R. I. Hearing on May 15 on Boilermakers Union

Providence, R. I.—The hearing on a permanent injunction against the Boilermakers Union, preventing it from continuing to limit Negroes to membership in auxiliary lodges, will be held here May 15. The title of the case is Gerald R. Hill vs. International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, et al. and it is pending in Superior Court. The trial starting the fifteenth is a trial on the merits seeking to make permanent the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Alexander Churchill on January 13, 1944, which injunction restrained and enjoined the Boilermakers Union from making any distinction whatsoever by reason of race or color among its members. Judge Churchill also ruled, "The colored members of the so-called auxiliary are members of Local 308." Thurgood Marshall, NAACP counsel will

A STATEMENT

By J. E. DAVIDSON, President, Nebraska Power Company

Statements made, directly or by innuendo, (published in the World-Herald, May 3) that the Nebraska Power Company instigated the strike among the employees of the Consumers Public Power District and the state hydro projects are absolutely false. We had nothing to do with it, in any way, directly or indirectly.

I publicly challenge any official of Consumers or any official of the state hydro projects to present one iota of proof to show that Nebraska Power Company has had anything to do with instigating or stimulating this strike in any way whatsoever.

Officials of the Nebraska Power Company were not aware that the strike had been pending. Because of the reference made to Bozell & Jacobs, our advertising agency, in an interview in Wednesday afternoon's World-Herald, inquiry was made of the principals of this advertising agency. They also deny unqualifiedly that they had any knowledge of this strike or anything to do with it.

Here's A Glamour Pie To Serve As A Compliment On Mother's Day

Mother's Day Mocha Froth.
1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Cinnamon
4 cups freshly made, hot decaffeinated coffee

Chill evaporated milk thoroughly. Then whip rapidly until stiff. Add vanilla. Place in serving cups, filling half full. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Fill cups with decaffeinated coffee. Makes 8 servings.

Velvet Chocolate Cream Pie
2 to 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup water
6 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons butter
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
Vanilla wafer crust (or baked pastry shell)

Combine chocolate, 1/4 cup sugar, and water in saucepan. Cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Combine flour, remaining sugar, and salt in top of double boiler. Add milk gradually, stirring well; then add chocolate syrup. Place over boiling water and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Then continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour small amount of mixture over egg, stirring vigorously; return to double boiler and blend. Remove from boiling water, add butter and vanilla. Cool. Turn into vanilla wafer crust or baked pastry shell. Chill 1 hour, or longer.

Protege of "Buddy" McCrea Gets His Man In Third Round

Lincoln, Nebraska—On the preliminary card of the Lou Nova and George Dixon scrap at Lincoln last Monday night, Joe Smith, light heavy weight protege of Corporal Buddy McCrea, and a popular leather slinger from the Fairmont Air base, gave Tim Ironbar, of Pineridge, S. D., a lesson in boxing, taking all three rounds by a wide margin.

Buddy, well known around here in fight circles is the physical training and boxing instructor at the base.

Editorial Comment

THE BASIC FREEDOMS by Ruth Taylor

Every time things go our way in the war—there are outcries against the cost of war in taxes, in restrictions, in the demands made upon us. We as a nation and as individuals take defeat with better grace than we take success. We have to see WHY before we will give up any of our special privileges.

When things are going well, we forget that the only things we can't afford to give up are the basic freedoms.

Pope Pius XII phrased it thus: "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's—and unto God the things which are God's." One would like to add Give unto man the things which are man's, give man his freedom and personality, his rights and religion."

Those are the basic ideals to which we as individuals, which we as a nation, must put first. Until they are assured to all peoples, they are not assured to any.

In order to keep these basic ideals we must give up much of our false notions that our comforts are our essentials. Without the basic freedoms there is nothing of any real importance. Ask those who have suffered. They know what is really important.

The basic things that are man's are his freedom—to speak, to think as an individual; his personality—his ability to make the best of himself; his rights—as a citizen and as a man; his religion—without which nothing else is important.

When we howl about taxes, when we complain about gas restrictions, when we feel that we should travel for pleasure, when we object to cramped living conditions—we are forgetting what would be our loss were these basic freedoms to be torn from us.

The other night I walked down Sixth Avenue with an Englishman. He said: "Do you mind if I stop to look in the windows—it is so wonderful to see so many things for sale." Remember that the next time you CAN'T make out on your ration points. And—when you hear the church bells ring, don't turn over to go back to sleep. Remember the countries where man cannot worship freely.

Stop complaining—the war isn't won yet and if we want to be sure our rights remain our rights, we have to keep on to the bitter end. There is no turning back in the war. What do we want—a few months of comfort, then slavery? That is the real issue now as when Bataan fell.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"
by HOWARD BUFFETT
Congressman, 2nd Nebraska District

A few days ago a Virginian said to me, "People in the East talk the way they would like to feel, but don't." Easterners like to talk about international friendship and brotherhood. Yet, they themselves view the Middle West with lifted eyebrows and a patronizing manner. Nowhere in America is there more snobbishness, class distinction, and high-hat behavior than along the Atlantic Coast.

Shortly after my arrival in Washington, I attended a function where a distinguished Southerner made a speech, in which he proudly referred to the interventionist attitude of his state and the South generally. He indicated that internationalism and interventionism were the marks of intelligence and good taste.

Visiting with this same man, after the meeting, he told me that the Middle West was backward and isolationist, failing to understand the global problems. His people were wide awake, and why were we of the hinterland so stupid?

Later in the same conversation, he said to me, "You Northerners should keep your hands off our Negroes. We know how to handle the negroes. You fellows mind your own business and we'll take care of the negro problem."

Otherwise, our position becomes like that of the Pharisee who prayed loudly, "God, I thank Thee, that I am not as other men." Seeing a good example to others may not be easy, but it is nevertheless the most successful road to a better world.
