STORE THOSE POTATOES AT HOME!

While those Irish potatoes are easy to get—and while commercial storage facilities are crowded with war materials—it is your patriotic duty, and your opportunity, to take home a hundred pounds or so of spuds and store them for winter use. The Food Distribution Administration says, you can store potatoes in your backyard by putting straw on the ground, potatoes on top, then covering with straw protected by a layer of earth. In a basement or closet, a rack that is airy, not too damp, not too warm (but never freezing), or in a dark place, will prove a money-saver and a guarantee of potatoes on your menu all through the winter.

INVESTIGATE OFFICER WHO STRUCK UNSHAVEN SOLDIER

Fort Devens, Mass., Dec. 2 (ANP) —Quiet satisfaction that the army will attempt to make amends in cases of flagrant mistreatment of soldiers is permeating the ranks of the 650th Quartermaster troop transport group here. Several weeks ago, one of the men in the outfit was struck over the head with the butt of a rifle, reportedly because the man would not shave. The soldier is said to have contended that it was against his religion to shave and refused to do so. The officer who struck the man, allegedly a Capt. Walton, is rumored under investigation. Gen. B. O. Davis and Civilian Aide Truman K. Gibson visited the post shortly after the incident.

being evident that he did not relish seeing her dance with the colored men of his own company. Resentment flared, a white lieutenant intervened, the captain returned and apologized to the men and a rather nasty scene was averted.

A sensible and forthright colored service club hostess and several officers took the captain in hand and got him pretty well straightened out on social procedures, it is said.

DRAFT OF ILLITERATES BEFORE FATHERS URGED AT MASS MEETING

Chicago, Dec. 2 (ANP) Utilization of 500,000 single Negro illiterates before drafting pre-Pearl Harbor father for noncombat service, was urged at a massmeeting of the National Negro council Monday at the Metropolitan Community church.

A resolution adopted also urged the government to make provision for primary education for these illiterates. The group requested that President Roosevelt issue an executive order prohibiting the war department from its present under-catch policy of segregating and discriminating against a million Negro soldiers by denying Negroes combat service and relegating them to engineer, labor and miscellaneous divisions.

Other requests were that a higher quota of Negro nurses in the army, admission of Negro women as WAVES and SP-5s and defeat of the senate proposal for a soldier voting "unless permitted to protect the rights of Negro soldiers to cast a ballot in the national poll tax states."

HOLIDAY MEAT

Prince George County, Md. — Soldiers like chicken, and duck too. And so, George W. Queen, 4-H Club youth of this County, is very busy these days caring for the fowl.

The letters from the constituents of the Senators were in the main short and pithy. One of them, for instance, which came from Tennessee, reads: "Are you ready for peace—abolish the poll tax." Another letter, from Kentucky said, "The poll tax has to be abolished. Do your part in making this possible. Make this country a better place to live in."

Another letter, from Alabama, addressed to Senator Lister Hill, said: "Across a thousand, thousand miles, let our men hear that the poll tax has been abolished."

Another letter also addressed to Senator Hill said: "Our Servicemen will rejoice when they hear there is no more poll tax in America."

The letters, which were unsolicited by the organization, came as a result of the efforts of one or two members who wrote to their friends and asked them to write and to pass the word along. This batch of 500 letters, Miss Johnson said, is the beginning of a chain letter idea which is sweeping across half the states in the union.

It is expected that as the fight on closure draws nearer, Senators will be bombarded with hundreds of thousands of letters and post cards from all over the country, urging the prevention of a filibuster against the bill which would give all citizens of eight Southern states the right to vote without paying for that privilege.

The People of Omaha Would Have Paid Over $23,300,000 More Taxes in the past 26 years if Nebraska Power had been politically owned and managed

By the end of 1943, Nebraska Power will have paid more than $23,300,000 in taxes since it began doing business in Omaha. No publicly owned utility in Omaha has ever paid taxes, nor would Nebraska Power have for the past twenty-six years if it had been politically owned and managed under existing law.

In spite of paying this vast tax bill, the Company has been able to maintain Omaha's enviable record of electric rates among the lowest in the nation. In 1917, your residential electric rates were 30% lower than the average for cities of Omaha's class. And, today, the people of Omaha are paying $8,000,000 a year less than they would pay with rates prevailing in 1917.

It's no wonder Omahans are anxious to keep this Company's proven low rates... good service... and good, tax-paying citizenship!

HIRE 5 NEGROES; WHITES STRIKE
Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (ANP) The hiring of five colored workers by the Chase Bag Company, located in South Philadelphia near the Delaware river front, was the cause of a strike in which 200 employees participated, making it necessary to shut down the plant for two days, it was revealed this week.

The strikers, white and members of the Bag Workers' Federal union Labor 20939 (AFL) stopped work at their jobs the entire day last Monday. Tuesday, a few returned, but they didn't work. A meeting of employees, held in the street outside the plant, voted "to go back to work eventually, but left the time and conditions up in the air" a company spokesman said.

The company is engaged for the most part in war work, its line of production including ammunition bags and cardboard containers for food and other articles used by the armed forces and lend-lease.

A spokesman for the firm said the Negroes were hired in accordance with the rulings of the FEPC. The War Manpower Commission and the U. S. Employment Service, he said, have made the suggestion that they be hired.

No member of the union would make any statement other than confirm the fact of the walkout in the absence of Thomas Mallon, regional AFL director. An associate of Mallon said the strike dis-
