13 Million War Workers will be Needed

FOR YOUNG MEN, AND YOUNG WOMEN

During the next year thirteen million new war production workers will be needed, according to Paul V. McNutt, Chairman of the War Manpower Commission, The War Man-Power Commission, through the National Youth Administration has been given the responsibility by the Congress of the United States of preparing out of school youth for jobs in vital war industry. As the war continues and more men are taken into the armed forces, women will be needed at a rapidly increasing rate and for this reason young women as well as young men, are being trained for a place in war industry. Of every 100 men inducted into the armed forces, 63 are assigned to duties requiring specialized training.

ELIGIBILITY FOR NYA EMPLOYMENT:

Youth between 16 and 25 years of age who are out of school and unemployed are eligible. Youth must be citizens of the United States, must sign an Oath of Allegiance before assignment, and must agree to accept employment in industries related to National Defense if and when offered in good faith.

Each resident youth is required to pass a physical examination provided by NYA before starting work in the shops. Physically handicapped youth are often eligible for assignment if the work which they do is not dangerous to themselves or others.

TYPES OF WAR PRODUCTION WORK AND TRAINING AVAILABLE:

Welding: Training in arc welding, spot welding and gas welding is offered at Bellevue, Kearney and Omaha.

Machine Shop: Work experience and training is offered on lathes, milling machines, shaper machines, grinders and other types of machine shop equipment at all resident centers.

Sheet Metal: At Kearney and Bellevue sheet metal work is offered to youth that will qualify them for jobs in shipyards and aircraft industries. Sheet metal is available to local youth in Omaha.

Radio: Youth at Kearney may qualify as a licensed radio operator or technician and is eligible for civil service jobs upon completion of this training.

Drafting: Training in mechanical drafting and blue print work is offered to a limited number of young women at the Lincoln Resident Center.

Industrial Sewing: Work experience and training in the operation of factory type power sewing equipment is offered to young women in the Lincoln Resident Center. This training enables girls to qualify for jobs with war production garment manufacturers in Omaha and Lincoln.

Length of training period: Youth are assigned to the shops for 160 hours a month. Ordinarily a youth is able to get a job in a war production plant after approximately three months of work experience and training.

Under the National Youth Administration War Production Training Program the resident youth are scheduled for training not to exceed 8 hours a day. No charge is made for the training. For the production work which is carried on in the shops for local, state and federal agencies, and the armed services, each youth is compensated on the following basis:

Hours of Work and Earnings:—
1. Local youth working in shops $24.00 per month.
2. Local youth who take their meals at a resident center, $22.40 per month.
3. Resident youth—board, room, medical expenses, laundry, plus $10.50 per month.

Living Accommodations for Girls: Young women live in a comfortably furnished resident house at 1245 H Street, Lincoln and in a newly constructed dormitory at the Kearney Resident Center. The resident in Lincoln houses 50 young women and the dormitory at Kearney houses 100 girls.

Living Accommodations for Boys: Young men are housed in dormitories located on the campuses of the resident centers at Bellevue and Kearney.

Meals: NYA dining rooms are located in the main dormitories of each of the centers. Good food and enough food is essential to good work. You get it at all of the centers.

Youth's Personal Property:— Youth must furnish their own dress clothes and any personal belongings they want in their rooms. Work uniforms are furnished youth in the shops.

Employment Opportunities: Placement of youth in war industry is handled by the United States Employment Service. After a youth successfully completes his training he may be placed locally or transferred to a War Production training center in Clinton, Iowa, St. Paul, Minnesota, Seattle, Washington or some other location. Transportation costs are paid by the National Youth Administration when a youth receives a transfer to another state. Every effort is made to place youth in Nebraska.

Social Life and Church Activities: All youth who live at the War Production Resident Center may attend the church of their choice. Each resident center plans a program of recreation including social activities and physical education. The resident center youth council assists in planning the recreation program at all centers.

Health Program: Adequate health facilities and doctors are available. A nurse is on duty at all times. The Lincoln center is very near all necessary medical facilities.

Counseling and Guidance: Each youth is interviewed when he enters the center. A complete record of his educational background, work experience and other data is compiled. A complete file is kept of the youth's work record, work attitude, disciplinary problems and other essential information that will be of help in recommending the youth for private employment. Youth who find it necessary to be absent from the project must have a permit from the youth personnel representative or the supervisor.
