year round anti-tuberculosis fight. A look at figures will give an idea of the benefits of anti-tuberculosis deaths in Nebraska. In 1942 there were 178 deaths. Association officials declare this anti tuberculosis work will be intensified in 1944 if enough Nebraskans buy Christmas Seals.

This response by citizens of Nebraska comes at a tuberculosis crisis. It is plain that war and tuberculosis are distinct allies. In Europe almost every country has experienced a decided upswing in tuberculosis due to long hours, insufficient rest, poor nutrition habits, crowded living quarters and diminished medical staffs.

The rise in the United States has not come as yet but officials think it inevitable. Only the purchase of Christmas Seals can prevent us from being caught by a rise in tuberculosis in Nebraska.

TO SURVEY DEVELOPMENT OF SMALL HAITI INDUSTRY
It was announced in the State Department's Press Release No. 467 of November 6, 1943, that during the visit to Washington of His Excellency President Elie Lescot of Haiti a decision was taken to conduct a survey "of the possible ways in which both private capital and governmental agencies might cooperate to develop certain small industries after the war in Haiti."

The Secretary of State announced this week that after consultation with His Excellency M. Andre Liautaud, the Ambassador of Haiti in Washington it has been agreed to set up an Industrial Mission consisting of three representatives each of the Haitian and American Governments. The representatives of the United States on the Mission are: 1. Charles A. Howard, director of the Technical Office, Inter-American Development Commission; 2. Dr. Louis Shere, assistant director of the Division of Tax Research, Treasury Department; 3. John K. Whitaker, a director of the Cotton Textile Institute, designated upon the recommendation of the United States Commission of Inter-American Development.

The three United States members expect to proceed to Port-au-Prince within the next few days where they will collaborate with representatives of the Haitian Government.

The Mission expects to cooperate with the Haitian Commission of Inter-American Development of which His Excellency M. Abel Lacroix, Minister of Finance, is the chairman.

CIO HOLDS WAR EFFORT RALLY

Remember Pearl Harbor Day is more than a slogan to American workers. December 7th will remain a page in our history book as a day of the most dastardly attack upon our nation by the Japs.

Two years have elapsed since our nation was struck by the horror of war. Many well meaning Americans today are too optimistic in regard to the winning of the war. The attitude of thousands of American workers is that the war is already won. This false optimism is dangerous. The CIO nationally and locally does not harbor these ideas.

Various CIO conventions have pledged and reiterated their pledges on no strikes for the duration. The CIO program throughout the country is to awaken the workers as to the necessity of a strouger, fuller war effort.

On December 7th at 7:30 pm. at the City Auditorium, Omaha workers met to hear a program sponsored by the CIO Council of Omaha in cooperation with the Public Relation Department of the U. S. Army. This event was the biggest event of the year to our Omaha workers.

Heading the program R. J. Thomas, President of the UAW-CIO, and Vice-President of the National CIO, was in Omaha as one of the principal speakers. Major Jack Adams, who was at Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941 and who has been awarded the distinguished flying cross and distinguished service cross gave a graphic story of that event. He has seen considerable service in the South Pacific and helped evacuate General MacArthur's staff from the Philippines.

Corp. Dwight Farmer, who was wounded eleven times in North Africa and Sicily, the only man left alive out of a reconnaissance detail of twelve men, also told a story. Private Matthews E. O'Marra, distinguished service in Attu against the Japs.

The Fort Crook military band opened the meeting and was a part of the program. Captured Jap and Nazi war equipment was scheduled to be on display.

On the home front the necessity of rationing and price control was discussed by Edward Stegan, OPA

Regional Executive of Washington D. C.

This entire CIO war effort rally was free to the public.

25c OUT OF EVERY DOLLAR NEBRASKA POWER RECEIVES is Paid Out in Taxes!

Nebraska Power is Omaha's biggest taxpayer. One-fourth of the Company's annual revenue now goes for taxes that the people would have to pay if Nebraska Power didn't.

In 1943, Nebraska Power's total tax bill, local and federal, will amount to $2,500,000. Every dollar of this money is vitally needed not only to help maintain the city's schools, streets, fire and police departments and other necessary activities, but also to help supply our armed forces with the equipment they must have to win the war.

Our customers know that practically everything costs more these days, and they appreciate the fact that our experienced business management has been able to keep electric rates as low as ever . . . even though the Company's taxes have jumped more than 57% since 1940 and our cost of doing business has tremendously increased.

These are among the many reasons so many citizens feel that Omaha should KEEP the experienced business management that made this record possible.

There is no reason to gamble Nebraska Power's fine service, low rates and good, tax-paying citizenship for the uncertainties of political management.
