USO NEWS

LARGER QUARTERS NEEDED

The most pressing need at the 24th Street USO Club, at present and the one which we hope will be met in the near future, is larger quarters. The increased load of sailors and soldiers visiting the club make it imperative that something be done about this matter. The USO Regional Office and the Federal Security Agency are hard at work and we can expect encouraging results in a very short time.

It is hoped that a suitable facility will be acquired. However should such be acquired immediately there would still be a delay of some months for renovations. This means that the present site must be used during the summer months.

To alleviate this situation plans are underway to provide outside facilities near the club. It is hoped that the lot adjacent to the club can be converted into a pleasant spot for dancing and other activities. It is also hoped that the park across the street from the club can be cleaned up and the tennis courts made available to the service men.

DONATIONS

The Director, staff and Hostesses of the 24th Street USO take this opportunity to express their appreciation and thanks to the individuals and the groups for their donations during the month of May.

Election of Officers for Junior Hostesses

At a meeting of the Junior Hostesses Tuesday, May 30, the following officers were elected. These officers are elected for a period of three months.

JOYCE OUTPUTS

HENRY ARMSTRONG

Chicago, June 3 (PPNS) Entering the ring as an underdog in the betting Willie Joyce, 1937 Chicagoan Golden Glove featherweight champion, won a brilliant decision over Henry Armstrong here last night. It was "Hammerin'" Henry's first defeat in 11 starts and though the opinion of the judges was unanimous, the verdict was unpopular.

A crowd of 10,287 paid $35,552 to see the battle. Armstrong was the more aggressive using sharp jabs and hooks repeatedly but Joyce's own jabs and numerous counter-punches, while bicycling about the ring, earned him the nod.
