything but trying to keep out of the way of persons pushing and shoving things around. In other words the safest place for a man to be is out on the street.

For should he attempt to enter either the old or the new headquarters until rather late in the evening he is liable to be knocked down and stepped on by persons going in or out carrying articles of furniture essential to the post. And as no one seems to have much time for questioning trying to get some inside news is practically an impossibility.

However there is plenty of interesting news to be had, and will be published in this paper as soon as possible. And we hope that will be by the time the next issue goes to press. For instance we wish to inform the public of the final outcome of our membership drive, coming a citation from the Legion and there is that little matter concerning National Headquarters for the wonderful achievements of THIS Post recently. Yeah, this Post has really been going places and still is.

So in the meantime, friends, patrons and comrades, be patient until we are in a position to give you the real low down on 'what's cooking', then you can go on from there.
