WITH DIMES AND PENNIES SHE BOUGHT WAR BONDS
Mrs. Mamie I. Pollard, 2637 Hamilton, saved dimes and pennies in a mason fruit jar until she had enough of them with which to buy War Bonds. It was reported that she saved in that way around $75 and adding $25 to it bought a $100 Bond. Mrs. Pollard is employed by the Martin Bomber plant company and has just recently joined the Ladies Auxiliary to Roosevelt Post No. 30. The American Legion

INTERDENOMINATIONAL SS. TO MEET SUNDAY, FEB. 13TH
The Interdenominational Sunday School Alliance will meet Sunday February 13th at the Mount Moriah Baptist Church at 330 pm. The topic of discussion is "Traits and Characteristics of the Juniors." Those taking leading parts in the discussion are: Mrs. Arthur Westerfield, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. James Fellows.

PRaise TO THE AUXILIARY
With but two of its members, mesdames Mary Butler and Esther Hicks, on the bond selling committee, much praise is due the Ladies Auxiliary to Roosevelt Post No. 30 for the fine showing it has made so far in the bond drive. A better team could not have been selected. For these two Legionettes are tireless in their quest for War Bond buyers. And through their efforts it would not be too much of a surprise if they topped the individual sales of Bonds by our women here on the north side.

THE FEMININE TOUCH
As far as the male part of the office staff was concerned every thing was tidy enough in the office of the Omaha Guide, but the female part of it didn't think so and go busy.

Last week's issue being ready to go to press things were a little dead in the place. To make up for this lack of something to do the young women started giving it a feminine touch. And when they finished the office was so spic and span that it wasn't well, it wasn't the same place at all!

Now the only thing wrong with the whole office was that the young women were of the opinion that at least ONE of the male members of the staff should have pitched in and gave a little help. Well, he did, sort of. Generously he gave them all the advice he could think of and they didn't want or need. What they wanted, they stated was some assistance that would not make or thing that the giver was suffering from sleeping sickness. That was a direct insult to the male in question, who isn't much more than on speaking terms with work—and whenever possible, ignores it altogether. So, silently he watched them to do their stuff, doing magic to the office and decided that in due time maybe, show his appreciation of their feminine touch by doing a little—VERY little, work around

THE WOMEN'S WORK OF THE CHURCH OF THE LIVING GOD
CWF, 1906 North 24th Street

First I want to say thank you for your splendid cooperation in the way that you responded to the Little Princess Wedding. The church was filled long before the program started. You are welcome. We have had a wonderful revival meeting. All last week and the spirit ran high. We had with us, Rev. F. Johnson of Chicago, Ill. on Monday night Feb. 14th. We have another surprise for you—something you will never forget! Come out and see. Those who missed hearing Rev. Johnson really missed a treat for he preached out of his heart.

Rev. S. K. Nichols, Pastor. Sis. W. Long, President.

GOT WHAT SHE WANTED!
Mrs. Lulu Bryant wanted not less than $25 to add to the "Little Red School" fund, and she got it! But what of it? The way she has shown in past performances how she can do things when things need being done, if it had been $50 she wanted to raise—she would have been just as successful. Mrs. Bryant is music chairman of the Ladies Auxiliary, to Roosevelt Post No. 30, American Legion.

A SURPRISE PARTY ON HER HUSBAND
Mrs. Doris McDavis gave a surprise party on her husband, Mr. George McDavis, at 3919 Corby St., Sunday February 6th. He received many lovely presents, among them being a gorgeous birthday cake and a lovely lounging outfit presented to him by his wife. The guest spent much of their time playing bridge and pokeno. Luncheon was served with salad as the d'oeuvre. The table was done in white and red. Everyone present had a lovely time.

Those present at the party: Mr. and Mrs. George Buxton, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reese, Mr. Charles Martin, Jr., Mrs. Vera E. Hopkins, Mrs. Percy McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Rose Buckner, Mrs. Helen Godby, Mrs. Cola Pearson, Mrs. Lovie Booker, and Mrs. Valere Spencer.

MRS. HICKS MAKES A MISTAKE
In informing a Guide reporter of her sale of a 125.00 worth of war bonds, Mrs. Esther Hicks gave the woman's name who purchased the bonds as Mrs. Mary Johnson of 1124 1/2 North 27th street, instead of 1814 1/2 North 27th street and the name is Miss Mary Dodson who lives at the same address as Mrs. Hicks. This correction is made at her request.

A CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK
Jack Walker, son of James Walker, 2527 Blondo street, celebrated his 13th birthday a few days ago. His father was seen buying an article of food for the celebration. Jack is a chip off the old block, therefore wants to do things in a big way, even if someone else is bearing the expense. And that surely was what his father was doing the way he was putting out money in the grocery store when seen by a Guide reporter.

WHY NOT?
Why not join the all out drive of the NAACP, against Hitler and his henchmen? Do you know that only 250,000 persons, including our allies, constitute the membership of the NAACP? That is a fact. So that gives a ride to over 13,000,000 people, riding on the shoulders of each and every member. Where do you stand? We hope not in the line with so many spending on non-essentials, trying to make an impression, trying to be a big guy—letting someone carry your obligations and wonder just where the fool killer is or has honesty, deceiving and common sense flown afar?

This war will not last always. At least we pray to God that it won't. How will you be situated in your personal affairs? What condition will your organization and institution be in? Do you intend to be in the bread line? Do you have any War Bonds? You know that above all else they will be a solid rock upon which you can stand and a part you can pay while our boys at the front are doing their bit.

As it is never too late to start, we are thinking it would be a fine addition to our branch if we could inaugurate a junior branch composed of young men and ladies to prepare for the future. It would bridge the gap and do a lot to cement an understanding which is always an advantage. Our busy people should not be too busy to make a sacrifice when we are called upon. Don't forget, when the hair on the head of a Negro in the everglades of Florida is pulled, the Negroes on our northern boundary lives are affected.

The NAACP, is all out for the FEPC and all over the country. Not just the North and east, but the south and west 100 percent. And don't expect just a few to carry on; everybody expects something as a result of the effort. So why not all of us make our contribution? Do you want all of the freedom? Prove it by planking down from one to one hundred dollars.

Prejudice and malice, the filthy vultures, have reared their scummy heads in our midst lately and woe is me! They were cracked on the head by some of us in our small way. Let's make it in a large way by knitting a closer relationship, more harmony, more and greater organization and understanding.

Our next big meeting will be announced later. So watch for the date and come out with a friend. At the last executive board meeting the following new members were added to the board Mrs. Milton Johnson, A. R. Goodlett, Mrs. Lucy Mae Britt, Mrs. Alice Wilson, C. N. Wilson, Mrs. H. W. Black, Mrs. Anita Blackburn, Rev. Adams and C. C. Galloway, Mr. W. Cronin, Mr. Lee Washington, Mrs. Madison and H. W. Black.

Committees: Legal Redress, Mr. H. J. Pinkett. Finance, Rev. Mr. Blackmore, Mrs. J. A. Williams, W. L. Myers and Mr. C. C. Galloway. Youth Council, Mr. Edward Fletcher, H. W. Smith, Mr. McIntosh. Education, Mrs. A. Wilson. Publicity, Robert Harris.

Committees must be completed so as to function properly. Thirty members must be ready to fill in where asked to serve. One member of a committee loses heart and courage when left to carry on alone.

GOD AND THE PEACE
WINNING THE PEACE
(by JULIUS E. HILL)

Wanting to win the war is elementary with every nation concerned in the present conflict—But who will win the peace?

"We will," say the Allies. "We will," say their foes. But the statement of each eaves the question as unsettled as in the beginning.

Now if the question had been this: Who will win the war? It would have been easier to answer. For in the end the Allies will win it; its foes will be defeated and conquered. But there still will remain the task of winning the peace.

Already in this war Germany has conquered or defeated a number of countries. She has taken their land, their wealth and all that they hold dear and sacred. Yes, Germany has done all this and yet has won no peace.

Defeat of an enemy has never meant an assurance of peace. Peace cannot be won on the battlefields. For peace doesn't kill, murder, destroy nations and rapes its women. That is the work of things composed of flesh, bones and blood. And peace isn't composed of anything so plebeian. It isn't material at all; it is spiritual; therefore must take root and exist in the hearts and minds of men—in the hearts and minds of both victor and vanquished. And man's love cannot bring about such an amiable relationship between humans.

Who will win the peace? Man cannot answer the question without the help of God. God is the author of peace. And through Him it must be obtained.

Thus it can be seen, if the Allies
