It's no longer TABOO for girls to talk of this possible help
You can't expect a grin-and-bear-it attitude to bring relief from the distress of periodic, functional pain. Perhaps that's why so many women use CARDUI. It has a 62 year record of 2-way help, when taken as directed: (1) started three days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely periodic, functional causes; (2) taken as a tonic, CARDUI usually improves appetite, aids digestion by increasing the flow of gastric juices, and thus helps build resistance, which often aids in minimizing periodic functional distress. Try CARDUI. You may be glad you did!

NAACP HINTS!
Constantly on guard, insistent in its demands for fair play and equal rights, peering into every opening and venture where public funds are used to carry on to see that every contribution reaps an adequate return on his investment, no matter how small or how large. We all must put some thing into life's struggle if we expect to take anything out. That is fair in that we are not riding on the shoulders of someone else.

We are being contacted every day in nearly every walk of life to give support to the mobilization of our forces to the end that the FEPC may become a Law on our statute books for all time. No wishful thinking will avail anything. So it is up to all organizations and individuals to write, telegraph and page our Representatives in Washington. This bill which is now on the Senate calendar is in great danger of being filibustered to its death by the reactionaries and enemies who are determined that progress shall not be made because it means the shelving of so much of the jim crow and closed doors rules now in force not only in the south but all over America. While we are in the fight for Democracy the World over and gladly so, we must fight for the right to earn the barest and most necessary means for human existence. There is in the Government departments men who study ways and means of holding Negroes back, irregardless of ability, education, culture and qualifications. This is true of public and private institutions.

It is a nasty, contemptible plan and excuse put forth in that they say the public objects to being served by a Negro or the help does or might object, when they have no right or rules to deny that for which you contend and have proven by tests or experience to be entitled. Negroes of Omaha you must get together, you must organize. You must be more concrete. You must select worthwhile men to lead and be followed. No group in Omaha or Nebraska but what is unified and get more respectful attention than Negroes. It is pitiable. It is shameful with all the men and women in Omaha who the Degrees and diplomas in law, medicine, teaching and many other avenues of human ambitions and yet we are so divided and distrustful that there is not a single man in Omaha who I could safely say 75% of our group would respect and follow as a leader. Snap out of it and do away with envy, jealousy, greed, selfish ambitions and those nasty, contemptible thoughts that strangle and debase us.

PERMANENT FEPC COUNCIL HITS SNAG SUPPORT DROPS
WASHINGTON, April 20 (ANP) The work of the National Council for a Permanent FEPC, to all intents and purposes, has been snaggled on the rock of policy. Sources both in and out of government whose sympathies all along have been and still are in support of the idea by the council, are agreed upon this point.

To begin with, the council was born of the imagination of A. Philip Randolph and his March on Washington Movement, early in 1943. According to a stronger supporter of the MOV M here in Washington, it was not the intent of the organization to dominate the council in any way but rather to get it moving and to leave it to its own devices.

The chairmanship of the council, however, was shared by Randolph and Dr. Allen Knight Chalmers, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle church in New York. A large national committee was created and then a smaller executive committee. The larger number of appointments to this smaller group were and are held by Negroes.

Because of his multiplicity of duties Randolph quite naturally left much responsibility with B. F. McLaurin, a field representative for his Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. McLaurin, it might be said, has always been available to "second St. Philip's motion," as one individual has described him.
When he council decided finally to get down to work early this year, two secretaries were named with the functions of neither ever clearly defined. They are Mrs. Ann Arnold Hedgeman, former racial relations advisor in New York for the Office of Civilian Defense, and Will Allen, a newspaperman, Washington representative for the International Ladies Garment Workers union, and a skilled lobbyist.

The council met here for two days in and help in this worthwhile effort. Its worth and value cannot be estimated when it comes to our economics, religious and moral progress. If you are not a member, why not investigate with a view to becoming a party to this great and helpful organization?

It is to be regretted that the Executive Board of the NAACP at its last regular meeting decided to hold open meetings once every three months instead of once a month. This should not be. The more we plan and build, the more we show the public we are on the job. The more we spread the happenings of the country and community. The more we prove our right to be the watchdog of our interests, the better for us.
More meetings and more power.
HWB.

CHICAGO'S JITTERBUG KING AND QUEEN
In one of their winning poses, are shown above, William Burrows and Gertrude Baker, who were crowned King and Queen of a city-wide Jitterbug Contest held at the Parkway Ballroom, Friday, March 31. The couple is currently starring at the Regal Theatre with Tiny Hill's Orchestra. PPNS.

Quered on the council's position on this question three weeks ago, Mrs. Hedgeman said she did not know what the attitude would be. She did not know at the time that a letter to editors was then in the mail, ostensibly signed by Randolph, urging support for the budget in the name of the council. Asked later about this she said she knew of no meeting of the executive committee at which this was discussed. Nor does anyone else identified with the council recall such a formal discussion.

One effect that is developing out of this indecision is the gradual "sloughing off" of support from trade unions. Numerous sizeable pledges had been received but few have been realized, it is reliably learned.

The CIO was expected to come through, but has failed so far. There is one report that instead of bringing Willard S. Townsend, president, United Transport Service Employees of America (CIO) into the executive committee, he was given a position on the national committee.

A substantial contribution has been expected momentarily from David Dubinsky and the ILGUM which is being held up pending "clarification" of matters.

The feeling is that Randolph is not taking the active part in the council that he might, but rather has left this to McLaurin. The belief is that instead of getting down to work, McLaurin has been more concerned about winning control over the executive committee.

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYERS' LIONS ROAR
Published in this space every week. The greatest star of the screen!

A drama of emotional conflict sweeps onto the screen, with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's magnificent production of "Gaslight".
This picture holds a mysterious, threatening quality. Tense excitement is the mood throughout.

Charles Boyer, Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotten are the electrifying threesome around which this strange love story revolves.
The results are melodramatic.
Credit MGM for bringing out the sinister facet and adding to the Boyer drawing power.
And for Ingrid Bergman—those bells will toll again in a clamour of applause.
It's Brilliant Bergman in "Gaslight".
George Cukor directed—and deserves yet another halo for the splendor of his interpretation.
Arthur Hornblow, Jr., producer, deserves laurels, too.
Dame May Whitty's performance and that of newcomer Angela (not angelic) Lansbury are something to look forward to, too.
"Gaslight" is stirring throughout.
