Published in this space every week The greatest star of the screen!

We predict that the whole town will be talking about Saroyan's THE HUMAN COMEDY—the unusual story about human beings and how they feel and act and think about everyday things like war and love and work and hope!

They'll be talking about the wonderful and understanding production which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has given this great picture.

They'll be talking about the telegraph boy who pedals fast with good news—slow, with bad!

And how a couple of girls in a small town make a rainy night something to remember for three lonely soldiers.

And the once-in-a-lifetime performances given by Mickey Rooney and Frank Morgan—to mention two of the inspired cast!

The Human Comedy is now in its third big month at the Astor, New York.

It's the warmest, tenderest, most unforgettable picture ever!

Remember to see THE HUMAN COMEDY!

And don't forget to buy extra War Bonds and Stamps.
