These Lines Lead to the PRODUCTION LINES!

The might of American production is making itself felt from Africa to the Arctic, from the French coast to the South Pacific. And back of it is the tireless energy of American men and women who keep the production lines producing. But to keep these workers on the job... to keep the production lines of American business and industry going full blast, mass transportation is essential! In this area this is the job of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway Company—and despite an acute shortage of operators and other employees, we are doing our best to maintain the kind of service you want, and need. We sincerely appreciate the patience and understanding of our riders in the present emergency. Your continued co-operation will further aid us in providing you with dependable, efficient transportation.
