THE OMAHA GUIDE

Omaha, Nebraska, Saturday, November 6, 1943

Page 3

BUY YOUR

POULTRY

NEBRASKA PRODUCE

2204-6 NORTH 24th ST.

Get the Best in Quality at the

NEBRASKA PRODUCE

-LOWEST PRICE-

Phone WE. 4137

"ATTENTION"

Negro Theatrical Performers

The Demand for Colored Talent

is Becoming Greater

Be Listed in Negro

THEATRICAL DIRECTORY

Now being published. For particulars writ

"THE CRITERION"

Hollywood (28) P. O. Box 1297. Californi

TRO-BOLDWYN -MAYER

"Top" entertainment is "The Man From Down Under", M-G-M's new pic-ture that's astir with eye-popping thrills ter of all the stir and excitement!

his space every week and action.

AT THE

colored servicemen were refused food service. *****

GUARANTEED FOR A LIFETIME! We will refinish and renew your ring at any time for a flat service charge of 35¢ to cover cost of handling and postage, providing all the State of Penn.

Smith Bros. has served the public since 1847.

In that period America has fought five wars.

Only during wartime has there ever been any shortage of Smith Bros. Cough Drops. Our production now is war-reduced but we're distributing it fairly to all. Still only 5¢. A nickel

SMITH BROS. COUGH DROPS

BLACK OR MENTHOL-5¢

checks that tickle!

TRADE

SEND NO MONEY! Simply mail a photo or clear snapshot which will be returned in good order. When your Vic-3.98 Photo Ring arrives, pay Tax Included postman $3.98 plus a few Actual $7.50 Value pay postcost of hand parts are re

smoother.

*****

*****

John Mohan of Tuczon, Arizona had his voice fully restored while telephoning for a taxi after 13

Grandville W. Woodson certified years of whispering. as a registered civilian engineer of Ladies of the Eastern Star serv***** ed a very lovely dinner at the Ma SS. Paul Laurence Dunbar six- sonic hall, 26th and Blondo St. th vessel to be named for a Negro. Sunday October 31st and it was a riot of peasure and fellowship *****

*****

Paul Robeson acclaimed a real contact. So many friendly, smiling

Bureau of Public Relations, U. S. War Department THE MILLS BROTHERS will have to journey to Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, to complete their organization, for Harry Mills is a private at the Reception Center. Harry (above) who regards his entrance into the Army as a great new adventure, is on the receiving end of the radio here. (Photo by U. S. Army Signal Corps).

~~~~~ that the increasing number of ser- ard of living in the little island revicemen already returning from the public should be raised with the utmost vigor, he decared.

war fronts indicates that the post "The standard of living of small war period has begun now. peoples, especially in our contin-"This implies th eneed for legisent, can only improve in the measlation which will involve fitting ure in which the greatest power in the western hemisphere, I mean cational education," he said, "prothe United States of America, thru viding cultural and civic education on a fulltime basis for those quali- the intermediary of its businessmen Meat packing plants under fed fied for college work, and providing and bankers, will invest capital in part time courses for those who the countries inhabited by such hold jobs but wish to advance their peoples. "In so far as our country is con-vocational and cultural status." erned, although its economy up to an intern and resident in radiology Insistence was voiced by the del- the present time seems to have at the Homer G. Phillips hospital, egates following Dr. Kelly's taik been agricultural ,it must obtain St. Louis, Mo., from 1931 to 1934. that Negro colleges be included in the capital necessary for a method-any such program on an equal ical and rational industrialization. footing with white schools. if only in order to procure certain Claude R. Wickard, secretary of items, the importation of which is agriculture, told of the importance unnecessary. No cuntry, without of Negro colleges in the wartime some participation 'n the industrial productions of foods and their con- government, has ever known a real servation. A message from Presi- development."

dent Rosevelt was read to the con- Guests sitting at the dais with ation facilities have been provided I forence in which the role of the My Legent and the host included

Performance of 'La Traviata' in English Tops and a support of the support of the and South America, played Violet-

LILLIAN EVANTI

GLORIFIES SELF ta of the performance, and aside Chicago, Nov. 1 (ANP) "La Trav- from illustrating a voice of rare ata," an Italian opera, was brot quality and flexibility, the audience to the stage Tuesday in good Am- declared that the experienced trouerican language, when the Nation- per knows her way around the al Negro Opera company, Inc., be- stage. Her exhuberant interpretafore a huge audience at the Chi- tion of the "Ah, Fors e Lui" and cago Civic house, demonstrated of "Sempre Libera" in the opening hat the Negro's native gift for act convinced all that she knows ong has developed to musics' high what grand opera was about.

est pitch. Lillian Evanti .coloratura soprano, who trained for her career scomb whos eetxraordinary teno: n opera houses in Italy, France voice supported the performance,

FORT HUACHUCA OFFICER PROMOTED

MAJOR WILLIAM E. ALLEN.

JR., formerly Capt. of X-ray servce, Station Hospitals, has been promoted to major at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. He is a graduate of Howard University and the Howard Medical School He served as enter in Harlem and a room m

the Brooklyn Service club for Negro personnel. In addition a joke

box was furnished for the Harlem

Outside of New York City, Mr.

Glixson said, the following recre-center.

The role of Alfrede was ably sung and performed by Joseph Lip while Horace Wilson, the elder Giogio Ermont of the cast, showed a voice of considerable dramatic quality.

Omega King's vice and acting (f Flora won praise. Critics were in agreement that Miss King' is qualified for even greater roles in future performances.

Praise was also given the excel lent support from other members of the company which included Dr Grenvil by Dr. J. A. Offord; Baron Douphol, William Robinson; Marquis d'Obigny; Annina, Priscil'a Mayo: John, Dr Scott Mayo; Joseph Dempsey Ward; messenger, Andrew Nelson and ballet with Beatrice Betts and David Leer. The performance was staged and conducted by Frederick Vadja, formerly of the Metropolitan opera Vadja was responsible for the English version of the opera.

* * * * Charles Laughton's in the whirling cen-"DON'T CRY BABY" HIS SONG A HIT

Laughton was GREAT as cruel Captain Bligh in "Mutiny On The Bounty". * * * Laughton was TREACHEROUS in 'Barretts Of Wimpole Street". * * * * Laughton was TOUGH in "Stand By For Action".

* * * * Laughton is TERRIFIC in this, his latest, richest and raciest role! * * * *

| for correct ring size                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Othello showing at the Shupert                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | schools was praised by the chief                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | by B'nai B'rith for Negro troops:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Phen Dars Stewy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | See what a punch he packs with the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FISK INDUSTRIES A. N.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Theatre in New York.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | A day room at Fort Leonard, Mo.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | women! (He leaves them-but they are                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| FISK RIHIDING, 250 W. 57 ST., N. Y. C.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | The pastors wives of the differ-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | executive.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | of the Bank of England; Col. Durce                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | by the B'nai B'rith Women of Cape                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | WILLIAM "BILL" LOUIS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | willing to wait).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| and the second s | V. S. Senate kills Educaitonal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ent churches, sponsored a very                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Judge Wendell E. Green of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Armand, Willis H. Booth, Maurice                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Girardeau, Mo.; a squadron room                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Bainbridge, Md., (Special to the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | * * * *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| BEAL BIREAUPON FAR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Bill                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | good fellowship tea at Cleaves                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | municipal court delivered the ad-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Dartigue, John W. Davis, former                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | See what a knock-out a prize-fight can                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| REAL DISCOVERY FOR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Temple on Sunday afternoon Oct.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | dress of welcome as the personal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Democratic presidential candidate:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Press Photo Service). After many                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | pack! * * * *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| MICH BLOOD DEFENDE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | years in the musical field in which ,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Hang, breathlessly, on the ropes your-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 31st. in honor of Rev. Story and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Kelly. Other speakers included                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | men and women of Dayton; a day                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | he was closely identified with sev-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | self, while danger lurks in the darkness                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1.0                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Zion in addressing the Allegheny                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | wife.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | room at Hill Field camp, Utah, by                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | eral outstanding small orks and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | and dastardly Japs strike at beautiful                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Dangerous High Blood Pressure                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Conference in Pittsburgh, Pa., said                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Claude A. Barnett, special assist-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | leader of three different swing                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | women! + + + +                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| (Lossentiar Hypertension) is usually                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | America's color bar is breaking.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Mr. and Mrs. Allen Johnson of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | ant to the secretary of agriculture                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | under construction in Haiti; James                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | a day room at Lake Muroc, Calif.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | For this is a picture that starts with a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| marked by distressing symptomssuch as dizziness, throbbing head-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | KC., Mo., attended morning setv-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | and director of the Associated Ne-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | A Farley, Democratic leader and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | bang-and ends with a bang-up, with                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| aches, sleeplessness and nervous                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Miss Grace Beechman Dincen                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ices at Clair Chapel Oct. 31.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | gro Press; Truman K. Gibson, Jr.,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 'ormer postmaster general; James                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | liam "Bill" Louis, former leader of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | plenty of suspense                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| ness. If disregarded, this may lead                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | lees at Clair Chaper Oct. St.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | civilian aide to the secretary of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | fornia; and a day room at Geiger                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | the famed ork, "Bill Louis, H s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | in the scenes in-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| to Heart Trouble, Stroke, Paralysis                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | pleads guilty to espionage charges                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | war; Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, of At                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Germany; John B. Glenn, Ogden H.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | field, Spokane, Wash., by the Al                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Drums and Orchestra"; has finall;                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | between!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Hardening of the Arteries or Kid.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | in Detroit, Michigan.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | WARNS LAND GRANT COLLEGE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | eph Zadik Akeph, B'nai B'rith                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | hit the musical "jackpot" with a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | * * *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| ney Trouble. Diamonex, discovery                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | PREXIES OF FEDERAL                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | lanta university, Dr Lloyd Hal!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Hammond, Frederick E. Hasler,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | youth organization.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | little ditty he composed "DON'T                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| of a heart specialist, is designed to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Stevens hotel in Chicago, the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | DOMINANCE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Chicago chemist, and T. N. Roberts                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, Abel Le-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | CRY BABY." He composed it                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Attractive BinnleBarnes, Richard                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| quickly aid in the relief of these                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | largest in the U.S. reopened on                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | BECAUSE OF WARTIME                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | of the U.S. Department of Agri                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | croix, Dr. William Mather Lewis,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ALUMNI GIVES TUSKEGEE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | while in training for the U.S. Navy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Carlson, Donna                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| A Chicago resident says: "I suf.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | CONVERSIONS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | culture.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Haitian Ambassador Andre Liaut-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Reed play impor-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| fered from High Blood Pressure for                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Chicago, Nov. 2 (ANP) Warning                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | The two day conference closed                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | aud, Bishop William R. McCann,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | $1,050 IN WAR BONDS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | at Norfolk, Va, and sent it to Ers-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | tant parts.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| several years with increasingly                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | with the election of the following                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | PUSH PLANS FOR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | kine Hawkins, who later made a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | the construction                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| severe throbbing headaches, dizzi-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Mrs. Christiana W. Roberson was                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | that land grant colleges stand the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | in the set of the set of the set of the set                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | FOUNDATION MEMORIAL.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | recording and now the platter is                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | * * * ································                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| ness and shortness of breath. 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | danger of msising theor original                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | officers: Dr. F. D. Patterson, Tus-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Morehead, William Church Osborn,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | IZING CARVER                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | the hit wave on all juke baxes from                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Robert Z. Leonard directs                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| showed the Diamonex formula to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | C. by Fred C. Mergens.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | purpose because of the many con-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | kegee institute, president; Horace                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Col. Gilbert I. Ross, Gentran Rouz-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | (BY CLEVELAND G. ALLEN)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | coast to coast. 'Bill' is serving at                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | with a knowing hand!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| my doctor and, on his advice, tried                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | versions brought about during war                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Mann Bond, Fort Valley State Col-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | ier, Yves Verna and Stanley Wood-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | * * * *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| the treatment for two weeks under                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Mr Dorsey the streamlined ohef                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | time, Dr. Edmund S. Day, presid-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | lege, Ga., vice president; Rufus B.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ward                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | the USNTS., here and has a small                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Our directions are simple.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| identical conditions as previoustreatments. Within only three days                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | ent of Cornell university. Ithaca.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Atwood, Kentucky State college,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Negro guests, distributed among                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Frederick D. Patterson, president                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Just Go — and Have a Grand Time!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| my bad headaches and dizzy spells                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | secretary; and Felton G. Clark.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | the 10 tables, included Walter                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | of Tuskegee institute accepted war                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | a Maryland radoi station and judg-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| were gone. My high blood pressure                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | New York, and president of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Southern university, treasurer. Al                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | bonds in the amount of $1,050 at                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | ing from reports, the outfit is the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | * * * *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| was reduced and I sleep fine."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 5 schools closed in Douglas coun-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | land grant universities, urged that                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | officers except Dr. Patterson, who                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Whtie, Roy Wikins Dr. L. D.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | the northeastern tri-state regional                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | favoirte with both servicemen and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | The Lion with his own                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | a part a part of the part of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | educators guard against becoming                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Reddick, Judge Trancis E. Rivers,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | meeting of the Tuskegee alumn-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | civilians in that section. He plans                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Punch! -Les                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| in three different ways to aid in                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Gen. Repairing Motor Tune-up                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | arms of federal authority.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | ucceeded G. Lamar Harrison                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Elmer A. Carter Joseph V. Baker,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | to keep the personnel of the outfit,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | The second se                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| the relief of these dangerous symp-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Speaking before delegates to the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Langston university, who retired to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | A semblyman Willam T. Andrews                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Alla.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| toms. Results are speedy-withinas short a time as two weeks suf-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 21st annual meeting of the Confer-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | become chairman of the executive                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | intact until after the war when he                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | P.S. Put your punch                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| ferers often find that Diamonex has                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Body and Fender Work                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | enc eof Negro Presidents of Land                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | committee, were reelected.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | a second and the second second second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | will embark on a national tour.'                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | into the Attack!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| accomplished 75% of the total re-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Battery, Etc.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Grant colleges in the Wabash Ave                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | a second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | He is serving as bandmaster for                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Buy Bonds!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| duction possible with this formula.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | RES. PHONE HA, 3126                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | nue YMCA, Dr. Day said that since                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | WHITE, NERO LEADERS PAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | JEWISH GROUP FURNISHES                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | establishing a foundat on to th                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | the Navy. (Press Photo Service.)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | V V V V V V V V V V V V V V V V V V V                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| If you suffer from High Blood                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | N. E. Corner 24th & Grant Si.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | TRIBUTE TO LESCOT IN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 13 RECREATION FACILITIES                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | memory of the late Tuskegee :c.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | in an corner and a crant or                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | the amount party and other Codare                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | and the second s |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | And a second                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Pressure you may try DIAMONEX                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | the army, navy and other federa                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | entist, Dr. George Washington Ca                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| without risking a penny. To intro-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | MANNAPAPAPAPAPAPA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | agencies have asked schools 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | entist, Dr. George Washington Ca                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 1/11                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 'LUNCHEON AT NEW YORK'SANKERS' CLUB                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'nai                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | entist, Dr. George Washington Carl                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 17                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | MANNAPAPAPAPAPAPA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | agencies have asked schools 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORK3ANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreation                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 20                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | "SWEET ROSIE O'GRADY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | BOWELS SLUGGISH?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activit                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 'LUNCHEON AT NEW YORK'SANKERS' CLUB                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regimal district, presented the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 20                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | "SWEET ROSIE O'GRADYis the musical we've all been                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | BOWELS SLUGGISH?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activit-ies, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORK3ANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regular district, presented thewar by to Dr. Parte son who a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 20                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | is the musical we've all been                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North Michigan                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | BOWELS SLUGGISH?• Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-els? Why put up with constipation misery?Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT. the pleasant-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORK3ANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A cross                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regular district, presented thewar by to Dr. Parte son who a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 20                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | waiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a full                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | BOWELS SLUGGISH?• Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-els? Why put up with constipation misery?Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT. the pleasant-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New York                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regular district, presented thewar by to Dr. Parte son who a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet Betty                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuine                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | BOWELS SLUGGISH?• Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-els? Why put up with constipation misery?Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only inaccordance with mackage directions. Next                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered last                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Glixson, chairman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regimal district, presented thewar by to Dr. Part son who acepted them with the remark that                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,                                                                                                                                                                             |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | BOWELS SLUGGISH?• Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-els? Why put up with constipation misery?Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only inaccordance with mackage directions. Next                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions are                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bank                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Glixson, chairman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R.R. Tenens, vice president ofthe regional district, presented thewar by to Dr. Part son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeg                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet Betty                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, at                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | <ul> <li>Bowels Sluces Sluces</li> <li>Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bowels? Why put up with constipation misery?Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only in accordance with package directions. Next morning-thorough, gentle relief, helping you feel swell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite rum. Tastes</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoring                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Council                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R.R. Hemans, vice president ofthe regional district, presented towar by to Dr. Part son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | HITS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, a score of hit                                                                                                                                           |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you are                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | BOWELS SLUGGISH?• Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-els? Why put up with constipation misery?Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only inaccordance with package directions. Nextmorning-thorough, gentle relief, helping youfeel swell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite gum. Tastesgood. Try FEEN-A-MINT-a whole family                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activit-ies, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regress al district, presented towar how to Dr. Parts son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bu-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | HITS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEART                                                                                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you are                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | <ul> <li>Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bowels? Why put up with constipation misery? Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only in accordance with package directions. Next morning-thorough, gentle relief, helping you feel swell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite gum. Tastes good. Try FEEN-A-MINT-a whole family supply costs only 10¢.</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled at                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe rear al district, presented towar h. to Dr. Pate son who acepted them with the remark thatthe g ft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | HITS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –                                                                                |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | <ul> <li>Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bowels? Why put up with constipation misery? Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only in accordance with package directions. Next morning-thorough, gentle relief, helping you feel swell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite gum. Tastes good. Try FEEN-A-MINT-a whole family supply costs only 10¢.</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreation                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regressional district, presented towar hour to Dr. Calcoon who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Tunkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | HITS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are no                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | <ul> <li>Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bowels? Why put up with constipation misery? Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only in accordance with package directions. Next morning-thorough, gentle relief, helping you feel swell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite gum. Tastes good. Try FEEN-A-MINT-a whole family supply costs only 10¢.</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept on                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe right al district, presented thewar house to Dr. Calcon who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were Rackham                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | HITSAnother wonder musical i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | <ul> <li>Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bowels? Why put up with constipation misery? Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only in accordance with package directions. Next morning-thorough, gentle relief, helping you feel swell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite gum. Tastes good. Try FEEN-A-MINT-a whole family supply costs only 10¢.</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Glixson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regress al district, presented thewar by to Dr. Car Coson who acepted them with the remark thatthe gft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Tuskeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony br-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | HITSAnother wonder musical iWINTERTIME which bring                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as this                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | <ul> <li>Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bowels? Why put up with constipation misery? Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasant-tasting chewing-gum laxative. Chew FEEN-A-MINT tonight at bedtime, taking only in accordance with package directions. Next morning-thorough, gentle relief, helping you feel swell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite gum. Tastes good. Try FEEN-A-MINT-a whole family supply costs only 10¢.</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educators                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Glixson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe right al district, presented thewar house to Dr. Calcon who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were Rackham                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | HITSAnother wonder musical inWINTERTIME which bring                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, a score of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                              |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderful                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Bowels State de la construcción                                                                                                        | agencies have asked schools 10carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREET                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regress al district, presented thewar by to Dr. Car Coson who acepted them with the remark thatthe gft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Tuskeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony br-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Another wonder musical iWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Bowels State of State                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools 1carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educators                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gather-ing was thomaged by the state of the state | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Glixson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for merit-orious service in connection with                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regress al district, presented towar hour to Dr. 20 Coson who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Another wonder musical iWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, Carolo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Bowels State of State                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr, Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR                                                                                                                                                                                                 | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gather-ure of foreign capital which would                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe rear mal district, presented thewar h to Dr. Car Coson who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolaLANDIS and Woody HERMAN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as this                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Bowels State of State                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools 10carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240                                                                                                                                                                      | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 2014ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe rear mal district, presented thewar h to Dr. Can who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Another wonder musical inWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolaLANDIS and Woody HERMAN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Bowels State of State                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools 10carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES -                                                                                                                                                 | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 2014ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe regional district, presented thewar h to Dr. Part son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. Isaac                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolaLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grand                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Bowels State of State                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools 10carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240                                                                                                                                                                      | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 2014ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe regress al district, presented thewar h to Dr. Pare son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grandsongs and grand fun!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Bowels State of State                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools 10carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES -                                                                                                                                                 | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leaders,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 2014ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach'evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe regional district, presented thewar by to Dr. Part son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Tunkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAU                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | BOWELS SLUCGISH- Seeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggi         | agencies have asked schools 10carry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national government."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES -LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                       | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 19 H-ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the coun                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe regional district, presented towar by to Dr. Part son who acepted them with the remark thatthe g ft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee, IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grandsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAU                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | BOWELS SLUCGISH- Seeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggi         | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                       | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 19 H-ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach'evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president of the regional district, presented to war by to Dr. Part son who a cepted them with the remark that the g ft was another expression of the loyalty and devotion Turkeg graduates held for their alma mater. Witnessing the ceremony busides members from New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, and other cities were Rackham Holt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a representative from Double Day Doran and Co., which published the best seller, "Dr. George Washington Carver" and Frank Chisholm, field secretary of Tuskegee, Isaac Webb, president of the region presided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grandsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAU                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | BOWELS SLUCGISH- Seeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggi         | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                       | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 19 H-ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the coun                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regional district, presented thewar house of Dr. Conversecepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grandsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAU                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story –and it's in Technicolor, too!                                               |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Bend only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | BOWELS SLUCGISH?- Seeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-leadachy-dull-all b       | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor programs and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                       | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 19 H-ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach'evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, which                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe regretal district, presented towar hour to Dr. 20 Coson who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAU                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!TIL as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| <text></text>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | BOWELS SLUCGISHBOWELS SLUCGISH- Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish box-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish because of sluggish box-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish box-leadachy-dull         | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Off-eeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                          | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichthas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe rear mal district, presented towar h to Dr. 20 C son who acepted them with the remark thatthe g ft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through her                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAU                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!TIL as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtrial offer is made for a limitedtrial offer is made for a limitedto only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.THE BOOK OGEORGERGETHE WORLD'S GREATEST$3.50 POSTPAID. SEND FOR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | BOWELS SLUCGISHBOWELS SLUCGISH- Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish box-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish box-leadachy-dulleadachy-leadachy-d       | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Off-eeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                          | LUNCHEON AT NEW YORKBANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Haiti.Host to the distinguished gather-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the 19 H-ure of foreign capital, which bouldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Haiti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for marit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichthas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and reading                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe rear mal district, presented towar h to Dr. 20 Coon who acepted them with the remark thatthe g ft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee, IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CaroliLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!TIL as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.THE WORLD'S GREATEST$3.50 POSTPAID. SEND FOROF, AND ABOUT BY BLACK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | BOWELS SLUCGISHBOWELS SLUCGISH- Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish boxyfor why put up with constipation miseryChew FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasantatting chewing gum laxative. Chew FEENaccordance with package directions. Nextmorning thorough, gentle relief, helping youbest with accordance with package directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance dire | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Off-eeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                          | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for marit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-                                                                                                                                                                                       | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe rear mal district, presented towar h to Dr. 20 Coon who acepted them with the remark thatthe g ft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee, IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver that                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CaroliLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THEDo You Want LLA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!TIL as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.THE WORLD'S GREATEST$3.50 POSTPAID. SEND FOROF, AND ABOUT BY BLACK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | BOWELS SLUCGISHBOWELS SLUCGISH- Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish box-leadachy-dull-all because of sluggish box-leadachy-dulleadachy-leadachy-d       | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Off-eeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                          | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-ies and canteens at military and                                                                                                                                                   | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Clemens, vice president ofthe rear mal district, presented thewar h to Dr. 20 Cosm who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller. "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver thatshould react favorably in the solic-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolaLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THEDo You WantLONGER                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!TIL as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| without risking a penny. To intro-duce this wonderful treatment toa million new sufferers this liberaltrial offer is made for a limitedtime only.Send only $1.50 to the DiamonexCompany, 318-A North MichiganAve., Chicago, Illinois for a fullTWO weeks supply of genuineDIAMONEX, prepaid. Use Dia-monex according to the simple di-rections for only two weeks. If, atthe end of that test period you arenot delighted with results yourmoney will be refunded immedi-ately on request. There are nostrings or conditions—you owe it toyourself to make this wonderfultest at once. Write today as thisoffer is fully guaranteed.THE WORLD'S GREATEST$3.50 POSTPAID. SEND FOROF, AND ABOUT BY BLACK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | BOWELS SLUCCISHA Feeling like you lost your best friend-seadachy-dull-all because of sluggish bow-else Wup put up with constipation misery?Chew modern FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasantaccordance with package directions. Nextin accordance with package directions. Nextwith The tongish at beddime, taking only inaccordance with package directions. Nextwell again. Millions rely on FEEN-A-MINT. Chew like your favorite gum. Tastespuppi costs only 100:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Off-eeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                          | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-ies and canteens at military andnaval installations in 36 states.                                                                                                              | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe rear all district, presented thewarh to Dr. Pare son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver thatshould react favorably- in the solic-itation of funds to establish the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CaroliLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THEDo You Want HasingLONGER                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!TIL as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| <text><text><text></text></text></text>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | BOWELS SLUCGISHBOWELS SLUCGISH- Feeling like you lost your best friend-headachy-dull-all because of sluggish boxyfor why put up with constipation miseryChew FEEN-A-MINT, the pleasantatting chewing gum laxative. Chew FEENaccordance with package directions. Nextmorning thorough, gentle relief, helping youbest with accordance with package directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance directions. Nextaccordance dire | agencies have asked schools incarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Off-eeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.                                                                                                          | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of achievement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-ies and canteens at military andnaval installations in 36 states.For Negro personnel B'nai B'rith                                                                          | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe rear all district, presented towarh to Dr. 20 Coon who acepted them with the remark thatthe g ft was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Turkeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver thatshould react favorably- in the solic-itation of funds to establish thememorial.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CaroliLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THEDo You Want Hard for theLONGER                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!TIL as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| <text><text><text></text></text></text>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | A series of suggistic seri                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr. Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.THIS GRANmade especially toFEMALA                                                     | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-ies and canteens at military andnaval installations in 36 states.                                                                                                              | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe rear all district, presented thewarh to Dr. Pare son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver thatshould react favorably in the solic-itation of funds to establish thememorial.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Another wonder musical iWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIEyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CaroliLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THEDO YOU WANT EAGING THEDO YOU WANT EAGING                                                                                                                                                                              | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!DIA as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| <text><text><text></text></text></text>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | A series of suggest boost of suggest boo                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr, Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.THIS GRANmade especially toFEMALAAnd Its Weak,                              | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-ies and canteens at military andmaval installations in 36 states.For Negro personnel B'nai B'rithhas furnished the following facil-                                    | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe rear all district, presented thewarh to Dr. Pare son who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver thatshould react favorably in the solic-itation of funds to establish thememorial.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CaroliLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THEDO YOU WANT MATCH FOR THEDO YOU WANT MATCH FOR THECONSELONG TO PROVE THAT A LOOSE SCALF,FREE OF DANDRUFF AND HAIR DESTROYING GEBMSGROWS LONG-BEAUTIFUL STRAIGHT GLOSSY HAR.                                                             | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!DIA as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| <text><text><text></text></text></text>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | A series of suggest boost of suggest boo                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr, Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Off-eeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUH SHOESOther People Do.THIS GRANmade especially toFEMALAAnd Its Weak,Cranky, Nervous Feelings- | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-ies and canteens at military andmaval installations in 36 states.For Negro personnel B'nai B'rithhas furnished the following facil-                                    | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe rear all district, presented thewarh to Dr. 24 Coson who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thekeggraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony bo-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver thatshould react favorably in the solic-itation of funds to establish thememorial.One report 2 * the meeting thatdrew special attention was the one                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Another wonder musical iWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIEyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CaroliLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus grantsongs and grand fun!WATCH FOR THEMATCH FOR THEDO YOU WANT EACH FOR THEDO YOU WANT EACH FOR THEMERE IS EVIDENCE TO PROVE THAT A LOOSE SCALF.THEE OF DANDRUFF AND HAIR DESTROYING GERMSGROWS LONG-BEAUTIFUL STRAIGHT GLOSSY HAR.Hair Looks Longer in 7 Days! | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!DIA as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |
| <text><text><text></text></text></text>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | A series of suggest boost of suggest boo                                                                                                       | agencies have asked schools tocarry on supplementary activities, if not careful, they will not re-vert to the pre-Pearl Harbor pro-grams and will, indeed, become ex-tensions of the national govern-ment."The land grant institutions arein danger of losing their integrity,he said, "by becoming arms of thefederal authority."Dr, Fred J. Kelly, U. S. Officeof Education, told the educatorsNORTH 24th STREETSHOE REPAIR1807 N. 24th St. WE-4240-POPULAR PRICES-LOOK AT YOUR SHOESOther People Do.THIS GRANmade especially toFEMALAAnd Its Weak,                              | UNCHEON AT NEW YORKSANKERS' CLUBASKS PRIVATEINVESTMENTSNew York, Nov. 3 (ANP) A crosssection of the nation's leader,both white and black, gathered lastMonday noon at the swank Bankers' club at a luncheon honoringPresident Elie Lescot of Halti.Host to the distinguished gat ter-ing was Thomas J. Watson, presi-dent of International Business Ma-chines Company.In his address, given in French,President Lescot pointed to the gen-ure of foreign capital, which couldhave helped the nation, to be in-vested in Halti to any large extent.Asserting that the Atlantic Char-ter foresees the right of man tostill his hunger and that the stand-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | FOR NEGRO SOLDIERSNew York, Oct. 31 (ANP) B'naiB'rith has furnished 13 recreationfacilities for Negro mil tary pers-onnel throughout the country, in-cluding eight in the New Yorkarea, Arthur S. Gl'xson, chairmanof the Metropolitan New YorkB'nai B'r th War Service Councilold a distinguished gathering of3,000 Negro leaders assembled atthe Harlem Defense Recreationcenter to see Mr. Gl'xson accept onbehalf of B'nai B'rith a special cer-tificate of ach evement for merit-orious service in connection withthe center's recreational programfor Negro servicemen.The furnishing of these facil't-ies for Negro personnel is part ofthe nationwide war service pro-grams of B'nai B'rith, the country's oldest and largest nationalJewish service organization, whichhas equipped 552 day rooms, squad-ron rooms, game, card and readingrooms, recreation centers, librar-ies and canteens at military andnaval installations in 36 states.For Negro personnel B'nai B'rithhas furnished the following facil-ities in the New York City area | entist, Dr. George Washington Cover.R. R. Temens, vice president ofthe regional district, presented thewarh to Dr. 24 Coson who acepted them with the remark thatthe gift was another expression ofthe loyalty and devotion Thesegraduates held for their alma ma-ter. Witnessing the ceremony b-sides members from New York,Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit,and other cities were RackhamHolt, Dr. Carver's biographer, a rep-resentative from Double Day Dor-an and Co., which published thebest seller, "Dr. George Washing-ton Carver" and Frank Chisholm,field secretary of Tuskegee. IsaacWebb, president of the region pre-sided.Mrs. Holt spoke in behalf of thefoundation and pointed out its val-ue to students of scientific re-search. She said that through herbook a new interest has been cre-ated in the life of Dr. Carver thatshould react favorably in the solic-itation of funds to establish thememorial.One report a * the meeting thatdrew special attention was the onethat told of plans for national holi-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Another wonder musical isWINTERTIME which bringyou Sonja HENIE, Jack OAKIECesar ROMERO, CarolLANDIS and Woody HERMANand His Orchestra plus gransongs and grand fun!You'll remember CLAUWATCH FOR THEDO YOU WANT EAGING THEMATCH FOR THEDO YOU WANT EAGING CERMSCHOWS LONG BEAUTIFUL STRAIGHT GLOSSY HAR.                                                                                                                                          | is the musical we've all beenwaiting for!"N. Y. Daily News!It has everything! Sweet BettyGRABLE, Robert YOUNG,Adolphe MENJOU, ascore of hittunes (topped by MY HEARTTELLS ME!), a swell story-and it's in Technicolor, too!DIA as long as you live!MON THE SCREEN! |

1 vo day coms for the 372d In- Vice Persident Henry A. Wallace Mme. Lawson's 3-way Rejuvenator fautry encampment in Brookiyn: a who studied agriculture under Dr. CONSISTING OF

com in the colored officers club Carver when he was an instructor I-DANDRUFF ERADICATOR I-HOT OIL SCALP STIMULATOR $1.00 17. the Hotel Theresa in Harlem; a on the Iowa State college faculty I-NU-GRO HAIR CULTIVATOR _ _ $1.00 TOTAL VALUE ____ $3.00 recreation center in the 23d street some years ago had requested the Special 90 days Trial Supply $2.00 armony; the first day room for honor of officially opening the seal SEND NO MONEY, PAY THE POSTMAN $2.00 PLUS A FEW CTS POSTAGE, TRY IT 30-DAYS IF NOT SATIS-Not troops at the States Island Wallace, it was related, is interest-FIED RETURN THE UNUSED AMOUNT AND GET YOUR MONEY. SEND NOW. TODAY TO ... port of embarkation; a day room ed in establishment of the foundar Fort Wadsworth in the Brons. ation and has offered himself as backache, weak, nervous feelings, distress of "irregularities"-due to functional monthly disturbances. Start at once-try Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound to re-lieve such symptoms because this famous medicine has a soothing effect on ONE OF WOMAN'S MOST IM-POETANT OBCANS. Taken regularly thruout the month--it helps build up resistance against such symp-toms. Thousands upon thousands of women report benefits!

Mme. Pauline Lawson, Box 1851, Hollywood, Calif.

ns. Worth trying!

Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Y)

MARK

.

There are no harmful opiates in Finkham's Compound—it is made from nature's own roots and herbs (plus Vitamin B<sub>1</sub>). IT HELPS NATURE. Also a fine stomachic tonic! Follow label directions. Worth trying!

a rocm in the Negro Wa! Service a publicity aid.