

METHODISTS TO ELECT TWO BISHOPS; WILL NAME MISSIONARY PRELATE ALSO

Greensboro, N. C., June 6 (ANP) The Central Jurisdiction conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will convene its quadrennial session here beginning June 8 at beautiful Bennett college, the school for young women maintained by the church. The conference will be composed of about 100 delegates elected from the 19 area conferences which serve the 330,000 Negro members of the M.E. denomination. The church program for the next four years will be outlined at this meeting and two regular bishops and a missionary bishop will be elected. The former two will fill the vacancies occasioned by the retirement on account of age of Bishop Robert E. Jones of Columbus, O., and the death of W. A. C. Hughes of Baltimore.

There are a number of aspirants for the bench, all of them consistent with M. E. tradition, men of high attainment and splendid ability. The four Negro bishops become part of the 32 effective bishops who compose the council of bishops and have charge of the whole M.E. church. An effort is made to select men who can measure up with the white members of the bench.

CHAS. E. SANDALL SAYS:

I AGREE WITH THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

"Unwise," They Say, "To Raise The Prohibition Issue When Unity Is Most Needed"

The Anti-Saloon League of America recently issued this statement concerning national prohibition:

"Since the war powers already conferred upon the President . . . enable the government to cope with unsatisfactory liquor conditions, we deem it unwise and unnecessary to raise the . . . issue of national prohibition at a time when unity is most needed. A decision upon such a far-reaching Federal policy should . . . be left (until) millions of men now in the armed forces can participate in the decision.

"For these reasons the League is not uniting in the appeal for the enactment of war prohibition legislation . . . at this time."

The liquor situation in Nebraska is entirely satisfactory to most citizens. This state has one of the best Liquor Control Statutes in the nation. We have a Liquor Control Commission which functions ably. Since ENFORCEMENT of this good law is all that could possibly be asked, every citizen should back up the enforcement authorities to the limit, and concentrate on winning the war . . . instead of raising a needless issue which would only distract our people and divide our war effort during what may be America's most crucial year.

CHARLES E. SANDALL, State Director • 710 FIRST NATIONAL BLDG., LINCOLN

Candidates, ranked somewhat in accordance with their apparent position in the race, include the Rev. Robert Brooks, New Orleans, editor, the Southwestern Christian Advocate, who prior to assuming his present post, taught church history at Gammon Theological seminary, Atlanta; the Rev. D. W. Henry, pastor of the famous Tindley Temple in Philadelphia; Dr. Robert Moten Williams, pastor of historic Asbury church in Washington, D.C., and famous for his direction of Gulfside, the interdenominational school headed by Bishop Jones at Gulfside, La.; the Rev. Leonard Farmer, professor in Howard University Divinity School, a graduate of Boston university from which he holds the degree, S. T. B. and Ph. D.; Dr. J. W. E. Bowen Jr., First M.E. church, New Orleans; Dr. Edgar Love, department of Negro work, department of home missions; the Rev. William H. Williams, superintendent Chicago district, and Dr. B. F. Smith pastor Hartzell Temple, Chicago.

Director of the Brewing Industry's self-regulation program in Nebraska; prominent member of state bar; former county attorney, state senator, U. S. District Attorney during prohibition era.

Paraphrasing the Anti-Saloon League statement, we believe Nebraska citizens generally subscribe to the following:

"Since the powers already conferred upon the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission enable it and other enforcement agencies to cope with any unsatisfactory liquor conditions, we deem it unwise to raise the issue of state-wide prohibition at a time when unity is so much needed. A decision should await the return of the thousands of Nebraska men now in the armed forces.

"For these reasons, Nebraska citizens should not support the petitions for state-wide prohibition through the initiative petition method at this time."

Paraphrasing the Anti-Saloon League statement, we believe Nebraska citizens generally subscribe to the following:

NOTED SOCIOLOGIST ADDRESSES FORT VALLEY GRADUATES; MRS. HUNT HONORED FOR 40 YEARS OF SERVICE
Fort Valley, Ga., June 6 (ANP)—A record class of 50 graduates—including one man—heard E. Franklin Frazier, noted Howard university scholar, in the closing exercises of the Fort Valley State college held here Sunday afternoon May 28. A brief baccalaureate address was delivered by President Horace Mann Bond. The exercises were broadcast over Station WMAZ.

A special feature of the impressive exercises was the honoring of Mrs. Henry Alexander Hunt for 40 years of service to the college and to the community. Mrs. Hunt, noted educator and club worker in her own right, came to Fort Valley with her late distinguished husband in 1904, when it was a small and struggling local school. Messages from numerous alumni were handed to Mrs. Hunt and the entire audience stood to pay a tribute to her.

Socialization Hocus-Pocus
Professor Says Costs High Disguised
New York (AP)—Socialization in the production of goods and services is "one of the more cultivated, camouflaged and surreptitious means employed of one class the economic scalping of another," Prof. Herbert B. Dorau of New York university Tuesday told Transportation.

Did you notice this United Press dispatch which appeared recently in the World-Herald? This gives the answer to those who favor socialization of the "other fellow's" business.

The above quotation in the headline, taken from the news article, tells the whole story of public ownership, be it the railroads, medicine, insurance, electricity, or any other business or service.

Here in Omaha, business and professional people, generally, are fully aware that one can't start a socialistic plague and keep it away from his own door.

With kindest personal regards,
Sincerely yours,
J. E. DAVIDSON, President NEBRASKA POWER CO.
